THE HARRINGTON MURDER TRIAL.

Sullivan's Testimony—The "Record" Attacked—No Damage Done—The Testimony Finished.

Yesterday morning the court-room was again crowded by those who went to hear the testimony in the case of Harrington. The first witness called for the defense this morning was Sullivan, the man, it will be remembered, whose inadvertency, if nothing worse, gave rise to the quarrel which resulted in Lynch's death.

Cornelius Sullivan, sworn. — I was O'Niel's partner, enough to go around with him and take a glass of beer with him [Counsel—That's a Nevada partnership]; saw no women in the chop-house.

Dr. Bergstein, recalled.—The Doctor produced the piece of skull which had been taken from Lynch's head before death. He also showed two pieces of a bullet found in different parts of the brain. The portion of skull was from the frontal bone, was about three inches wide and four inches long, as nearly as we could guess. There was still some congealed blood upon it. It showed the place where the ball entered by an indention of one of the edges about three-fourths of an inch deep and half an inch in width. He testifed that the force of the blow of the bullet against the skull had disarticulated the frontal bone from the anterior portion of the skull. The shoulder blade of Lynch and the bullet which lodged against it were also produced.

Dr. Lee, recalled—On the morning of the shooting I examined O'Niel's head and found on it a wound about an inch in length. Ie appeared to have been made by a bludgeon of some kind.

* * Harrington paid for the supper * * I saw Schoonmaker raise his cane and strike O'Niel on the head. O'Niel and Schoonmaker then clinched and Harrington went up to separate them; he put his hand on O'Niel; I didn't see him do anything to Schoonmaker. Harrington said, as he went up, "What in the h—l do you want to do with that man?" Lynch, who was then standing in the door or outside of it, advanced from the door saying, "You d—n s— of a b—, what have you got to say about it?" He had a pistol pointed at Harrington, and I stepped between Harrington and Lynch and threw my hand up and told Lynch not to shoot. My hand was at the time extended towards Lynch's pistol to try to catch it. I tried to catch it; I would have knocked it down. A shot went off and went through my wrist; [shows the wound in the left wrist] I heard, altogether, five or six shots; directly after the first shot I heard another almost immediately.

Q. At the time you heard the second shot, what was Harrington doing? A. He and O'Niel and Schoonmaker were three together.

Q. Do you know whether Harrington, the defendant here, fired either of these shots? A. I know that he didn't fire either of the two first shots.

Q. Tell the jury why you know that fact. A Because he was with Schoonmaker and O'Niel.

Q. At what time relative to the shots did you receive the wound in your left wrist, from the first to the fifth or sixth shot fired which you have testified to? A. The first shot that was fired.

Q Who fired that first shot? A. Lynch fired the first shot.

[In answer to other questions] I couldn t say who fired the second shot. My hand was burned with powder and my wrist bleeding pretty rapidly. I attempted to catch or strike down Lynch's pistol; my hand was close to the muzzle of it, may be four or five inches. Yes, it was within four or five inches. The length of time between the first and last shots could not be much greater than a minute or a minute and a half. When I heard the last shot I was standing about two feet off of the sidewalk holding my wrist; about fifteen feet from the door of Lynch's chop-house, opposite to it, but more toward Main street. When all the shooting that I heard was done, I walked up to the drug store where Dr. Lee keeps. There the constable (Smith Gray, I think) told me to consider myself under arrest. I had a pistol on when I was shot, but did not fire it at any one. That pistol [on the table] is mine; the number is 115,473. I delivered it to Smith Gray on the morning of the shooting. [He examines it.] It is in the same condition as when I delivered it to the constable.

CROSS EXAMINED.

I have known Harrington about twenty years; first knew him in Ireland; we have never been soldiers together; I am no relative of his; I have been friendly with him for twenty years, whenever we have been in company.

Q. Did you know him in the region of Salt Lake about eighteen months ago?

Counsel for defense.—Answer "yes" or "no."

Witness.—No.

Q. Did you ever meet him at Salt Lake City, or in the vicinity?

Counsel for defense.—Answer "yes" or "no."

Witness.—No.

Q. You never met him in that county?

Counsel for defense.—Answer "yes" or "no."

Witness.—No.

Mr. Rives.—Show me your pistol.

Witness.—This is it Mr. Rives—presents it as to fire.

[The defense objected, the objection was overruled, and the defense excepted. The witness then presented the pistol. The ground of the objection of the defense was that the questioning was merely to defame the character of the witness. Mr. Rives stated that his object was to impeach the witness.]

After I got outside I stopped when I heard the conversation of Schoonmaker and O'Niel. I heard Schoonmaker say something to O'Niel—I don't know what it was—and I heard O'Niel make the remark that I was a coward, or something to that effect. There was nothing more said between them. Next I saw Schoonmaker strike O'Niel with a cane. I didn't do anything that I know of upon Schoonmaker striking O'Niel. Harrington went up to put them apart; I think he did not do so; apparently he was trying. He tried, perhaps, for the space of a few minutes. During these few minutes I was looking towards the door. Harrington came out of the restaurant last.

Q. Then Harrington was attempting to separate O'Neil and Schoonmaker, and you and Lynch were standing on the sidewalk observing it? A. I don't know whether Lynch was standing on the sidewalk at that time or not.

Q. You say that you came out third; that is, after Schoonmaker and O'Neil, and that Harrington was the last of the five to come out, and that when Harrington came out he proceeded to separate O'Neil and Schoonmaker. Then Lynch must have been on the sidewalk when Harrington first interfered. Was he not? A. I said that Harrington was the last of the four of us that came out.

Q. What four do you mean? A. I mean Schoonmaker, O'Neil, Harrington and I. * * *

Q. Did you see Harrington have anything in his hand during that difficulty? A. No.

Q.—Did you observe him closely? A.—Not very particularly.

Q.—Did you see Lynch strike any one with the pistol he had in his hand? A.—No.

After some further cross-questioning, the Court took a recess.

At 2 p. m. the cross-examination of Sullivan was resumed, and after a few questions the jury were taken, in charge of the Sheriff, to the place of the shooting, in order that they might better understand the position of the parties. When the jury had returned, a large number of cross-questions were asked by the prosecution, but we are obliged to omit all but the most important ones.

Q.—Did you have any tussle, or did you grapple with any person on that occasion? A.—I did not.

Q.—Are you sure that you did not tussle with Lynch on that occasion? A.—I am sure I did not.

After Sullivan showing the coat sleeve which had been burnt the defense rested.

TESTIMONY IN REBUTTAL.

The prosecution called John E. Tyler who testified as follows: On the morning of the 6th of July I was standing in front of my saloon (the Capitol) about 60 or 70 yards from Lynch's chop-house.

Q. Did you hear any shots fired at the time mentioned? A. Yes.

Q. How many did you hear fired? [The defense objected to this question on the ground that the prosecution had asked the same question in the direct examination in their case; and further, that there had been no evidence introduced on the part of the defense proving or tending to prove the number of shots that John E. Tyler heard. The objection was overruled and the defense excepted. To all similar questions which were put afterwards the defense made similar objections; the Court made the same ruling, and exceptions were likewise taken.]

Question repeated. A. Three.

Q. Did you hear any other shots at that time? A. I did not.

J. B. Ayres sworn — Was in Pres. Wand's saloon, perhaps a hundred feet from Lynch's chop-house. I heard three shots. If there had been any other shots in the vicinity I think I would have heard them. I heard only three shots. I do not know of my own knowledge that there were not more than three. Three were all I heard.

A. D. Jones was sworn, and testified that he was in his room on Cedar street, about 400 yards from Lynch's chop-house, and heard only three shots. [The cross-examination of this witness elicited no material fact. Among the questions put was as to who were proprietors of the RECORD. The prosecution objected, when Judge Pitzer for the defense, arose and said that he had an object in asking the question. He wished to prove something with regard to that paper. The reports purporting to give the testimony in this case, as published in the RECORD, were utterly against the testimony—entirely different from it. The Court remarked that the RECORD was not on trial, and sustained the objection of the prosecution. The defense excepted.

P. J. H. Smith, sworn.—Was in my saloon on Lacour street, about 400 or 500 feet from Lynch's Chop House. I heard three shots fired.

J. E. Smith, sworn.—I was in my room on Cedar street, distant from Lynch's Chop House one block by the street. I heard three pistol reports, and no more.

A. B. Hunt, sworn.—Was standing in the door at the foot of the stairs, in what is known as White's building on the west side of Main street fronting Meadow Valley street, distant from Lynch's chop house, about 500 feet. I could see the sidewalk and street in front of Lynch's chop house. They were in full view. I saw the flash of one shot, and I am very certain of two—the first and second shots. As the second shot was fired I turned to go up stairs; as I reached the second or third step from the bottom the third shot was fired.

The State closed. The court adjourned till to-day at 10 a. m.

"OUT AND INJURED."—This is the term sometimes applied to one who has made a bad speculation or who has been unsuccessful in a raid against "the tiger." But we have a case in which a certain man is out (of jail) but not injured. We allude to the case of Johnny Peoples, who was committed to the County Jail on the 1st of this month for an assault upon a woman. It seems, however, that instead of Johnny languishing in a dungeon, he has been allowed to go at large, and for two or three nights has been seen upon the streets in a state of intoxication, and threatening to burn the town. This is simply outrageous, and whoever is to blame for this state of things should be dealt with at once. Evidently there is remissness somewhere, and whosoever has been instrumental in turning this creature loose upon the community, when by the terms of his sentence he ought to be serving out his time in the County Jail, ought to be made to pay the penalty. It is no wonder that Pioche has a bad name—it is not astonishing that capital shrinks from investment here—when those convicted of crime are not punished. We propose following up these malefactors until they are brought to terms or decent people abandon the town to them entirely.

ALMOST AN ACCIDENT. — Yesterday morning there came near being an accident on Lacour street, at what was formerly the Capitol Restaurant, but is being fitted up as the Idaho Restaurant. A man was at work putting up a curtain over the glass door at the main entrance, when a missile struck a pane of glass above the man's head and barely missing a man on the other's right at the time. At first it was thought to be a stray ball from pistol or gun used in defense of life or honor, or perhaps for the fun of the thing, or from emotional insanity. An investigation showed that some men are blasting in rear of a brewery on Lower Main street, and that a nail had been thrown across Main, Pioche and Lacour streets, a distance of 300 or 400 yards, and with the result before stated. It was a mere chance that one of the men was not killed. In the absence of a municipal government there is no remedy for these things. A man may build a hog pen in the very heart of the city, stow powder wherever he likes and set off blasts wherever he pleases. But this is a free country, you know, and that's what's the matter.

GIVE US A MONEY ORDER OFFICE.—It was hoped some time ago that Pioche would be made a money order office, but the matter was allowed to be forgotten. The money order offices in this State are at Aurora, Austin, Carson City, Elko, Hamilton and Virginia. We believe in all candor that Pioche is much entitled to a money order office as any of the places named except Virginia. We hope the matter will be agitated till we get what we so much need.

REMOVAL OF THE LAND OFFICE.—We have before alluded to the contemplated removal of the Land Office from Belmont to Pioche, but not until now have we any direct official information on the subject. In another column, under the head of "Proposals," will be found an advertisement of the Register and Receiver asking bids for the removal of the Land Office fixtures from Belmont to Pioche.

HEAVY RAIN.—Early in the evening we penned an item announcing that the weather was showery; but now, at 12 o'clock (midnight), we are under the necessity af stating that a heavy rain has been falling for an hour or more. Vivid flashes of lightning were also observed.

SCOTT, THE WOMAN-BEATER.—This individual, whom we mentioned in yesterday's issue as having been arrested for beating a negro woman, has departed. On the evening of his arrest Sheriff Travis received a telegraphic warrant from Salt Lake for the arrest of Scott, who, it seems, stole three Government horses there. In order that delay might be the cause of no difficulty Scott was sent off on his road to Salt Lake in a buggy. May all those like him follow his footsteps away from Pioche.

SALE YESTERDAY.—The sale of the personal property of the late John H. Lynch was begun and ended yesterday afternoon. The articles generally were those of a perishable nature, and we understand they brought very good prices.

DEATH OF A FINE BOAR.—James Pierson's fine Magee boar, imported here from Chicago at a cost of $125, died on Wednesday. It is quite a loss to Mr. Pierson, and also to all who desire to improve the breed of their swine.

THE larceny cases of Lambert and Wilcox were postponed until Wednesday next, in the District Court yesterday.

THEATER.—To-night will be presented the "Sea of Ice." Every indication is favorable for success.

SHOWERY.—Yesterday was rather showery, though no great amount of rain fell. The air was cool and refreshing.

JOSIAH RILEY left Hamilton yesterday for Pioche.

H. M. BARNES, Notary Public, and Commissioner of Deeds for California and Utah. General business and real estate agent. Collections made at reasonable rates and proceeds promptly remitted. Office: Next door to the Postoffice, Lacour street, Pioche, Nevada.
