FAUST: HIS LIFE, DEATH, AND DOOM. A ROMANCE IN PROSE. TRANSLATED FROM THE GERMAN. 1 vol., 12mo., Cloth. Price $1 50.

This work contains the following highly useful advice: Let every one bear his lot with patience, and not seek, at the expense of its repose, to penetrate into those secrets which the spirit of man, while dressed in the garb of mortality, cannot and must not unveil. Let every one bridle those emotions which the strange and frequently revolting phenomena of the moral world may cause to arise in his bosom, and beware of deciding upon them; for He alone who has power to check or permit them, can know how or why they happen, whither they tend, and what will be their ultimate consequence. To the mind of man all is dark; he is an enigma to himself. Let him live, therefore, in the hope of once seeing clearly; and happy is he who in this manner passes his days. D. APPLETON & Co., Importers, Nos. 443 and 445 Broadway.

Extract of a letter from Benjamin Greenleaf, author of the National Arithmetic, and other Mathematical works: "A work of this kind has been much needed in our High Schools and Academies. Pupils when they leave our best schools, are often very deficient in a knowledge of this most useful rule. Your work is executed with a master's hand. I have seen nothing of the kind which will bear any comparison with it. The whole subject is well and thoroughly explained, so that the pupil will find no difficulty in understanding it. I hope it will have a general introduction into all our schools." Price 50 cents. Sent by mail. JOHN H. TINGLEY, Bookseller and Publisher, No. 152½ Fulton-st., New-York.

See our illustrated catalogue for explicit testimony to their superiority, from a majority of the most eminent organists in America. Prices, $65 to $100 each.

CAUTION TO PURCHASERS.—The great reputation which our Cabinet Organs have obtained, and the extensive demand for them, have induced dealers to advertise, in some cases, quite different instruments as Cabinet Organs, and to others to represent to purchasers that Harmoniums and other reed organs are the same thing. This is not true. The excellences of our Cabinet Organs, which have given them their high reputation, are the result not merely of the superiority of their workmanship, but also, to large measure, of essential differences in construction, which, being patented, cannot be imitated by other makers. From these arise their better quality and volume of tone and unrivaled capacity for expression. Warerooms in New-York, No. 7 Mercer-st. MASON BROTHERS.

STEINWAY & SONS' GOLD MEDAL GRAND AND SQUARE PIANOS are now considered the best in Europe as well as this country, having received the first Prize Medal at the World's Exhibition in London, 1862. The principal reason why the Steinway Pianos are superior to all others is, that the firm is composed of five practical pianoforte makers (father and four sons), who invent all their own improvements, and under whose personal supervision every part of the instrument is manufactured.
