TO FIGHT IN THE WOODS.

The Corbett-Mitchell Affair Will Not Come Off in Jacksonville.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 18.—The Duval Athletic club last night issued its final and most positive statement, that the contest between Corbett and Mitchell will take place upon January 25.

Corbett also issued the following statement:

"I take this opportunity of informing my friends throughout the country that I have received assurances from the Duval club that warrant me in saying the contest between Mitchell and myself will positively take place in Jacksonville or in the immediate vicinity of that city on January 25, providing both principals appear in the ring."

The above statement by the club means that the fight will be fought in the woods. Everything now depends on the ability of the promoters of the fight to keep the place selected secret from the authorities, for if it becomes known Governor Mitchell will undoubtedly have troops on the scene. It is understood the club people have purchased a huge circus tent capable of holding 6,000 people, and will bring the men together under the canvas.

THE WORLD'S FAIR REPORT.

President Palmer Submits His Annual—Finances of the Various Boards.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The annual report of the World's Columbian commission was submitted by President T. W. Palmer to-day. Detailed statements of the scope and various features of the exposition are left for the final report to be prepared by a special committee of the commission, with President Palmer at its head. It will be a work of great magnitude, practically a history of the fair, to be completed next November.

An estimate of $41,000 to complete the work of the commission, not including the committee on awards, is made. The commission has a balance of $11,000 in the treasury, the committee on awards $96,173, the committee on awards of the lady managers $40,349, and present board of lady managers $51,194.

MISSOURI NATIONAL GUARD.

Adjutant-General Wickham Receives the Annual Reports.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 18.—Adjutant-General J. A. Wickham has just received annual reports from the various regiments of the National Guard of Missouri. The reports deal with inspections made of the different organizations by various officers of the staff and line. They indicate that the citizen soldiery of the state is in good condition and well drilled and disciplined. There are just 2,262 men, rank and file, in the military service of the state.

Brigadier General Milton Moore, who supervises the inspections, says that the Missouri troops are not yet in as good condition as desirable, or as they are capable of being made.

National Dairy Union.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—The dairymen in session here spent the greater part of yesterday's meeting in considering the report of the committee on organization. The name provided for in the constitution is the "National Dairy Union." The organization's object as set forth in the constitution is to secure national and state legislature to prevent the manufacture and and sale of food products made in imitation or semblance of pure butter or cheese, and also to prevent the sale of adulterated products.

Kansas Mortgage Law.

WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 18.—The question whether the mortgage redemption law passed by the last Kansas legislature is constitutional as applied to pre-existing mortgages was decided in the United States circuit court yesterday. Judge Williams held that as to all mortgages made before the passage of the law of 1893 there is no redemption; that such mortgages are governed by the old law, and he rendered judgment accordingly.

THE TEXT OF IT.

Bond Proposals Noted in These Dispatches Yesterday.

Issued in Denominations of $50 and Upwards.

DATED FEBRUARY 1.

Will Run Ten Years at Five Per Cent.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Secretary Carlisle late yesterday afternoon issued the following circular inviting proposals for 5 per cent bonds:

"TREASURY DEPARTMENT, OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 17, 1894.—By virtue of the authority contained in the act entitled 'An Act to Provide for the Resumption of Specie Payments,' approved January 14, 1875, the secretary of the treasury hereby offers for public subscription an issue of bonds of the United States to the amount of $50,000,000 in either registered or coupon form, in denominations of $50 and upward, redeemable in coin at the pleasure of the government after ten years from the date of the issue, and bearing interest payable quarterly in coin, at the rate of 5 per cent per annum.

"Proposals for the whole or any part of these bonds will be received at the treasury department office of the secretary until 12 o'clock noon on February 1, 1894. Proposals must state the amount of bonds desired, registered or coupon, and the premium, which the subscriber proposes to pay, the place where it is decided the bonds will be delivered, and the office whether that of the treasurer of the United States, or an assistant treasurer of the United States, where it will be most convenient for the subscriber to deposit the amount of his subscription. Failure to specify the above particulars may cause the proposal to be rejected.

"As soon as practicable after the receipt of proposals the allotments of bonds will be made to the highest bidders but no proposal will be charged at lower prices than $104 for which the equivalent of a 4 per cent bond at par and the interest upon one hundred dollars for ten years, discounted at 5 per cent per annum, is hereby expressly reserved. In case the bids exceed the bonds to be issued they will be allotted pro rata.

"Notice of the date of the delivery of the bonds will be sent to the subscribers to whom allotments are made as soon as practicable, but not less than ten days from the date of notice. Subscriptions must be paid in United States gold coin to the treasurer or such assistant treasurer of the United States as the subscriber has designated, and if not so paid the proposal may be rejected.

"The bonds will be dated February 1, 1894, and when payments made thereon as above accrued interest on both principal and premium from February 1, 1894, to date of payment at the rate of interest realized to the subscriber on his investment will be allowed.

"All proposals should be addressed to the secretary of the treasury, Washington, D. C., and should be distinctly marked 'Proposals for subscriptions to 5 per cent bonds.'

J. G. CARLISLE, Secretary."

HARRISON TURNED DOWN.

The Ex-President's Brother Rejected at Senator Vest's Request.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—J. Scott Harrison failed for confirmation for surveyor of the port at Kansas City. No yes and no vote was taken. Senators Vest and Cockrell stated their case to the senate in executive session and, upon their presentation, Harrison was rejected.

The matter was called up by Senator Vest, who accompanied his suggestion with some remarks. Restated that he had opposed the confirmation of Harrison for the reason that he was not a Democrat; that he had voted for very few of the candidates at the last election on the Democratic ticket, owing, as he had been informed, to the fact that Harrison belonged to a faction of the party in Kansas City that not often voted the ticket. For this reason he asked that the report of the committee to whom had been referred the nomination be adopted.

The senator also made some stinging remarks about the president, insisting that it was time that the senate insist that it be recognized by the president according to the law regulating the relations between the executive and the senate, and he believed that the president should be informed by the senate that they had some rights that should be respected, and by so doing they would not lose the constitutional power that had been placed in the senate.

He was followed by Senator Cockrell, who supplemented the statement by saying that in his judgment a Democratic administration should be informed that Democrats should be appointed to office, and this was another opportunity to impress the fact on the president. He hoped that the report would be adopted.

It is understood that Senator Vilas observed that this was carrying the fight on the president a little too far, but he had understood that the whole program had been agreed to, and that being the case, it was useless to object.

He would not call for the roll and the report was adopted without further delay.

CIVIL SERVICE LAW.

The Way It Is Administered Discussed in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 81.—The civil service law and the way it is administered, was discussed in the senate yesterday. Senator Berry took exception to the policy of allowing fourth-class postmasters to remain in office in order to carry out the spirit of the law. Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire criticised the law, and said it ought to be repealed. Senator Hoar of Massachusetts defended the law, and Senator Cockrell of Missouri said it was a good law if carried out according to its intent and purposes.

The federal elections bill consumed a couple of hours, and Senator Chandler, Republican, of New Hampshire tried to secure an amendment recognizing the right of federal supervision over sections so far as to permit every candidate for congress the privilege of appointing a watcher in each precinct to guard his interests and registration but a vote was not reached.

Senator Gray, Democrat, of Delaware, tried to get Republicans to name a day when final action would be had on the bill, but the request was evaded and Senator Fry said he wanted to hear the other side discussed. At 5:15 the senate adjourned.

A Suit Against Bonds.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The appointment of Representative De Armond, Democrat of Missouri, to take the place of J. R. Fellows on the judiciary committee was determined on before the bond issue was raised. Mr. De Armond shared the views of Chairman Culberson and other Democratic members of the committee against the legality of the use of the proceeds of a sale of bonds except for the redemption of debts. This makes the Democratic membership of the judiciary committee almost if not quite a unit against the bond policy.

AMERICAN BARLEY.

Rate on This Item in the Wilson Bill Advanced to Thirty Per Cent.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The Democratic members of the ways and means committee have decided upon an important amendment to the pending tariff bill. It covers the item of barley but its effect extends to the extensive manufacture of beer and various other products. The rate already prepared in the Wilson bill is twenty per cent ad valorem. Mr. Whiting proposed that this scale be advanced to 30 per cent, and after much discussion the amendment was agreed to. The change is said to be of special interest to the beer industry of the west, which uses American barley, and against the eastern beer industry, which draws its supply of barley from Canada.

Shelby Sees Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—General Jo Shelby, applicant for marshal in Western Missouri, accompanied by Representatives Cobb and De Armond, called on the president yesterday. # IT'S BOUND TO PASS.

Democrats Say Wilson Bill is a Sure Thing,

But Tom Reed Will Not Concede It.

THE PARTY WHIP

Will Keep the Democratic Majority Together

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Ex-Speaker Reed is not ready to concede that the Wilson tariff bill will pass the house. "There will be elements of doubt until the final vote is taken," said he. "To be sure, party spirit is running high, and the probabilities are that the majority will keep their ranks sufficiently together to pass the bill. Still, I am not ready to concede that they can do this. You can never tell how these questions are going until the final vote is taken."

Chairman Wilson, of the ways and means committee, regards its passage as a foregone conclusion, and is making no estimates on the vote. "I have made no exact calculations and will make none" he said, "as I am confining my attention to the stages of the bill as they develop from day to day."

Representative Tarsney has been regarded as the statistician of the committee on the economic questions involved. "I think the preliminary votes on amendments show," said he, "that the Wilson bill will carry by not more than five short of the full Democratic strength."

Mr. Tarsney will not indicate where the five averse Democratic votes will come from. On this calculation and the basis of a full house, which of course, is out of the question, the vote would be for the bill 209, against the bill 131. If the Populists vote with the Democrats for the bill, as is likely, this will raise the affirmative vote to 221. The majority for the bill, would thus be 90 with the Populists and 78 without them.

Representative McMillin (Dem., Tenn.) of the committee says the bill will pass by so large a majority that it is not worth while canvassing it with exactness. Mr. McMillin never makes a canvass, even on a close question, but depends on his general conclusions as to results. Mr. McMillin says that the Democratic defections from the Wilson bill have proved far less numerous than was expected, so much so that the Democratic majority will be practically unanimous for the bill.

Representative Hopkins, a Republican member of the ways and means committee, says there is little doubt as to the passage of the bill. "The party whip will keep the majority together," said he. "It will probably be well for the country if the majority for the bill is large and has few Democratic defects, as it will then place the responsibility for the bill exactly where it belongs."

Judge Turner, a Democratic member of the committee, says there is no doubt as to the passage of the bill. He has made no figures, as he thinks the majority for the bill is assured, and the size of the majority, as the money question is involved.

Representative Whiting, a Democratic member of the committee, says the bill will pass with but few opposing Democratic votes.
