FATHER KEMP'S OLD FOLKS.—Of course everybody will go to the city School House on 4th street to night to hear "the Old Folks."

This is the most popular concert troupe now traveling and are drawing immense houses in every place they visit.

In Cincinnati for sixteen nights they drew an average attendance of 1200.

In Madison no room could hold all who desired to hear them.

They number 37 ladies and gentlemen, and constitute a company of rare merit.

We confidently expect to see the large lecture room of the city School House crowded, a thing that has never yet occurred.

Tickets only 25 cents.

Pass the Swindler through the Land.

An individual calling himself F. Baurdo, and sometimes Prof. Baurdo, who has been devoting his attention for some weeks past, to giving instructions in dancing, making small loans, getting printing and other things, on a solemn promise to "pay on Saturday," absconded from this city on last Saturday morning, leaving his "Grand Ball" unended, his printing bills and other debts to a considerable amount unpaid.

Said Baurdo, is an miserably a long dog, pock marked, stooped shouldered looking scoundrel as can be found outside the Penitentiary. He is about 5 feet 5 inches high, dresses well, and took with him a new suit of clothes, which he tried to swindle one of our merchant tailors out of. He is badly pock marked, and has such a villainous look, that no one can fail to know him at a glance, and we earnestly request every newspaper throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico, Central and South America, Europe, Asia, Africa, and the Isles of the ocean, to publish a description of the swindling scoundrel, so that no one may be deceived by him in the future.

We understand he went north, and may pass himself off for a negro or mulatto cook, or as a fugitive slave, but his pock marked face, bushy hair, down cast blinky eyes, must detect him.—Will the press assist us in this patriotic and philanthropic undertaking?

SHOCKING DEATH IN WASHINGTON.—A young man of estimable character and fine talent, named John Hart, came to his death on L street, between Fourth and Fifth, in Washington, D. C., in a most distressing manner, by getting accidentally hung on the palings of a fence. It seems, from what we can learn of the circumstances, that young Hart, who is the son of a very estimable gentleman, (formerly connected with the Charleston, S. C., papers,) came to his boarding house at a late hour and attempted to climb over the palings of the front yard, and in doing so, his foot apparently slipped, and he was caught by the neck in such a manner as to strangle him to death. A faithful dog, which was with his master, had endeavored, with all his power, to relieve him from the peril, and in doing so, tore the clothes entirely off from young Hart in his efforts to pull him down. When found in the morning the body was stiff and cold, and the clothes torn in shreds by the dog, lay scattered about, the faithful animal keeping guard over the dead body of his master.

THE GOLD MINES.—We copy from the Boston Traveler the following article in regard to the probably emigration to the new El Dorado in the coming Spring:

A movement is represented to be going on in Boston which will induce very many young men to seek their fortunes in the Kansas regions, the coming season. A heavy draft will probably be also made on many towns in Massachusetts, and throughout New England, in the way of recruits. All this must result in peopling Kansas with representative men, not only from the North, but from every section of the Union, who will at once give character to that beautiful Territory, which no other State ever had so early in its history, and which must raise it suddenly to wealth, dignity and influence.

A Smart Woman

The Chattanooga Advertiser relates the following:

A nice, respectable lady, not a thousand miles away, had long noticed, to her dismay, that her "worser half" was growing foolishly suspicious and jealous of her. She resolved to teach him a lesson.

Some evenings since as he was leaving, she told him he need not hurry back—she would not be lonely—she wished her ducky to enjoy himself, etc. Benedict smelt a veritable mice under that hypocrisy, and resolved to be avenged. About 8 o'clock, "an individual," about his size, might have been seen cautiously creeping along to the door, and noiselessly Benedict peeped in. Just as he expected there they were—a pair of boots—a coat on the back of a chair, and a hat on the table.—Benedict shivered like an aspen leaf as he stopped, pulled off his boots, and drew a pistol from his coat pocket. With "resolution flashing from his eye," he made tracks for the bed room. There he was kneeling at the bedside, coat and vest off, and his head on the pillow. Miserable villain his time had come.

"Say your prayers, villain—your time is short,"—and a flash and report told that the bullet had sped on its fatal mission.

"Help! murder! watch! Oh, is that you?" and Madame popped her little head from the foot of the bed.

Benedict seized the body, and it was—a miscellaneous collection of old coats, vests, pillows, handkerchiefs, and the like, made up to the occasion.

"I say, my dear, what does all this mean?" exclaimed the husband, with a blank sheepish look.

"Well, dear" replied the wife, "I did get lonely after all, so I just amused myself by dressing up that puppet, and making believe you were home. I'm sure, I didn't think you'd suspect."

"There, there," said the chastened husband "say no more about it; I thought it was a robber; dear creature, I'm so glad it didn't hit you."

Benedict repeated "now I lay me," etc., and went to bed, resolved not to notice any more at present.

Arkansas Eloquence.

The Ouchita Herald publishes some extracts from an address delivered before the Female Seminary at Tulip, Arkansas, by a Mr. Leiper, from which we select the following specimen with the Herald's commentary thereon:

"By her central position, Arkansas stands as the great Alpine column of support in this mighty temple of freedom, in which so many millions of freemen offer sacrifice at the shrine of the Goddes of Liberty—and shall she remain inactive and indifferent, whilst the shout of the millions of her countrymen shake the quaking earth, in plaudits to the honor and glory of the muses, who presides over the moral and intellectual developement of man? And this paradisaic ridge muse ultimately become the Mount Olympus, upon whose classic brow, when the great territorial West become populated with thronging millions—the games of struggling genius will be enacted."

What those games are is left to conjecture. But it is to be hoped that poker (to which struggling genius is much addicted) is not included, for, according to all authority, poker is a bad institution, and is besides "contrary to the peace and dignity of the State."

☞ A Frenchman named George was choked to death at Lafayette last Friday, by a piece of meat, while he was eating.

Fire in the Illinois Penitentiary.

ALTON, Feb. 8th, 8 P. M.

The Penitentiary buildings at this place were partially destroyed by fire this evening. The amount of damage not ascertained, but supposed to be small. It was undoubtedly the work of incendiaries.

EXTRA SESSION.—It is confidently predicted in letters from Washington that an extra session of Congress will be called, as only about twenty-two working days remain before the termination of the present Congress, and in that short time, it will be impossible to mature any measure for the Treasury, with the present diversity of views among members in regard to a tariff and other revenue expedients.

☞ Hon D. C. Anthony, Senator from Floyd county, makes the following grave charges, very indirectly, in a letter to the N. A. Tribune, published in the Ledger of that ilk.

That I may not be misunderstood, I make the charge that the following trade was made, to wit:

That the friends of the Tribune were to vote for the nominees of the democratic party throughout, except John D. Defrees, and thereby secure their election, a part of the consideration for which was that the Tribune was to share the profits of the public printing with Col. Walker, the democratic candidate."

And I further charge that by this bargain the Republicans and Americans were betrayed and defeated, and that the Tribune does, by virtue of the contract, receive a part of the printing as its portion of the spoils.

It was the discovery of this pretty scheme that caused me to "bolt," as you are pleased to term it; and I plead it in justification of my conduct. And it was from a supposed participation in this "dirty mess" that John D. Defrees was abandoned by his friends and left to the tender mercy of the enemy.

There is more credit in "bolting" nominations under such circumstances than in voting for them. It was rumored that the Tribune was to share in the profits of the printing, no matter which of the candidates succeeded. Mr. Davis is a close manager.—Madison Courier

Drs. Wortman & Williams,

Are traveling Physicians, they establish a route and aim to visit each place once in about six weeks. That course enables them to see their patients often, consequently they can prescribe with much better success than by writing.

One of them will be at the Terre-Haute House, in Terre Haute again on Saturday and Sunday, Feb 19th and 20th, 1859. They devote all their time to the study and treatment of Chronic Disease. Their extensive traveling affords them an opportunity to see and investigate a great variety of diseases. At nearly all the places they visit, their rooms are crowded with patients, all having different stages of disease, this gives them all the advantages that physicians derive from visiting Hospitals, they are prepared to treat, successfully, all cureable cases. They treat Consumption and all diseases of the throat and air passages, by the inhalation of medicated vapors, together with general treatment. They at all times have from one hundred to several hundred cases under their special charge and treatment—they are discharging cured, and receiving new applicants daily. By their local and general treatment, Consumption, in its first and second stages, is as much under the control of medicines as any other formidable disease. They wish it distinctly understood, that they are possession of, and use the Brompton Hospital remedies, that were adopted after many years experience, and the treatment of thousands of cases. Thus it may be seen, that they are not, as many are, experimenting, they pledge themselves to deal candidly and honestly with all, and give their opinions freely in all cases, they never urge any one to take their treatment, but leave all to choose their own course.

☞ All persons wishing their advice, will call early, as their stay is short.

No charge for consultation.

Boerhave's Holland Bitters.

The press of the country has been particularly loud in the praise of the Bitters. Among the many notices, we offer the following to an impartial public:

"It is a well known fact that we do not puff patent medicines, and that we but seldom advertise them, but Boerhave's Holland Bitters comes to us endorsed in such a manner, as a specific for the disease it professes to cure, that we not only advertise it, but give it this favorable notice merited by the proprietor.—Handel Zeitung, N. Y.

The Philadelphia Argus, in speaking of the art exhibition held in that city by the Franklin Institute, says:

"In noticing medicines, we are always extremely cautious, and satisfied of the merits of the article. Among those exhibited is the celebrated Holland Bitters. This medicine has been extensively introduced into every State in the Union, and into the Canadian Provinces, principally within the last two years. The exhibition shows testimonials in every language known in America, among which we notice one from the late Hon John M. Clayton, of Delaware."

"Boerhave's Holland Bitters are an invaluable remedy in all cases of dyspepsia. They impart a strong, healthy tone to the stomach, and are the best renovators of the system generally."—Chicago Bulletin.

"Dyspepsia, headache and indigestion, by which all persons are more or less affected, can usually be cured by taking moderate exercise, wholesome food, and a dose of Boerhave's Holland Bitters one hour before each meal."—Bell. Sun.

"Boerhave's Holland Bitters for Dyspepsia, Headache, Loss of Appetite, Nervous Debility, and all diseases consequent upon a disordered stomach and liver. This article is very favorably known throughout the West, and is regularly prescribed by some of the most distinguished physicians."—Pitts Ledger.

"There can be no better remedy for Indigestion, Heartburn and Loss of Appetite, than Boerhave's Holland Bitters."—Michigan Register.

TO THE MILLION.—Prof. Wood, of Cincinnati, has, after years of deep study and untiring research, succeeded in presenting to the public an article superior to any now in use, and indeed it is truly a wonderful discovery—we advert to his Hair Restorative; the only article that has been completely successful in checking one of his gray locks, removing dandruff, itching, scurvula, &c. It restores the gray-headed to more than the original beauty; adds new lustre to locks already luxuriant; having the effect on coarse, harsh hair to render it glossy and wavy; fastens permanently hair that is loose or falling, and many other qualities which will be one known as soon as used.

The pride of mankind is singularly developed in the keeping and arrangement of the hair; perhaps from the fact that it is the only portion of the human body that we can train in any way we choose; how important then, having this portion left to our care, that we should use all the means science has placed in our hands to render it beautiful and permanent.—If you would have beautiful hair, glossy hair, hair with its natural color elegantly preserved to extreme old age, don't fail to purchase Wood's Hair Restorative.—[Daily Iowa State Gazette.

Hostetter's Celebrated Bitters for diseases of the head and stomach. As a specific, it is perhaps without a rival, and the people whom it has benefited, even within a limited period, are to be counted by thousands. The Bitters boast a reputation more on what it has itself done, than on what it gets convenient friends to say for it. For Dyspepsia, Flatulence, Constipation, etc., etc., it cannot be surpassed, in speediness of cure. Try them, and our word for it, they will give satisfaction.

CHEAP BOOTS AND SHOES!

Are the kinds for all persons to procure, especially at this season of the year. For this reason, the subscribers invite their old customers and new ones to come and examine their now very extensive stock, of all styles of the above articles, including a large proportion of

THEIR OWN MANUFACTURE!

All of which are warranted! Now is your time to buy Good Boots and Shoes, which are in reality the only cheap ones. We leave others to keep, and "gas" about "CHEAP SHOES"—we only profess to keep GOOD ones.
