STATE OF LOUISIANA.

[illegible] The Alexandria Democrat.

[illegible] Yesterday and decided, but [illegible] at our home [illegible] the side and [illegible] the [illegible] Weimore drew a navy revolver and fired several shots at Newbere, three shots taking effect as above recited. Newbere rose from his chair and fled to another room; at that moment Mr. Bill Oldham advanced towards Newbere, who, knowing him to be a relation of Weimore's, and believing that he meant mischief, shot him through the breast with his pistol.

The origin of the quarrel we refrain from publishing, as we are not well enough acquainted with the particulars. There was a woman in the case. Dr. Berthelot attended Mr. Newbere, and had him transported to his house, where he gave him proper care and attention.

ACCIDENT.—Yesterday, at about 11 o'clock A. M., a man named Chas. Tell had his leg broken by a dray backing up against him while he was standing on the levee. It was entirely accidental. The wounded man was taken to the Charity Hospital.

A GOOD HAUL.—At about 12 o'clock yesterday the clerk of Messrs. W. C. Graham & Co. hired three drays to take some produce to the Pontchartrain Railroad Depot, two of which drays were driven by white men, and one by a negro. The former arrived safely at their destination, but the negro, under the darkey's charge took another route, and has not been heard of since. His load consisted of four barrels of rice and three sacks of coffee—quite a haul for a single darkey. He has not yet been overhauled, but the police are after him, and justice will yet have its due.

GEORGE WRIGHT, ALIAS WM. WILLIAMS.—These are the names by which the police records denominate an individual who lately made a nightly entrance into Mr. Fairchild's residence, stealing therefrom a considerable amount of watches, jewelry, etc. Sergeant Petrie and officer Kennedy having been informed that some of the stolen property could be found at a pawnbroker's office, No. 193 Poydras street, kept by Mr. M. Suenel, procured a search warrant, and found there a gold watch which had been pawned by Wright for the sum of sixty dollars, and which was identified as the property of Mr. Fairchild. The watch is worth $200. A brass latch key and a bureau latch key, coming from the same source, were found in the room occupied by Wright, No. 179 Customhouse street.

ARCADES AHOO.—Two individuals known to fame, under the appellations of Frank Johnson and Henry Pierson, whose social position is most undefinable, and who prowl about the beef market seeking what they may devour without the least intention of paying for the same, (at least so says Mr. Louis Zuberville, who pleads guilty to having been victimized by the above pair), were arrested while pursuing their pious avocation, by policemen Duffy and McIntyre, and locked up under the charge of vagrancy.

OBSTRUCTIONS.—Thomas A. Carney was arrested yesterday, charged by John M. Brown, No. 99 Camp street, with having disturbed the peace of his house and broke his tumblers, contrary to police regulations and the laws of good breeding, in such cases made and provided.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.—United States vs. schooner Trinidad. It is ordered that the libelants amend their pleadings so as to be responsive to the allegations and pay costs, and that the suit be dismissed.

United States vs. schooner Victoria. L. Delpit and H. Blakeley ordered to pay the release bond, $2600.

United States vs. steamer Rob-Roy and cargo. Time was given C. Gladstone, United States Commissioner, to examine the papers in this case.

Sawyer & Menendez, vs. cargo of British bark Margaret. The appellants having furnished $10,000 bond, the appeal was suspended until the next term of the Circuit Court.

P. O. O'Neal, vs. Red River packet Company. The Court gave judgment by default.

FIRST DISTRICT COURT.—On motion of the District Attorney, the following persons were arraigned, and pleaded not guilty:

Pelagie Brown, Pamelia Marchand and Miss E. Theard, for forgery and counterfeiting of an act of sale for furniture and effects belonging to Fanny Crouch.

Ann Wilson, for larceny of money belonging to John West.

T. Mahoney, for assault and battery on Charles Abell.

State vs. Charles Seavier, charged with mule stealing; after hearing pleadings and argument, the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

State vs. Robert West, charged with mule stealing; after hearing testimony and argument, the jury retired for consideration and returned a verdict of guilty.

RECORDER KRUEBER'S COURT.—Mary Troy and Martha Jordan were sent to the workhouse for 60 days, as habitual drunkards, and Henry King for 30 days.

F. E. W. Burns, Thos. Day, Wm. Jenkins, Charles Smith and Jas. O'Donnell, were sentenced $1 25 fine, or two days' imprisonment, for drunkenness; and upon the same charge, Jas. Lawlor, Anne Serry, Rachel Harris and John Murphy, were sentenced to a fine of $5, or seven days' imprisonment.

Edward Wilson was sent to the workhouse for 60 days, for stealing a trunk.

Jas. Darling, for drunkenness, was sentenced to $8 fine, or ten days' imprisonment.

John Miller, charged with mule stealing, was sent before the First District Court, and his bail fixed at $350.

Chas. Constantine was made to give peace bonds in the sum of $100 for six months, he having threatened Mrs. Ann Tapley.

Anderson was fined $5, or sentenced to ten days' imprisonment, for fighting, and Ben Morgan was fined $5 for assault and battery.

Chas. Diggs, charged with receiving stolen property, was sent to the First District Court, and his bail fixed at $250.

Mrs. Gilligan, charged with stabbing Mrs. Nugent, was remanded to await the result of the wounds inflicted.

Alonzo Murphy was sent for thirty days to the workhouse, for being a dangerous and suspicious character.

Mrs. Spring, charged with insult and abuse by Mrs. Davey, was fined $25 for contempt of court, $10 for the offense, and fifteen days' imprisonment, and made to give peace bonds for six months in the sum of $250.

RECORDER GARTNER'S COURT.—Adeline, a colored woman, was sent for trial to the First District Court, charged with stealing a lot of clothes from Rina. David.

Hercules Hite, or dusky freedman, for stealing a pair of children's shoes from the store of Messrs. Turnell & Co., was sentenced to $25, or thirty days' imprisonment.

Louis Hamilton, Joseph Chambers, Henry Wengeling, Ursin Lafleur, an African, and Willy Burns, of the same origin, were all sentenced to $5 fine, or five days' imprisonment, for gutting drunk and otherwise misbehaving.

Madison Bell, colored, for cultivating cotton after the new fashion of his tribe, was sentenced to five days' imprisonment.

John Jefferson and John, two profane freedmen, charged with placing destructive hands upon the plants that adorn Jackson Square, were turned over to the tender mercies of the freedmen's bureau.

Joseph Durand and Edward Farrell, charged with assault and battery, were each sentenced to $10 fine, or fifteen days' imprisonment.

Frank Ober was sent for thirty days to the workhouse, for stealing ducks.

Theodore Spring was sent down for sixty days, upon the charge of vagrancy.

Peter Walsh, John Murry and Thomas Maloney, were each sentenced to a fine of $2 50, or three days' imprisonment, for drunkenness.

The case of John W. Jenkins, charged with larceny, carrying concealed weapons and being a dangerous and suspicious character, in whose possession were found various articles of stolen property, was continued for further examination.

There were seven prisoners dismissed upon examination.

The Cincinnati Enquirer has the following:

Commodore Winslow of the Kearsarge, has arrived in Washington, to testify in the trial of Captain Semmes. They expect to prove by him that when the Alabama sank, Captain Semmes did not go down with her, but committed the high crime of swimming to a neutral port. For this crime of not drowning, he has been arraigned before this peaceful tribunal—a military court martial. The trial of Captain Semmes, as this breach of faith upon the part of the government is called, is soon to take place.

Local Intelligence.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE GOVERNOR.—Wm. G. Wiley, Notary Public for the parish of Carroll.

A FATAL AFFRAY.—At about one o'clock yesterday evening a difficulty occurred in an office, No. 121 Gravier street, between a gentleman by the name of H. L. Newbere and Col. Weimore, in which Mr. Newbere was shot three times—once in the breast, once in the right thigh, and once in the left arm. He shoot died of his wounds. A man by the name of Bill Oldham happened to be mixed up in the affair, and was dangerously shot in the breast. It seems that Mr. Newbere was sitting in the office, up stairs, when Col. Weimore entered, apparently looking for him, and, after a few words had passed between the parties, Weimore drew a navy revolver and fired several shots at Newbere, three shots taking effect as above recited. Newbere rose from his chair and fled to another room; at that moment Mr. Bill Oldham advanced towards Newbere, who, knowing him to be a relation of Weimore's, and believing that he meant mischief, shot him through the breast with his pistol.
