THE fire king has not slighted either city or country this spring.

THE Farmer's Alliance may be the umpire in Ohio politics this year.

MR. BLAINE appears to be too busy "sawing wood" these days to talk about the Presidential nomination of his party.

IF the national banking system be the best ever devised, as its friend claim, why does it need so much news paper defence? Information is what the people are after.

EX-SPEAKER REED, J. S. Clarkson and "Mark Twain" are among the distinguished Americans now traveling in Europe, but these three cannot be classed as "Innocents Abroad."

THE SOUTHWESTERN STOCKMAN published at Wilcox has entered its eighth year. The Stockman is the only paper published in the Territory devoted to the stock interests, and it is prosperous and enterprising.

It will take the official count to determine who the delegates to the constitutional convention from some of the southern counties will be. From the returns received, so far, the democrats will have a good majority in the convention.

WHO was it that said Spain was a century behind the rest of the world? They are plowing by electricity over there which would seem to indicate that they are up to, if not a little in advance of the head of the procession America is highly progressive, but we haven't a monopoly in that line.

THE HISTORIC old log cabin, in St Louis county, Missouri, which the late General and President, U. S. Grant, erected with his own hands and of logs cut in the woods with his own hands, is about to be removed from its present site and shipped to Chicago, where it will be re erected for exhibition at the World's Fair.

The citizens of Flagstaff are making preparations to entertain the members of the Editorial associations of Southern California, New Mexico and Arizona, in a befitting manner. The visit to this place and vicinity will be a delightful one to the visitors, and the citizens of Flagstaff will be liberal in their entertainment

ARE we becoming a nation of lunatics? We are not by nature inclined to take the alarmist side of any question but a bulletin recently issued by the Census bureau makes the percentage of increase in insanity during the last decade 73.53 against an increase in population of only 28.86 per cent, which, we think, makes the question pertinent.

THE young man seems to be coming to the front in this country at a lively pace. When the United States senate is next called to order it will contain three members under forty. Mr Chilton, the newly appointed senator from Texas, is only thirty-six, and Senators Kyle and Irby are only thirty-seven. It remains to be seen how these youngsters will compare in legislative abilities with their older colleagues.

THERE is no doubt but that the 16th legislature made a mistake when it abolished the office of Commissioner of Immigration. Hundreds of letters are received daily throughout the Territory inquiring for just such information as was furnished by the Commissioner. The people of the east are becoming interested in Arizona and are seeking reliable information and the Territory is in no position to give it, and has no way of distributing the pamphlets now on hand.

IN these days when partisan politics may be found in almost everything, it is a positive pleasure to note the unanimity with which the press of the United States endorsed and stood by Secretary Blaine in the controversy with the Italian government. It shows that although we may carry on bitter quarrels among ourselves about our home affairs, we are all Americans, and as such ready to stand shoulder to shoulder in opposition to any foreign power that may attempt to tread on the toes of Uncle Sam's coat.

IN order to believe the statement made on the authority of the National Association of Insane Asylum Superintendents, that no sane person has ever been confined in an insane asylum in this country, it must be accepted as a fact that there are no sane persons.

A MEMBER of the British Parliament has been sent to jail for immoral practices. If his case is to be taken as a precedent and the English papers have told the truth about the characters of the rest of them, Parliament is in danger of soon being without a quorum.

EVERY now and then a statement of some sort headed, "Surprised the Doctors," goes the round of the press. If our medical friends would only own up we dare say that they meet with surprise in nearly every case which they treat The practice of medicine is not an exact science, nor is it one that can be entirely learned from books. When the physician receives his diploma he is just fairly entered upon his studies, and he ends them only when he dies or retires from practice.

WITH this issue the old name of this paper Arizona Champion is dropped, and it will appear hereafter under the new heading of THE COCONINO SUN The newspaper outlook in this field, while not as good financially as would seem, is, perhaps, as good as at any other county seat in the Territory. We believe that the citizens of this community will liberally support a good live newspaper, and THE SUN will endeavor to be such. A number of improvements are in contemplation for THE SUN and they will be made as fast as the patronage will allow. New presses, new type will be added. We ask the help of the citizens of Coconino County in making THE COCONINO SUN such a newspaper as they desire.

MR. HARRISON, if one may judge from the published report of one of his Colorado speeches, has followed the example of Mr. Cleveland in intimating that he might change his mind on the silver question, at least that is the meaning we put upon this language: "I believe we shall find a common interest and safe ground upon all these great questions. By moderating our own views and making reasonable and just concessions we shall find them all settled wisely and in the true interests of the people." It is, of course, possible, that Mr. Harrison referred to the silver men exclusively when he said "By moderating our own views," as it is a part of human nature to believe that it is always the other fellow's views that need moderating.

Constitutional Convention Delegates.

The returns from the election of delegates to the Constitutional Convention are, as near as can be ascertained, about as follows:

Maricopa county—H N. Alexander, M. H Williams, J. C. Jordan, all democrats.

Pima—W. H. Barnes, F. H. Here, democrats: W. A. Hartt, republican.

Cochise—M. A. Smith, democrat; Geo. W. Cheyney, republican; one doubtful.

Yavapai—F. A. Tritle, F. M. Murphy, W. S. Head, republicans.

Mohave—F. S. Dennis, democrat,

Coconino—T. G. Norris, democrat.

Apache—W. H. Wallace, A. McDonald, democrats.

Yuma—Thomas Gates, democrat.

Graham—A M. Patterson, B F. Crawford, democrats.

Pinal—Thomas Davis, republican; J. V. Anderson, democrat.

Total, 22; democrats 15, republicans 6, in doubt 1

The canvas of the vote will probably show a change in favor of the democrats, making the result stand 17 democrats and 5 republicans.

The World's Debts.

The census bureau has issued a bulletin upon the debts of the world As far as can be ascertained the debt of foreign nations in 1890, less sinking fund, was $25,636,076,000, an increase over 1880 of $2,154,503,655. The debt of the United States for the same time shows a decrease of $100745500 or more than half the amount of the debt in 1880. The decrease in the debt of the states and territories for the ten years to 1890 was $67,219,000; in the same time the debt of counties increased $17,846,000. The burden of debt falls far heavier upon the inhabitants of the principal foreign countries, except of Germany, than upon those of this country. While the individual fluctuations in the amounts of indebtedness of seventy-nine foreign notions reported, has been considerable during the decade, the aggregate indebtedness shows relatively but little change especially if compared with the increase of population The aggregate national state and county indebtedness, per capita, shows a decrease from $45 59 in 1880 to $39.46 in 1890. The aggregate surplus receipts of another decade like the one just passed, would relieve the country from nearly all the national, state and county indebtedness, could they be distributed for that purpose.

Washington Letter.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, May 19, 1891

Senator Peffer, evidently speaking by authority, says that no third party will be formed by the convention which is to be held in Cincinnati next week, and he considers that the silly rumors about there being danger of the convention being controlled by socialists and anarchists were the work of parties opposed to the gathering, which promises to be so important and fruitful. "We have no come," said the senator earnestly, "to destroy, but to build up. Our mission is not to compel the rich man to give up what he has but to devise some way by which the poor and oppressed may be relieved. We are united upon the necessity of benefiting the condition of labor—and when I say labor I mean the work of every one who helps to add to the wealth of the country by what he produces. This includes the builders, the railroad employes, the factory hands, and, most of all, the farmers.

"This is a government of the people, for the people and by the people. The people will see that the reform comes in good season. The conference—which we will hold at Cincinnati will be one step toward reaching the final result, and we have arranged also for a series of mammoth mass meetings in all sections of the country during this summer. When the Farmers' Alliance movement was confined to Kansas we had to work down among the people and reach them by word of mouth. The newspapers continually misrepresented us and distorted our speeches. We have come now to that point where they are giving us a respectful hearing, and we can feel sure that our meetings will be correctly reported.

"We do not expect to form a third party at Cincinnati. There will be no discussion of candidates or preparation of a party platform These things, if they come at all must come later. We shall content ourselves with issuing a brief address to the people of the country, and then we will go out again among them preaching this new gospel of relief from debt at usurious interest, and from labor which continually adds to the wealth of the employer and leaves nothing for the employe:"

By a curious coincidence, just after leaving Senator Peffer, I met ex-Senator Ingalls, who had evidently left that big crop of potatoes in the care of his hired men. Mr. Ingalls declines to say what brought him here just at this time, but there is a rumor in inside circles that he was sent for by Mr. Harrison, who is desirous of making him his friend, for the purpose of asking his advice about some very important matters, and that if he proves agreeable he will be tendered an important Federal position, possibly the Secretaryship of War. Of course there may be nothing at all in this, but the fact that Mr. Ingalls should come here at this season entirely unexpected by any of his friends gives it a plausibility.

The minor officials of the navy department regard the chase of the Chilian insurgent steamer Itata as a first class lark, and regrets are heard on all sides that the leaders are not aboard one of the other of the United States vessels now in the Pacific ocean. No one believes that it will be anything than a jolly picnic, and nobody cares three snaps about either the Chilian government or the insurgents. Of course the Government was compelled to act upon the request of the Chilian minister and seize the Itata; but if it had desired to keep her a stronger force than a single deputy marshal would probably have been placed in charge. It was a good deal like the prize crews of one man each which were placed in charge of captured Canadian sealers in Behring Sea season before last.

Mr. Harrison has returned safe and sound from his long trip, and he undoubtedly knows a heap more than he did when he started; but it is yet to be seen whether his increased knowledge is to be wisely used, or whether it is to swell his head with egotism. He finds plenty of work waiting for him, and if the fear expressed by many that Mr. Blaine will not be able to resume his duties and he takes a long rest is verified he will find it extremely difficult to dispose of some of it, particularly that relating to foreign nations, much of which is at this time in an unsettled condition, where it requires skillful handling, if we are to maintain the prestige which Mr Blaine has undoubtedly given us by his administration of the State department. I do not believe that Mr. Blaine's health is in the condition that some people are trying to make the country believe that it is. He had his own reasons for resuming in New York a few days, and his health had nothing to do with it. See if you don't hear more about Blaine before long.

Territorial Notes.

At Harqua Hala wood is sought by the ton, $5 per ton being the ruling price.

The city assessment roll of Tombstone shows a total of $3,213,913 95 taxable property.

Fifty young Apaches from the San Carlos reservation were recently taken to school in Colorado.

The Papago Indians, near Gila City, have large gardens of vegetables, cantaloupes and water melons.

The Journal-Miner says: "William Gamole was found dead May 9th, in his cabin near Minnehaha. Cause of death unknown. Deceased was about 60 years of age.

Matthew Whitten, a rancher of Blue Canyon, forty miles north of Clifton, was found murdered in his cabin The house had been plundered and several horses stolen. Apaches are believed to be the perpetrators.

Mike M. Rice is clerk for Superintendent McInernay at the prison. He is said to be one of the ablest accountants in the Territory. He was a clerk in the 13th and 16th legislative assemblies.—Yuma Sentinel.

A special on the 18th inst. from Globe says: "The the safe of C. S Taylor was burglarized this morning Twenty-five hundred dollars in cash was taken out. Blood stains indicate that the party was accidentally injured.

The following editors have been appointed by the Arizona editorial association, as delegates to the National Editorial Association, which meets in Minneapolis in July: L. C. Hughes, of Tucson; John W. Dorrington, of Yuma; Eli S. Gill and W. L. Vail, of Phoenix.

It is reported that the Southern Pacific company will appoint ticket agents to travel on every train. The duty of the t. a. will be to receive pay for fares between stations where tickets are not sold, and to sell "pasteboards" to passengers who may have neglected to purchase the same at the regular ticket offices.—Yuma Times.

The Yuma Indians have collected a much larger amount of mesquite gum this season than for many years past It is thought that the overflow caused the increase in the amount of gum produced, which is valuable to the Yumas for many purposes, not the least of which is for dying the hair a dark black.—Yuma Times

Pima county has sold 30,000 head of cattle so far this year. Sheriff Brown returned last Saturday from an extended trip through the Cattenden country on official business. He reports the cattle interests good. There are now in that section two cattle buyers from Kansas purchasing feeders from yearlings up to four year olds, which the ranchers are holding at $9, $12, $15 and $17 per head.—Tucson Star.

J. M. Holt on Saturday last loaded and shipped 39 cars—1,350 head, and on Sunday 15 cars, consisting of 525 head. Patten Bros. shipped on Friday 321 head of feeders to Reading, Kansas, where they have extensive feeding grounds. Since our last issue G. F. Black has shipped as follows to Kansas pastures: Monday, 400 head; Wednesday 600 head, and on Friday 232 head, making 33 cars. He yet has a large bunch for shipment.—Stockman.

Travel was resumed on the Phoenix and Maricopa railroad, last week, for the first time since the washouts three months ago

The Aztec Cattle company have made a sale of three thousand head of cattle, and will commence shipping on the 20th of this month.

James Speedy, constable at Nogales, last Saturday returned to this post two deserters from the army. The sixty dollar reward makes the many eyes of all the sheriffs constables and citizens open wide in looking around for men who have deserted their posts in the army. They can see three times as far and five times as quick as they could when only thirty dollars annointed their vision. If soldiers have any sense and honor left they will never give the keen eyed peace officers of the public welfare a chance to make any money out of them.—Huachuca Sentinel.

Governor Irwin is commended for sitting down on pernicious legislation For instance the bill giving $3,000 for the annual support of sectarian schools; the bill creating county auditors; also the bill providing for the leasing, to the highest bidder the convicts in the Territorial prison. He should further have exercised the pocket veto, as did Wolfley, by killing the measure instituting a convention for the framing of a constitution with a view of Arizona becoming a State, thereby saving the tax-payers of the Territory many thousands of dollars.

Lieut. W. W Bean, with an escort of colored troops, arrived at Fort Wingate last night from San Carlos with five Apache bucks and four squaws. The bucks are accused by the government authorities of furnishing aid to the renegade "Kid" and threatening to go on the war path in the spring. One of these Apaches, "Eskimzino," was, a few years ago, one of the most noted and blood-thirsty Indians of southern Arizona. It was his band and village that was entirely annihilated by the citizens of Tucson several years ago 'Stove Pipe," another of the braves, is familiar with the weight of the shackles, having served a term of imprisonment at Fort Union They are held as prisoners of war.

WHAT IS

SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which developes ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, carcerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, even when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"My daughter Mary was afflicted with so-called scrofulous sore neck from the time she was 22 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLILE, Nauright, N. J.
