In Orange county there was also but one application for license, which was likewise refused. And in Putnam county there was but one application, which was refused, and one in Vermillion which was also refused.

☞ The physicians of Louisville have recently adopted a new schedule of fees. The Demorat says that it is impossible for a person to be born or to die under the new regulations for less than fifty dollars.

CONSOLIDATED.—The Toledo Daily Herald (Dem.) and Daily Times (K. N.) have been consolidated, and will hereafter be published in one sheet, under the name of Herald and Times.

☞ During the next fall season, a monument twenty-five feet in hight, of pure white marble, will be erected in Ashland Square, Baltimore, in memory of Wells and McComas, the two young riflemen who killed General Ross, commander of the British forces at the battle of North Point, but who were immediately shot themselves, in consequence of that deed.

☞ There has been an extraordinary drought in Scotland. Many of the rivers are almost dry, and it is said the celebrated river Doon would flow through a large gas pipe.

☞ Mr. Ten Broeck's "Lotterer," on the Newmarket course, on the 5th inst., won a match of £1,000, beating Mr. Robinson's "Apollo," and winning by a length and a half.

☞ The Cleveland leader announces the arrival in that city of Mr. George Raymond, all the way from Salt Lake City, via Cherry Creek Mines and Kansas, having come the entire distance driving a span of elk before a wagon.—The elks in question are only three years old, and actually travel 150 miles in a single day.

☞ The Emperor of Austria is said to be prostrated in mind and body by the terrible reverses of his troops. On receiving the news of the battle of Magetta, he burst into tears before the officers of his household, whose endeavors to console him were ineffectual.

☞ The great democratic axiom, "The greatest good to the greatest number," was originated by Jeremy Bentham, the English writer on political economy, who died in 1832. In the United States the sentiment means, "The greatest good to the greatest number, and the greatest number is number one."

☞ A married monster said he lately dreamed that he had an angel by his side, and upon waking up found it was nobody but his wife.

☞ It is a singular fact that on the day of the great battle on the bank of the Mincio, a noble Spanish lady, bearing the titles of Solferino and Countess de Fuentes and Castellas, died at Barcelona.

☞ It is said when Greely was going out in the express wagon, he displayed considerable charity or a reckless disregard for money, sowing it broadcast along the the road. When he started he had $250 in $1 and $2.50 gold pieces in an old pocket book. Every time he would take this out he would be sure to drop some, and the consequence was, when he arrived at the mines he was minus just $85, which he had lost on the way.

☞ Herbert, the California Congressman, member of the Cincinnati Convention, and murderer of an Irishman, has been warned to leave the town of Hennasello on pain of death. He is alledged to have been connected with a company of gamblers and scoundrels who had got to be so pestiferous and evil that the citizens could not stand it any longer.

HEAVY VERDICT.—In a recent trial at Jacksonville, Ill., for breach of promise of marriage, brought by a young lady, and in suit by her father for her seduction, against the same party, the juries in the two cases rendered verdicts of $5,000 each. Public opinion confirmed the justice of the judgement of the court.

GARIBALDI A SCOTCHMAN.—Scotch journals are trying to make out that Garibaldi is a Caledonian. His father, they, say, was a shoemaker at Auld Brig o'Surling, and his name was Garrow. His son's Christian name was Baldie—a common Christian name in some district of Scotland. In consequence of some freak or other the son went to Italy, and the natives of that sunny clime, being unable to pronounce the names of Baldie Garrow, transposed them to the more melifluous Garibaldi.

It is reported that the London Times proprietary have settled upon Mr. Wm. Russel, their special correspondent in the Crimea and India, an annuity of £200 for life, this being entirely for past services, and independent of any work to be done by him in future.

☞ The New York Tribune of a recent date, speaking of the approaching campaign of 1860, among others, makes the following sensible suggestions:

And here we venture a suggestion to those Northern men who sincerely desire to overthrow the Democracy, and at the same time keep the Slavery question out of the contest. Gentlemen! it can't be done; and for two reasons: 1. The question is already in the contest. In fact, it is the contest. 2. The Propagandists of the South are determined to keep it there till they finally conquer or are conquered. Are sunrise and sunset more palpable facts than these two propositions? Nothing is left for us but to decide whether we will take the right or the wrong side in the struggle.

As to the union of all the opposition forces, for the purpose of defeating the Democracy, the editor says:

It seems to us, then, that the Republican party, by combining on fair terms with any class of men or fragments of parties who will co-operate with it in carrying out the principles and carrying on the work we have indicated, is but obeying the law of its own existence. Of course, in such a union concessions cannot all come from one side. Republicans will not barter away cardinal principles, but they will not contend for mere forms, phrases, names. And, sharing with their allies the toils of the struggle, they will be ready to divide with them the honors of a common triumph.

☞ The residence of John Burton, with some others, were "wacted out" last night.

It is remarkable that any portion of our fellow citizens should thus seek to take the law in their own hands. Where is our city authorities that such things are suffered to take place? If Mr. Burton, or Mr. anybody else are living in violation of law, why is not the law enforced? Its provisions are ample to meet the case.

We can but speak in terms of the most decided condemnation of this "washing out" business, and hope the city officials will see that it is stopped.

PUGILISTIC.—Some of the venerable citizens of the Old Post are giving indications of a disposition "to travel on the muscle."

TWO of the oldest inhabitants, we learn from the Gazette, had a set to, in which one punched the other under the fifth rib, somewhat after the fashion in which "Abner", the son of Ner was smitten by Joab the son of Zeruiah of the tribe of "Judah."

We recommend a different kind of punch when next their blood gets hot.

CUTTING IT SHORT.—A half dozen young ladies belonging to the upper ten of New York, were arrested by the police of that city, while out "on a lark," dressed in men's apparel. They were members of a club of young ladies, wealthy and aristocratic, who were banded together for the purpose of indulging in this and similar freaks. The arrest nipped the rapidly growing order in the bud.

CAUGHT.—Pulliam whose escape from the Knox county jail, we mentioned some ten days ago, has been recaptured. After his escape he stole a mare from Dr. Hitt, of Vincennes, which has been recovered. Pulliam is again in jail waiting for a trial for the stealing of the mare.

☞ The feat of running the passenger engine "Boone," over the North Missouri Railroad, a distance of one hundred and forty eight miles, in seven hours and twenty five minutes, making twenty two stops and carrying two passenger and one baggage car, with only one cord of wood, has been surpassed, says the Cincinnati Commercial, on the Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati Railroad, by a run of the locomotive "Nashville," from Columbus to Erie, and from Erie back to Cleveland, a total distance of 325 miles, with a little less than two cords of wood, making all the stops of a regular passenger train.

☞ Marshal McMahon, in a letter written to a friend in Paris, concerning the battle of Magenta, relates that he saw a whole regiment of the enemy destroyed to the last man, the Colonel embracing his colors as he fell. The cause of the wholesale butchery was McMahon's taking the Austrians in flank, and having got possession, after a terrible fight, of the elevated railroad causeway, and placed forty cannon made on the new system, so that they completely enfiladed the dense mass of the Austrians below. One ball alone was seen to knock down between thirty and forty men.

☞ The Lafayette Journal says the coolest thing it has heard of lately was perpetrated by a vagabond printer, who had been "sponging" his way over the State as an editor. A railway conductor came to him one day upon the train, and being told he was a member of the press, asked for his "pass." He pulled out of his pocket an old slip of newspaper, containing a description of his appearance, a warning to all other papers to beware of him, and concluding with the usual—"Pass him around," and asked the conductor to read it and see if he did not answer the description.

☞ Among the wounded conveyed to Vercelli is a young woman, a cantiniere, belonging to one of the regiments, who received a ball in the thigh in the affair of Turbigo.—Having seen several of the French soldiers fall around her, she seized a musket, charged with the bayonet against the Austrians, and continued to fire until shot down. Her conduct has been specially mentioned to the Emperor. It was at first proposed to amputate the limb, but she refused, saying: "I do not fear the operation, but it will prevent me from again following my regiment." She is now considered in a fair way of recovery.

☞ Geo. of the Vincennes Gazette, boasts of delicious apples left at that office. We believe Vigo county can beat Knox as much in fine fruit as she can in large cities and extensive Hugangs. Won't some of our fruit growers show us samples to convince them of the fact?

☞ A smart negro, belonging to a master in Norfolk, Va., four years ago smuggled himself into a gang of manumitted negroes that were about embarking at that port for Liberia, and thus got off undetected to Africa. Nothing was heard of him till, a few days ago, his master received a letter, informing him that his former servant had become a free and prosperous citizen of Liberia.

BENEFIT OF ADVERTISING.—For the enlightenment of any superannuated old fossil who may entertain infidel notions on the subject of advertising, we call attention to the following incontestible proof of its advantages: A merchant in one of our northern cities lately put an advertisement in the paper, headed "Boy Wanted." The next morning he found a bandbox on his door step, with this inscription on the top. "How will this answer?" On opening it he found a nice, fat, chubby looking specimen of the article he wanted, nicely done up in embroidered "baby doins."

The Agony over at Last.

Since we issued our last paper, two of the great excitements of the day have passed off. Piccolomini has made a triumphant debut, and the big fight has taken place. Another and a permanent excitement still remains. Wm. Eddy & Co., the successors of Swan & Co., will continue to send the cash to the lucky holders of prize tickets in their State Lottery. Since Wm. R. Wilson, of this city, made the $22,300 hit, everybody is anxious to try their luck. The people are now getting wide awake to the fact that Wood, Eddy & Co., is an honorable fair dealing concern, authorized by law, and patronized by the wealthiest men of the country, for, as Hood says, "No man is so rich but what he'd be richer." Wilson's is not an isolated case; there are hundreds even in this city who owe their present independence to Swan & Co., who but for a judiciously invested ten dollars would now be toiling in poverty. How many a ten dollars spent uselessly might raise the owner to a starting point in the world enable him to carve his way up to a proud position. Do not procrastimate, but send for a ticket, or even half a ticket, price $5, or a quarter ticket for $2 50. The address is Wood Eddy & Co. Augusta, Georgia, or Wilmington Delaware.—N. Y. Picayune.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

McLEAN'S CORDIAL.—As may be seen, we insert this week the advertisement of McLean's Cordial, &c. It is very well known we are not particularly favorable to patent medicines, and, as a general thing, cashew the whole of them with but little ceremony, and whatever sentiments we declined inserting this advertisement said we knew what were the ingredients of the medicine, and how compounded. This we have learned, and believing, as we do, that the ingredients are good, and the compound judiciously made, we recommend it as a mixture worthy of public confidence.

The above is from the St. Louis Christian Advocate, edited by the celebrated Rev. Dr. McAnally, which speaks volumes in favor of McLean's Cordial. We say to all, try it. See the advertisement in another column. [y 23 dawlm]

WAVELAND ACADEMY,

MALE AND FEMALE.

Waveland, Montgomery County, Ind.

THE NEXT SESSION OF THIS INSTITUTION will commence on Monday, September 12th, with a full corps of teachers in all the Departments. We invite the attention of the public to the following advantages of Waveland Academy.

It is located in a beautiful village, surrounded by a highly intelligent and moral community, in which students are exempt from the temptations and vices of more populous towns.

Waveland and its vicinity are remarkably healthy, not a single student has died since our connection with the school—a period of seven years.

The course of instruction is very full, embracing in the scientific department, all the branches in Mathematics, Natural Science, Philosophy, History, and English Literature, usually taught in Colleges; and in the Classical, all that is required to fit the student for entering the Junior Class in the best institutions of the west.

We would especially invite attention to the Female Department of our school, which affords young ladies facilities for intellectual and moral training, fully equal, we think, to those enjoyed in the best class of Female Colleges, while the expense is not more than one half as great.

Our method of giving instructions in the Natural Sciences with the aid of Globes, Maps, Charts, and Philosophical apparatus enables the student thoroughly to comprehend all that is difficult in these useful branches.

The Bible is a daily text-book, and instruction in it is regarded as an important means of mental and religious culture, and an invaluable aid to the mild, judicious, but thorough discipline which has contributed so much to the present prosperity and reputation of the school.

TERMS—From $4.00 to $7.00 per session of thirteen weeks.

TUITION—In Music $10.00 per session.

BOARD—$2 00 per week, fuel, lights and washing extra.

TERMS—For Tuition and Books, cash in advance.—for board, one half in advance.

Waveland is easy of access by way of Terre Haute or Crawfordsville. A mail hack runs three times a week between those places, leaving Crawfordsville every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday mornings.

JOY AND GLADNESS!

HAS BEEN BROUGHT TO

MANY HOMES AND FAMILIES.

SINCE THE INTRODUCTION OF THAT World Renowned medicine, Dr. MANN'S AGUE BALSAM, in the Western country, and especially the past season—it has brought health and happiness into more families than any remedy on record. The question would frequently arise, What is the cause it does so in all cases, in the shortest time, arrest chills, fever and ague in its worst forms, and in all cases performs a speedy cure. Persons residing in malarious districts using this Balsam, occasionally or even once a week, have no fears of an attack of ague. It is therefore highly recommended as a sure preventative, if used in small doses daily during that particular time when this class of diseases prevail. For want of space we can only offer a few of the many testimonials in its favor.

BEVERLY, O., Feb. 26, 1858.

DR. S. K. MANN, GALION, OHIO—GENTS:—We are at a loss to find language sufficient to portray to the public the great esteem in which your celebrated Ague Balsam is held in this community. The fact is it never fails to cure ague in its worst forms and we can tell nothing else. Yours, &c.,

HOLDERST & TAYLOR, Druggists.

COCHRAN, Miss. Oct. 30, 1858.

Messrs S. K. Mann & Co.—Gents, I have at our house, in St. Louis, sold your Ague Balsam, experimented with it, and have invariably received its effects, and in candor must say, I do not believe it has an equal in the history of medicine; for, to my personal knowledge, it cures permanently every case, and I have known it to cure after all other remedies had failed, with the same happy result. I have no hesitation in pronouncing it the greatest discovery ever made in intermittent remedies, and a perfect triumph over chills, fever and ague.

Truly yours,
D. J. WOOD & CO.
