PAY ROLL FILLED

Report to Governor Finds Too Many State Employees.

Discovers Six Men to Feed Fish at Hatchery at Pratt.

ABOLISH SCHOOL OF MINES

Senator Lambertson Believes Institution Is Not Needed.

More Than 80 Graduate Instructors at Manhattan.

Senator W. P. Lambertson, a member of the state efficiency and economy committee, found six men employed at the state fish hatchery to feed the fishes. He found almost similar conditions in other institutions. In a report filed with Governor Capper he urged that the number of persons on the state pay roll be materially reduced.

Recently Senator Lambertson visited a large number of state institutions. He inspected conditions at the State university, Lawrence; State Agricultural college, Manhattan; State normal, Emporia; penitentiary, Lansing; Pittsburg normal, Weir school of mines, Rosedale state hospital, school for blind, Kansas City; school for deaf, Olathe; hospital for epileptics, Parsons; school for feeble minded, Winfield; Topeka industrial school, colored industrial institute, Topeka; girls' industrial school, Beloit; Mother Rickerdyke home, Ellsworth; state fish hatchery, Pratt; Larned state hospital; reformatory, Hutchinson; orphans' home, Atchison. The Lambertson report says little as to the physical condition of these institutions. It goes deeply, however, into the matter of employees and urges that the pay rolls at a number of the institutions be reduced.

At the state fish hatchery at Pratt, Senator Lambertson found six men feeding the fishes. He thought the state was too attentive about the meals of the fish and recommended that the number of employees be reduced in view of the administration's stand for efficiency and economy. He also passed the observation that in his opinion the big hatchery was foolish.

Teacher to Every Seven Pupils.

At the school for the blind, twenty-five teachers and five supervisors were teaching 175 pupils. A reduction in the teaching force was urged.

The Weir school of mines should be abolished, the report recommends. When Lambertson visited the school he looked for students. A careful search revealed seven or eight. The superintendent thought the committee had overlooked a few and declared that the enrollment was fifteen.

In nearly all of the institutions Senator Lambertson found too many employees. He thought the superintendents and heads of the institutions had too easily, that they were not compelled to do sufficient work and that some of the subordinate offices should be abolished and the work placed on the shoulders of the official in charge.

Following a visit to the state agricultural college, Senator Lambertson recommended a reduction in the number of graduate teachers. He found 83 graduate instructors drawing pay from the state.

At the state university, too many instructors in German were found.

The report was filed with Governor Capper. Recommendations covered in the report will doubtless be submitted to boards and commissions in charge of the several institutions.

Faithful Russian Watchman Stops Royal Train in Time.

Reference to Supposed Attempt on Life Carefully Veiled.

Berlin, April 5.—(via wireless).—What is believed to have been an attempt on the life of Emperor Nicholas of Russia is reported by the Overseas News agency.

"Petrograd reports officially that a railroad watchman named Orlove received a donation from the emperor," the news agency says:

"Orlove is the watchman who noticed that the track was damaged and gave warning to the emperor's train.

"It is supposed an attempt on the life of the emperor was planned, and that it was frustrated at the eleventh hour by the watchman's discovery."

STUBBS ASKS PROBE

Former Kansas Governor Wants Fair Treatment for Stockmen.

Washington April 5.—Former Governor Stubbs of Kansas appeared for a thorough federal investigation of the beef packing industry today before the house judiciary sub-committee considering resolutions for that purpose. M. Stubbs represents some western live stock producers. He said producers felt packers were dealing unfairly with them and that both sides were entitled to have light turned upon the innermost working of the live stock industry.

"The producers have many cases for complaint against packers," he said.

"They cannot understand why when hides and other by-products are higher than ever before when the demand at home and abroad for meat is greatly increased that the price of live stock can be as low as it was in 1915.

"If you men knew of the empty feed lots where thousands of cattle used to stand, of the ruined fortunes of the last few years, of the producers who have lost all and of the unusual profits the packers are making you would think there was need of an investigation."

Questioned by representatives of the packers, Mr. Stubbs said he had made a good profit on cattle he bought last year. He explained, however, that if he had raised cattle from calves he might not have profited. He suggested an appropriation of $250,000 be made available for such an inquiry.

DRANK WINE OF CARDUI

Medicine Used as Substitute for Dope Says Dr. Newsome.

Chicago, April 5.—"Wine of cardui" was taken by one woman as a substitute for a drug after the Harrison law went into effect, according to testimony given today by Dr. F. M. Newsome of Ruby, S. C., at the libel suit of John R. Patten and Z. C. Patten, jr., manufacturers of the medicine against the American Medical association.

This woman, a patient of his, he said, he had seen drinking a third of a bottle of "Wine of cardui" at a time. Dr. Newsome also told of the medicine's use as a beverage by men.

Sometimes, he said, they drank it straight, and at other times with another liquid.

C. R. W. Stanfall, a storekeeper of Pagin, Tenn., testified he has been selling wine of cardui for fifteen years and that his wife has been using it during that period. "At first," he said, "she took a teaspoonful; now she takes as much as an ounce and a half. Soon as she gets out of bed she reaches in the clothes closet and gets her drink."

REPUBLICANS WIN

Kansas City Election Was Almost a Landslide.

Mayor Jost Loses by 8,000 to George H. Edwards.

ARREST THREE CITY OFFICIALS

Acting Chief and Two of Police Board in Contempt.

Elect Entire G. O. P. Ticket Except Three Aldermen.

Kansas City, April 5.—Elected mayor of Kansas City by a decisive majority, which unofficial returns place above 8,000, George H. Edwards, Republican, today was receiving the congratulations of friends and political supporters who hailed the result of yesterday's municipal election as a "death blow to machine politics."

Edwards defeated Mayor Henry L. Jost, Democrat, who sought re-election. He had the endorsement of the non-partisan and Progressive party organizations and his election was worked for by a faction of the local Democratic party opposed to Mayor Jost's re-election.

Elect 13 of 16 Aldermen.

The unofficial count showed a victory for the entire Republican ticket with the exception of three of sixteen aldermen. The campaign preceding the election was marked by bitter antagonism, which came to a climax on election day when police assigned to election duty made wholesale arrests, jailing more than three hundred persons in the early hours of the day. Charges were made that the arrests had been ordered by the board of police commissioners, of which Mayor Jost is ex-officio member, in order that the men might be deprived of their votes.

When habeas corpus proceedings failed in securing releases for the men who filled to overflowing the city jail, where they were held for investigation, two members of the police board, James S. Lapsley and Fred A. Lamb, were committed to jail late in the day on charges of contempt.

In Jail Three Hours.

Thomas P. Flahive, captain of police, who had been placed in charge of the police assigned for election duty, also was committed to jail. The police commissioners and Captain Flahive were released last night after being held in jail three hours, the three giving bond to appear at a hearing on the contempt charges set for today.

Efforts of attorneys secured the release of eighteen of the men locked up early in the day and they were at liberty at 6:30 o'clock, half an hour before the polls closed. The remaining men were released at 8 p. m. All of them furnished bonds to answer charges of vagrancy or carrying concealed weapons.

Unless the official canvass changes the result the Republicans will have half of the sixteen seats in the upper house of the city council, while eleven of the sixteen members of the lower house will be Republicans. All of the newly elected administrative officers are Republicans.

Promises Simplified Charter.

Mr. Edwards was pledged by his campaign utterances to submit to the voters a charter providing for a simplified form of government for the city.

SET OFFICIALS' TRIAL APRIL 16.

K. C. Police Commissioners and Acting Chief Arraigned Today.

Kansas City, April 5.—The Kansas City court of appeals today fixed April 15 as the date on which James S. Lapsley, Col. Fred A. Lamb and Captain Thomas Flahive will answer to the charges of contempt of court out of which they were remanded to the county jail yesterday afternoon by Judge Clarence A. Burney of the circuit court. Lapsley and Lamb are members of the Kansas City police board and Captain Flahive was in charge of the policemen assigned to polling places yesterday.

The charges grew out of the alleged refusal of the two commissioners and Captain Flahive to answer the writ of habeas corpus issued by Judge Burney to release the more than 200 men arrested by the police election squads in what Republicans and bolting Democrats opposing the election of Mayor Henry L. Jost termed as an effort to prevent the men from voting for George H. Edwards, the successful Republican candidate.

Arrested 217 Persons.

The three men were remanded to jail by Judge Burney. Captain Flahive was released within an hour but the two commissioners were held for three hours. They were released by order of Judge James Ellison of the court of appeals.

Today's action was taken by Judge Francis H. Trimble, James Ellison and Frank Johnson.

Two hundred and seventeen persons, among them several women who were arrested yesterday and held for investigation, were released in the north side municipal court today.

Gleadall Mayor of Hutchinson.

Hutchinson, Kan., April 5.—Although a rain fell steadily all day, Hutchinson voters turned out with the normal vote and defeated Mayor Fred W. Cook for re-election. A. G. Gleadall, proprietor of a transfer company, was elected mayor by a majority of six hundred. Commissioner of Parks R. H. Flinn was re-elected by a bare fifty votes margin. Commissioner of Utilities J. F. Smith was defeated by W. A. Knorr, a retired capitalist, by 1,000 majority. A jitney ordinance which would allow jitneys to operate without giving a bond, and which was bitterly contested by the street railway company, was defeated two to one.

SEE NEW WORRY

Japs in Ladrone Island Affects United States.

Upsets Entire Scheme of Defense of Philippines.

Washington, April 5.—The United States is seriously concerned about Japan's intentions regarding the islands in the Pacific which she has taken from Germany.

The concern is felt particularly in the case of some of the Ladrone islands. It is in this group that Guam, one of the principal naval stations of the United States, is located.

At the navy department today it was said that if Japan were to seek to retain possession of the Ladrones at the conclusion of peace, it would make a difficult question between the Washington and Tokio governments.

Menace to U. S. in Guam.

Navy department officials are of the opinion that this is the time for the United States to take up the issue with Japan. It was learned, however, that the state department, for the present, at least, is unwilling to inquire of Japan whether she intends to retain possession of these islands, which, in her hands would constitute a menace to Guam and threaten America's strategic position in the Pacific.

It is thought by officials here that Japan would keep possession of the Ladrones, if for no other reason than that she could thus counter the position of the United States at Guam and upset the entire naval scheme of the United States as it relates to the defense of the Philippine islands and Hawaii.

Navy department experts assert the United States will be compelled to participate in the negotiations that will settle the fate of the Ladrones because of the effect upon this country's plans for the maintenance of its position in the Pacific.

DENY PARDON

the Democrats who were pushing the Goebel contest before the legislature. The state capitol was surrounded by state troops ordered here by Governor Taylor and practically everybody in Frankfort were about armed.

While walking to the capitol in company with Col. Jack Chinn and Col. Eph Lillard on the morning of January 30, 1900, a shot fired from an office in the state house struck Goebel in the breast and he fell into the arms of Col. Jack Shinn.

Governor Taylor Fled.

Youtsey, Caleb Powers, then secretary of state and later congressman from the Eleventh Kentucky district, and "Jim" Howard were convicted of complicity in the assassination. Capt. Garnett D. Ripley and Berry Howard were acquitted and Governor Taylor fled to Indiana where he has since remained, a fugitive from justice until pardoned by Gov. A. E. Willson. Caleb Powers and Howard spent several years in jail fighting through mistrials and appeals until pardoned by Governor Willson.

Youtsey did not appeal from the life sentence imposed by the Scott circuit court to which his case was transferred and since his conviction in 1900 he has been confined in the state reformatory at Frankfort.

Denies Firing Shot.

It was charged that the day before the assassination he was seen in the office of the secretary of state with a peculiar pattern of rifle and immediately after the shot was fired it was charged he ran from the building crying "Goebel is shot." He suffered a nervous collapse in court, his condition delaying the case several days and probably preventing the infliction of the death penalty, though he confessed his part in the conspiracy to put Goebel out of the way. He always maintained, however, that he did not fire the shot.

Goebel was declared elected by the legislature the day after he was shot and on his death bed was sworn in as governor. He died February 3, and Senator J. C. W. Beckham, who was elected lieutenant governor on the ticket with Goebel, became governor.

Youtsey was arrested almost immediately after the shooting and on account of the intense feeling he was taken to Georgetown for trial. He was convicted in the spring of 1900, three months after the assassination and came immediately to the penitentiary.

In prison Youtsey has been a stenographer in the office of the warden, a teacher in the night school and a leader in religious work inside the walls.

DRYS GAIN LEAD

In Illinois Honors Stand 350 Saloons Out, 250 In.

23 Towns Once Dry Came Back to Wets' Standard.

Chicago, April 5.—Almost complete returns of the local option elections held in various Illinois towns and townships yesterday indicated today that between 350 and 400 saloons will be eliminated in the near future and that former dry territory which before the prohibition victories in 1912 sheltered about 250 saloons again will permit the sale of alcoholic beverages.

The saloon interest won back Bloomington and Carlinville, retained Aurora, Lincoln and Alton and picked up about 20 other towns scattered over the state.

The anti-saloon forces gained Waukegan and Moline, held Elgin and gained a number of townships which had had saloons. The greatest victory for the anti-saloon interest is at Waukegan and North Chicago, where 94 saloons are voted out. The result at Waukegan makes all the lake shore territory from Chicago to the Wisconsin line a distance of sixty miles prohibition territory. In nearly all the contested territory, women votes largely were responsible for the dry victories.

Both Sides See Victory.

Both sides profess to see a victory in yesterday's result. The prohibitionists emphasize the fact that contests were not made in several of the large towns that became dry in the 1912 and 1914 elections, while some of the saloon men asserted their belief that yesterday's results indicated that the crest of the dry wave had been reached in Illinois and that a reaction had started against the anti-saloon movement. The principal towns that voted saloons out were Waukegan, Odell, Moline, Dixon and Annawan. Those which went from the dry to the wet column included Bloomington, Amboy, Lockport, Pana, Carlinville and Galena, Grafton and Herrin.

Anti-saloon forces retained their lead in Belvidere, Canton, Champaign, Dekalb, Dwight, Decatur, Elgin, Freeport, Kewanee, Libertyville, Rochelle, Sterling, Taylorville, Yorkville, Matoon and Bushnell. Saloons were retained in Aurora, Alton, Chillicothe, Christopher, Fulton, Morris, McHenry, Rock Island, St. Charles, Lincoln, Galena and Savannah.

HARRY WOLFF IS SUED

Cynthia Watson Asks Damages of $7,725 for Alleged Personal Injuries.

Cynthia Watson, a nurse formerly employed in the household of Harry Wolff, son of the late Charles Wolff, at 767 West Tenth street, filed suit in the district court late yesterday afternoon for $7,725 damages alleged to have been sustained through injuries inflicted by Wolff.

Miss Watson asks for $150 for loss of salary because of inability to work following the injuries; $75 for medical services; $2,500 for actual damages and $5,000 for exemplary damages.

It is stated in the petition that Miss Watson was employed as a nurse in the Wolff home, occupied by Harry Wolff, and his mother, Mrs. Charles Wolff; that she was employed to nurse Mrs. Wolff, who is an invalid.

It is alleged that on January 30 Harry Wolff brought home a guest and ordered the nurse to vacate her room for the guest, which she declined to do. The following morning while Miss Watson was eating breakfast in the kitchen the alleged assault was committed. The petition states that Wolff seized Miss Watson by the body and arms and hurled her to the floor in an effort to eject her from the kitchen. The plaintiff states that she was greatly injured; taht her back was twisted and sprained and that she suffered a nervous derangement and has since been incapacitated for work as a nurse.

Harry Wolff is not in the city. He has been gone for several weeks and is in Colorado at present. The firm of Hungate and Heinz attends to some of his legal matters but knew nothing today about the facts leading up to the filing of the damage suit. Paul Heinz stated that Mr Wolff would return to Topeka within a few days.

"GEORGE AND FRANK"

Two Rotary Club Features Announced in Letter Today.

"If you fellows think the Rotary club is asleep you've got another think coming. Spring has 'came' and some other things with it, sort of crept up on us, don't you know." So begins an invitation by W. F. Axtell to Rotarians to attend a Rotary meeting and luncheon at the Mills building tomorrow noon.

"It has been a hard job to get him to appear," continues the invitation, "and has taken the combined efforts of all the members of the entertainment committee to induce him to 'be nice' but finally success has crowned our efforts and George Washington Hart, purveyor of carbon paper, paper rolls, hot air and a machine that sometimes is labeled a typewriter, will give us the regular business talk. You know George, and what he can do.

"After George is through, we are going to have something good. Frank P. MacLennan, recently from California, is going to outline to this club a business proposition that ought to stir us up. It's timely, it's urgent, it's worthy. That's all I propose to tell you about it now."

German Reports on Air Raid Inaccurate Says London Bureau.

London, April 5.—The official press bureau gave out for publication today the German admiralty's account of the Zeppelin raid of Sunday night and with it the following official British comment.

"The above German official communication is of the usual inaccurate and bombastic type with which Germany hopes to delude neutrals and her own people."

The German statement as received by wireless yesterday said Edinburg, Leith and various ship building works and factories on the Firth of Forth and the Tyne were bombarded by the Zeppelins resulting in numerous fires and violent explosions.

CHICAGO DEMOCRATIC

Mayor Thompson's Party Loses Bitter Council Election by 20,000.

Chicago, April 5.—Complete returns in yesterday's aldermanic election show today that the Democrats made decided gains throughout the city and that they outvoted the Republicans by more than 20,000 votes. The Democrats elected three new city councilmen and their candidate for the municipal court bench, Leo J. Doyle.

The election was fought out on purely local issues and it is believed by many that the suicide of Dr. Theodore B. Sachs, former head of the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium, last week was a potent factor in the defeat of the administration candidate.

Democrats Almost Won Control.

The Democrat gains brought the party to within two or three votes of controlling the council. Their vote in the new council will be 32 against 29 in the old. The Republicans will have 36 votes as compared with 39 in the outgoing body, while the Socialists retain the two votes they had.

The vote cast yesterday, 457,334, was heavy for an "off year." Heated fights within the Republican and Democratic parties brought out a larger vote than is usually cast at aldermanic elections, although the woman vote fell considerably below expectations.

Republican Vote Slumped.

The Republican ticket with 188,912 votes suffered most heavily in yesterday's contest, the total being 208,583 less than were cast on that ticket last year, when William Hale Thompson was elected mayor by 147,477 majority. Democrats yesterday polled 210,028, or but 41,033 less than last year. Socialists yesterday voted 45,191, or 23,173 more than last year. Progressive and other scattering votes totalled but 12,615. The women vote yesterday was 54 per cent of registration and the men's vote 68 per cent of registration.

N. Y. SMOTHERS BARNES

Republican Boss Beaten at State Party Primary, 2 to 1.

New York, April 5.—Returns from yesterday's primary election throughout New York of delegates to the Republican, Democratic and Progressive national conventions and members of state and county committee show a light vote and few contests.

Interest in the Republican primaries centered upon the question whether the old time party organization had cast the vote for Governor Whitman as one of the four delegates-at-large to the national convention and thereby lessened his prestige in the coming campaign for renomination. Friends of the governor asserted today that the strong vote cast for Whitman in Buffalo, Syracuse and some of the other upstate cities was entirely satisfactory to them.

Opponents of William Barnes said the result in the result of the Republican primaries evidence of a strong opposition to Mr. Barnes' re-election as member of the Republican national committee, should he be a candidate for re-election at the Chicago convention.

State Chairman Frederick C. Tanner said Barnes's delegates were defeated by two to one in districts where there were contests.

CONDENSED NEWS

Sentence Former Treasurer.

St. Paul, April 5.—Former State Treasurer Walter J. Smith was today sentenced to an indeterminate sentence of from one to five years following a plea of guilty to a charge of second degree larceny. Two other charges in the indictment, it is said, will be dismissed. Smith turned $18,000 of state school funds to his own use, but restitution was made by friends. Robert C. Pickit, a clerk in the state auditor's office, was implicated with Smith and is said to have forged names of school directors to vouchers. His hearing is set for this afternoon.

All Troops in Mexico.

San Antonio April 5.—With the dispatch of the remaining detachments of the Fifth cavalry and the Twenty-fourth infantry from Columbus, General Funston has sent into Mexico all the troops immediately available. The actual number of troops operating in Mexico has never been made public for military reasons, but army officers regard the number as altogether inadequate for the conduct of a campaign over a line already some 400 miles long.

Bandits Burn Bridges.

San Aontonio, April 5.—Two bridges on the railroad between Piedras Negras and Torreon about 70 miles from the border were burned Monday by bandits commanded by officers formerly with Villa, according to reports to General Funston.

cient but provide for a considerable reserve with which to begin the new year.

"We shall not run short of any thing in the future as we have not done in the past," he said.

The chancellor declared it was the intention of Germany's enemies to extend the war to the women and children of this nation by starving them and that for this purpose Great Britain and her allies have interfered with the trade of neutrals.

Right of Defense.

"The American note of Nov. 5, 1915, gave an exact description of British violations of the nation's laws," he said. "But as far as I know it has not been answered up to this date.

"No fair minded neutral, no matter whether he favors us or not can doubt our right to defend ourselves against this war of starvation, which is contrary to international law. No one can ask us to permit our arms of defense to be wrested from our hands. We use them, and must use them.

"We respect legitimate rights of neutral trade and commerce, but we can expect that this be appreciated and that our right way and our duty be recognized to use all means against this policy of starvation, which is a jeering insult not only to all laws of nations, but also to the plainest duties of humanity."

Even Break in Council.

Jefferson City, Mo., April 5.—Three of the five Republican candidates for the city council were elected over their Democratic opponents. The council now will stand evenly divided at five to five between the two parties.

TODAY'S MARKET REPORT

Chicago, April 5.—WHEAT—Rushes to buy carried wheat today decidedly higher but profit taking by holders led to a sharp reaction, which, however failed to last. The chief incentive for purchasing continued to be sensational, damage reports regarding the domestic winter crop. According to one expert, ideal weather would be needed to prevent the yield this season, proving a repetition of the failure of 1912. Opening prices, which ranged from the same as Monday's finish to 1⅜c higher, with May at $1.20½ to $1.21½ and July at $1.19½ to $1.19¾, was followed by a decline of 2 cents from initial top figures, but then a general rally followed.

Decided down turns took place later influenced by a few reports of better field conditions caused by warmer weather. Absence of any urgent export inquiry tended also to lower the market. Prices closed steady, 1⅜@1⅞c to 2¼@2⅜c net lower with May at $1.18⅛@1.18⅜ and July at $1.17@1.17⅛.

CORN—Corn swayed with wheat. Trade was light. After opening a shade to ⅛@⅜c higher the market hardened a little and then sagged but later recovered.

In subsequent transactions, declines were shown as a result of weakness that developed in the wheat market. The close was steady at a loss of ⅝@⅝c to ⅞@1c net.

OATS—Oats paralleled the action of other grain. Buyers were in a majority.

PROVISIONS—Higher prices on hogs lifted provisions. Brokers representing packers led the demand.

New York Stock Market.

Wall St., New York, April 5.—STOCKS—Trading broadened with a spirited demand for some of the better known rails before the end of the first hour. Reading, St. Paul common and New Haven, Louisville and Nashville and C. and O. were advanced 1 to 2 points, while some of the specialties fell back moderately. Crucible losing more ground than others of its class. Industrials were not perceptible influenced by the rather plain intimation that a substantial advance in prices of rails is contemplated. Marines and Mexicans also receded, mainly on realizing for profit. Marines and Mexicans also receded, mainly on realizing for profit. At midday the market was dull and irregular.

Bonds were lower.

Activity and higher prices attended today's initial dealings, greatest gains being registered by specialties. Mercantile Marines were the chief features, the common opening with blocks of 3,000 and 2,500 shares at 19⅝ to 20, unchanged at the latter quotation, while the preferred at 74⅞, gained a substantial fraction. Industrial Alcohol rose over 3 to 164¼, with advances of 1 to 2 points in the Autos, Crucible Steel, American and Baldwin Locomotive, Mexican Petroleum and American Smelting. United States Steel was barely more than firm and rails were dull.
