Representative and Constituent which has existed between us for so long a period, in such varied forms, and which is now forever closed.

I have the honor, gentlemen, to be very
Respectively, your friend and obed't serv't,
M. VAN BUREN.

In connection with the above, the following, from the Evening Post, the leading locofoco paper in New York, is rather significant. It shows that it is Mr. Van Buren's determination not to be used to promote the aspirations of those who have jockied him off the course, while his friends mean to keep him before the public, to which policy he very cordially responds in the last paragraph of the above letter.

THE BALTIMORE CONVENTION AND MR. VAN BUREN.

In the proceedings of the Baltimore Convention we should not lose sight of what little there is that we can regard with unmingled satisfaction. The conduct of Mr. Young, delegate from this state, and of Mr. Wright, deserve particular notice. Mr. Young, with that inflexible firmness that has long distinguished him, refused to the last to be made a party to the so called compromise, and we cannot but think that if his determination had been imitated the result would have been different. Mr Wright's course cannot be too highly praised. Offered one after the other, the Presidency, and the Vice-Presidency, he declines both from a sense of 'public duty and private obligations.' These comprehensive words, will we are sure find an echo in the hearts of the people.

Meantime, we would ask the friends of Mr. Van Buren, and all who honor the unhesitating courage with which he incurred the hazard of losing the support of his party by asserting the great principles of justice, whether he does not deserve some public expression of that administration which is due to an act so noble. We are sure, if a public meeting were called for that purpose,—called without any reference to Mr. Polk's nomination, that it may not be embarrassed with any difference of opinion or feeling on that point—we are sure that it would be attended by vast numbers, and that its proceedings would be full of enthusiasm. We are the more desirous that it should take place, because the example of Mr. Van Buren has set it far above the ordinary virtue of practised politicians, and therefore the more needed, and the more worthy of being held up to imitation.—Eve. Post.

MR. DALLAS AND TEXAS.

Mr. Dallas, the Loco-Foco nominee for the Vice Presidency, is an out and out advocate for the immediate Annexation of Texas, as will be perceived by the following rhapsodical soft-soaping which he piles upon Mr. Walker's letter. The latter gentleman must have an insatiable maw for flattery if he is not satisfied with this dose. Mr. W.'s letter advocates immediate Annexation, regardless of National Faith, and the consequences of War; and it is, therefore, fair and legitimate to infer that the eulogist of that letter is an advocate of the measure.—The issue to go before the country, therefore, is between Immediate Annexation, National Perfidy and War, or the Faith of Treaties, and the Honor of the Country.—Whig Standard.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5, 1844.

MY DEAR SIR—I cannot resist the impulse to tell you how much delight I have taken in reading your pamphlet on Texas, &c. It is comprehensive, clear, argumentative, and eloquent. Nothing can remove or resist your facts, and I defy ingenuity to assail the justice and integrity of your deductions. In the midst of all my desire even at the last, my head has been running on this topic for some months, and your admirable brochure comes to me like manna in the wilderness of starved people. I cannot tell you, without using words which you might consider extravagant, how highly I appreciate your labors, and how sincerely, as an American Democrat, I thank you.

Truly, and ever yours,
GEORGE M. DALLAS.

HON. R. J. WALKER.

☞Mr. Polk has written another Letter about Texas, to an Immediate Annexation meeting in Carroll County, Ky. In this letter he says:

"I will only add that I regard the question of the re-annexation of Texas to the United States, as second in importance to no other public subject or question which now engages the public attention. In my judgment, the present opportunity should not be lost of becoming reunited with a country from which the United States should never have been separated."

Does 'the present opportunity' mean the Tyler Treaty? That is what we want to get at, if possible. If it does, what right has Mr. Polk to Mr. Tyler's thunder, and what has he done or what will he do in aid of that Treaty? The Loco-Focos are really reduced to a most pitiable extremity—forced to commit petty larceny on John Tyler and rob him of his own darling Texas 'present opportunity,' and after all incapable of making any use of what they have stolen. It does begin to look as if Mr. Polk was the 'third candidate,' after all.—Tribune.

☞The Whigs of Baltimore held a glorious meeting in Monument Square, Wednesday evening, at which eloquent speeches were delivered by Hon. JOHN P. KENNEDY, Hon. Mr. SUMMERS of Va., Hon. MILTON BROWN of Tenn., Hon. Mr. SCHENCK of Ohio, and others. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed. JAS. HAYWOOD, Esq. was President of the meeting.

MORE SCREWS LOOSE!—The Hagerstown Herald of Freedom says, that within the last few weeks several Democrats left the loco foco ranks and joined the Clay Club, among others, Anthony Campbell, Esq.

The Norristown Herald says, that one of the Secretaries of the locofoco Convention, held at Harisburg, which nominated H. A. Muhlenberg for Governor, has joined the Clay Club.

RESIGNATION OF A BISHOP.—It is reported, we believe with good authority, that the Rt. Rev. H. U. Onderdonk has, by reason of physical infirmities, resigned his duties as Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the diocese of Pennsylvania.—American.

WHIG MASS MEETING AT MEMPHIS.—When the Duke of Orleans landed at Memphis, on Wednesday morning last, the day of the great Southwestern mass meeting, the bluff was one mass of human beings.—It was said that there were 30,000 strangers in the city.—Louisville Jour. June 1.

CALL FOR GOODS.

THE Low Prices for which Goods have been sold, has for a good reason, induced buyers to take freely their accustomed supply from the Cheap Cash Store, where the whole trade being for Cash, there is of course no extras charged for contingencies, ready money buyers are satisfied that cash buys goods cheaper to-day, than a promise of it can possibly do to-morrow. The place for testing the to-day principle may be ascertained by applying to the People's Agent.

WATCHES.

IN this line, to which we are paying more particular attention than ever, we offer better bargains than we have ever been able to do before, and those who wish a good GOLD or SILVER WATCH are particularly requested to call and examine with the closest scrutiny, the watches of our Spring importation. There has been quite a rise on gold movements abroad since our arrival, and we can sell lower than if they were now to be bought.

We would remind customers that we know personally the makers of most of the watches we sell, that we are striving to establish a reputation for selling GOOD Watches, that we are of the opinion that we know whether a watch is good or not, and that we consider that we can be relied upon for what we recommend to be good, let other IN the line or OUT say what they may. We have watches of R. & G. Pecoveys, Joseph Johnson, John Harrison and other Liverpool Makers, and G. H. Ives, London, and we have movements of all the most celebrated makers, which we can cover to any pattern desired, and we further say that we will sell for cash down any description of watches of any maker, as cheap as any New York or Boston Dealer. Our customers are desired to remember that when they buy a watch in New York or Boston they go and pay the cash down, and we cannot afford to sell a good gold or silver watch and take part pay in an old watch or something else, and call at the same price. Pay us the cash down, and ALL cash, and no one shall sell below us. We have for cash Gold and Silver Watches at half our former prices almost. We do not like the looks of prices in advertisements or we would subjoin a list that would make some stare. We only would say to all who wish any Gold or Silver watches or other Goods, just give us a chance to sell to you, and you shall be satisfied with prices and goods, and permanently. Successors to PANGBORN & BRINSMAID.

CLOCKS.

Do not forget to remember that we are opening the most beautiful Brass and Wood CLOCKS, striking and alarm, and we mean to sell them single or by the case for very little pay. Don't fear to look at them, they won't hurt you, if you don't buy them.—No charge for shewing them if you don't buy.
