WASHINGTON.

Considerable uneasiness and amusement was awakened by Schofield's resolution regarding expressions by justices of the Supreme Court relative to the constitutionality of the reconstruction acts. The resolution was general, though pointed by its author against Field.

A minority of the committee are determined to make the investigation thorough. It is intimated that the chief justice even is implicated equally with others.

It is ascertained certainly that the administration will take strong grounds regarding the Alabama claims, and that the ultimatum will be tersely stated. The situation excites much interest and some apprehension.

Leslie Combs will probably be rejected by the Senate as marshal of Kentucky.

John Young Brown will receive a heavy vote in the House, but there is no probability of his being seated.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A resolution was offered in the Arkansas convention disfranchising all who opposed reconstruction and declaring voting against the Constitution sufficient cause for disfranchisement. Referred.

A memorial in reference to the continuing of the freedmen's bureau caused a spirited debate. Adopted by a strict party vote.

Governor Fletcher is about to seize the Missouri Pacific Railroad in behalf of the State. A bill has been introduced in the legislature abolishing capital punishment, and for the establishment of a pardon board of commissioners.

The employés on the Memphis, Clarksville and Louisville Railroad have struck in consequence of the non-payment of wages. A law has passed the Tennessee legislature permitting negroes to hold office and sit on juries. Negro candidates are already on the track for important county offices. Able lawyers have pronounced the law unconstitutional.

DETERIORATION OF ENGLISH RACE HORSES.—A writer in the St. Paul's Magazine says: "It is a fact incapable of denial that, during the last twenty years, the stamina and staying powers of the English racer have been manifestly on the decline; for, to-day there is but one five year old, Gomera, in training in England who can compete with three-year-olds at weight for age over a cup course (from two to three miles), and not a six year-old or aged horse that can hold his own in good company among younger horses over the Beacon Course, (4 miles 393 yards,) at Newmarket; and the fact of the deterioration in the stamina of our horses is not a matter of speculation, but is admitted by all who are well informed, or take the trouble to investigate the subject."
