A Great Forger Caught.

Information was received in Louisville a few days ago that Alex Norton, the scoundrel who swindled Mr. W. E. Snoddy of that city of several thousand dollars, was in Chicago. Officer Bligh was immediately dispatched to Chicago, who telegraphs back that he has secured Norton, together with a $1,000 bond, out of which he had swindled Mr. Snoddy. The Louisville Journal gives this account of Norton's transactions:

Mr. S had been traveling with him some time previous on a steamboat, and became favorably impressed with him. When Norton arrived here, he sought out Mr. Snoddy, and passed off on him three forged checks for $1,000, $1 500 and $380 on Rockford, Brown, & Co., of New Orleans, certified by the Citizens' Bank of New Orleans. He purchased of Mr S. an interest in 2,000 barrels of pork for a bonus of $1,000, a negro boy, and two Hardin county bonds of $1 000 each, to the amount in all of $3,380, and receiving the cash only on the two small checks for $1,880, he paid for his purchases with the check for $10 000, and refusing money for the balance, requested and received a due bill for $6,150. He did not take the negro with him. It has since leaked out also that he called on Messrs. Dumesnil & Co., who were the agents for the R. J. Ward, which boat was in port, and engaged a passage on her for New Orleans. Being short of money, owing to his transactions with Mr Snoddy, he gave Messrs. D & Co a sight draft on New York, which they cashed. It was ascertained that he did not take passage on the Ward, and the draft turned out to be worthless.

Democratic Looking Glass.

Whenever a party becomes so corrupt and demoralized that its own members proclaim its disgrace, there is hope for the Republic. The Republican party need only point to the testimony of the leaders of the Democratic party, to show into what an abyss of infamy the Democracy have led the Government. We have collected from the abundant material at hand, some specimens of the way Democracy confesses its sins and iniquities. Toombs, the illustrious Democratic Senator from Georgia, said in a speech in the Senate:

Your appropriations for navy yards have gone to the building of houses for officers, and the making of flower pots, and all that sort of thing, at a cost of $2,000,000; and it will be no less as long as you will pay it, but will go up to $4,000,000 if you do not stop it. There are $2,000,000 that you have no need for at all. You have not increased them of late years, and you now have 6,000 men in your navy yards to help them—civilians. You have carried their number up from three thousand to eight thousand. You have eight navy yards. England has 550 ships and she has two navy yards. You have eight conveniently located all about the country, and it is a cause of reproach to good Democrats for the enemy to say we keep people there to cheat them in elections; and as God is my Judge, I am afraid there is something in it.

But look again. In a speech in the House of Representatives, near the close of the last session, Hon. A. H. Stephens, of Georgia said:

When he first entered Congress in 1843, the expenses of the government were only thirty millions per annum. The country had gone through the expensive Mexican war, with sixty three thousand soldiers in the field, for thirty three millions, and now, in time of peace, the estimates were SEVENTY THREE MILLIONS. Many expenditures were wholly unnecessary, and reform was indispensibly needed. He believed forty million an abundance for the National expenses.

Gen. Shields, one of the Democratic Senators from Minnesota, in the course of a debate in the Senate, also took occasion to say:

"I think it not saying too much to declare that this country has gone faster and further in ten years, in extravagance, than most other countries has done in centuries.

Hon. M. R. H. Garnett, of Virginia, in a recent speech said:

Can any gentleman pretend that it is fair, that it is just, that it is legitimate, that the expenses of this government, in time of profound peace, should have doubled in six years? Look through the list of items, and you will find that the expenditures have doubled in almost every item. Is there no place to apply the knife? The Committee of Ways and Means tell you that they cannot control these expenditures; then I say that the only way to control them is the same way you would control any other extravagant person; that is, by stinting them in money.

And all this under Democratic rule—a Democratic President, a Democratic Cabinet, Democratic Congress, and Democratic officials in the Administration department. O, why slumbers the indignation of the Democracy? Why are the people so patient.—Connersville Times.

☞ At a meeting of the Union Hook and Ladder Company No. 1, held at their Hall on the 26th inst, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, This Company was organized for the purpose and object of saving the property of the citizens from destruction without any reward or benefit to themselves.

And Whereas, There has been for a long time exhibited ill will and animosity by the members of other Fire Companies of this city towards ours, on account of this company consisting of men of foreign birth, and only by forbearance, our part, avoided a collision; and, lastly, the abusive, insulting and unmanly language of the Chief Engineer, at the fire on the night of the 25th inst., towards this company; therefore be it

Resolved. That this Company disband, and that the apparatus we have from the city, be returned to be same, in good order.

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to settle all the debts the Company owes, as far as they can, and, if there should be a surplus, to pay it to the Fire Association.

Resolved, That the above named committee be instructed to report these resolutions to the Common Council and Fire Association of this city.

COMMITTEE.

☞ At a meeting of the Irish adopted Democratic citizens of Terre Haute, held August 25th, 1859, to take into consideration the propriety of forming themselves into a party as regards future political action,

On motion, Martin Grace was called to the Chair and Mr. M. J. Carrol was nominated to act as Secretary.

After several remarks from gentlemen present the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That a general observation of recent events, and self respect, clearly demonstrate to us, as adopted citizens, the propriety of pursuing an independent political course.

Resolved, That we enter our solemn protest against the wire working clique composed of State and Federal office holders, in the course which they have pursued, and the secret influence which they hold over Conventions. All of which meet our entire disapprobation.

Resolved, That we will withhold our support from all such cliques under whatever cloak they may assume.

Resolved. That we will not affiliate with the so-called Opposition or Republican party but will hold ourselves aloof from Lecomptonism as well as Republicanism, both of which we will oppose with whatever ability and strength we may have.

Resolved, That our object is to reason together, as men determined to do right, and to vote for him or them who may be considered by us as best suited for the office or offices to which he or they may aspire, and who will give general satisfaction to all concerned.

MARTIN GRACE, Chairman.
M. J. CARROLL, Secretary.

LONG PILGRIMAGE OF TWO LITTLE IRISH SISTERS.—Travelers and citizens who chanced to be at the Michigan Southern Railroad depot on Monday evening were much interested by the affecting incident made known concerning two little sisters, bright young girls of the respective ages of nine and twelve years, who had come out from their former home in Ireland, over sea, and across the wide country from New York to join their father at Hannible, Missouri. His name is Welsh; he had left them and their mother in the old country, to gain for them a new home here. He had sent out for his family to join him. At the eve of their departure the mother sickened and died, and the two little maids set sorrowfully out alone to encounter the perils and discomforts of an emigrant journey half round the world.—Chicago Press.

A FINE GOOSE STARCH.—To those who desire to impart to shirt bosoms, collars, and other fabrics, that fine and beautiful gloss observed on new linens, the following recipe for making gum arabic starch will be most acceptable, and should have a place in the domestic scrap book of every woman who prides herself upon her capacity of a house keeper, and the neatness of her own, her husband's, and her family's dress, and is she does not take pride in them, her husband is an unfortunate man:

Take two ounces of white gum arabic powder, put it into a pitcher, and pour on to it a point of boiling water, according to to the degree of strength you desire and then, having covered it, let it stand all night. In the morning pour it carefully from the dregs into a clean bottle; keep it for use. A tablespoonful of gum water, stirred into a pint of starch that has been made in the usual manner, will give lawns—either black or printed—a look of newness, when nothing else cans store them after washing. It is good, much diluted, for thin white muslin and bobinet.—National Free Press.

☞ Rev W. W. Allen, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Keokuk, Iowa, was excommunicated on the 11th inst, by a Council of Baptist clergyman from different parts of the country. The charge against him was that he was an advocate of "open communion," and had acted on his views by partaking of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper in another church, with persons who had not been "immersed."

☞ Gen. Taylor's "all the world and the rest of mankind" is memorable, but Mr. Buchanan matched it in his speech in Carolina, when he said: "I do believe that mankind, as well as the people of the United States, are interested in the preservation of the Union."

THE REMAINS OF NAPOLEON THE GREAT.—Workmen are now busy in the vaults of St. Denis preparing a sepulchre for the remains of Napoleon I., which will certainly be removed from the Invalides, although the day for the disinterment is not yet fixed. I presume that Marshal Prince Jerome, who at one time declared that the tomb in the Invalides, of which he is governor, should never be disturbed as long as he lived, is now less positive in his opposition. The last resting place of the great Napoleon among the bones of the kings of France will not, however, after all, be the precise spot which he selected for himself, and which he is represented pointing to in the well-known glass painting in one of the Cathedral windows. Louis XVIII, is buried in that vault, and the Emperor, whose great object in interring his uncle in the royal bastiles, is to teach the public to regard him as the legitimate founder of a new line of Monarchs, cannot, in consistency, desecrate the tomb of a legitimate Bourbon.—Manchester Guardian.

☞ The Pike's Peak correspondent of the St. Louis Republican furnishes the following interesting news for those who have a fancy to dig gold in the mountains this year:

About five weeks ago the lofty crags that adorn the snowy range commenced, for once, revealing their true forms. But this summerly hodity was not destined to last for a great while. On Saturday morning my usual glance at the mountains disclosed to me the refreshing fact that during the preceding night, perhaps while laboring under a but temporary sensation of shame, the venerable heads had attired themselves once more in the cool dress of winter. The first fall of snow in the mountains has taken place, and the short summer season in those altitudes may be considered over.

TOOCAHOE.—A few days ago, a bright little girl of probably three or four summers, who recently lost her father, came up to Prof. Wise, at the Jones House, and said:

"Mr. Wise, won't you take me up with you in your balloon?"

"Why do you want to go, my dear?" replied the Professor.

"I want to see my papa, was the touching response.

A tear was visible in the proud eye as he assured her that it was impossible if him to take her high enough to see her papa.—Lafayette Jour.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ The following complimentary notice is taken from the Missouri Democrat:

IMMENSE AMOUNT OF SUFFERING RELIEVED BY TAKING MCLEAN'S STRENGTHENING CORDIAL.—Since the 17th of August, the following cases have been reported cured:

165 persons have been cured of General Debility.
68 " " Nervous Debility.
38 " " disease of the Kidneys
180 " who have been afflicted with various complaints, Fever, Chronic Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Liver Complaint, Night Sweats, Dyspepsia, and Weakness of the Digestive Organs, have been cured, besides a large number from whom we have not yet heard.

McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier is a remedy required by every one in the Western and Southern country. It is very pleasant and agreeable to take, and it can be taken by man, woman or child.

As a diuretic, it will cure any disease of the Kidneys or Bladder, and as an alterative, it will purify the blood, and remove all pimples, sores or blotches from the skin.

Try it—one drachm is sufficient to convince the most sceptical of its wonderful strengthening and invigorating properties.

JOY AND GLADNESS!

HAS BEEN RESTORED TO

MANY HOMES AND FAMILIES.

SINCE THE INTRODUCTION OF THAT World Renowned medicine, Dr. MANN'S AGUE BALSAM, in the Western country, and especially the past season—it has brought health and happiness into more families than any remedy on record. The question would naturally arise—why is this? Because it does in all cases, in the shortest time, arrest chills, fever and ague in its worst forms, and in all cases performs a speedy cure. Persons residing in malarious districts using this Balsam, occasionally during the sickly season, need have no fears of an attack of ague. It is therefore highly recommended as a sure preventative, if used in small doses daily during this particular time when this class of diseases prevail. For want of space we can only offer a few of the many evidences in its favor.

BECKETS, O., Feb. 26, 1858.

Dr. S. K. MANN, GALION, OHIO—GENTS:—We are at a loss to find language sufficient to portray to the public the great esteem in which your celebrated Ague Balsam is held in this community. The fact is it never fails to cure ague in its worst forms and we can sell nothing else. Yours, &c.,

HOLBERT & TAILOR, Druggists.

CORNIVIN, Miss. Oct. 20, 1858.

Messrs S. K. Mann & Co—Gents: Having procured a supply of your Ague Balsam and testing it thoroughly in many severe cases of long standing, where all the popular remedies of the day had failed, I found in all cases your Balsam effected a safe and speedy cure. It is just the medicine we want here in the South. Yours,

JOSEPH BUCHANAN, Druggist.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23, 1858.

Messrs S. K. Mann & Co.—Gents, I have at our house, in St. Louis, sold your Ague Balsam some three years, and have carefully observed its effects, and in candor must say, I do not believe it has an equal in the history of medicine; for, to my personal knowledge, it cures permanently every case, and I have given up working after all other remedies had failed, with the same happy result. I have no hesitation in pronouncing it the greatest discovery ever made in intermittent remedies, and a perfect triumph over chills, fever and ague.

Truly yours,

O. J. WOOD & CO.

No article ever received such undivided praise and support from Medical and Scientific men.

VALUABLE HORSE SAVED!—Mr. S. Litch, Hyde Park, Vt., writes: "That the horse was considered worthless." (Litch was a jockey.) "But since the free use of Mustang Liniment, I have sold him for $150 cash. Your Liniment has been doing wonders up here."

430 BROAD STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

(Extract.) "In lifting the kettle from the fire it became unmanageable, tilted over, and scalded my hands very severely, almost to a crisp. It was an awful sight. The Mustang Liniment appeared to extract the pain. It healed rapidly, without soreness, and left no scar of account.

Yours truly,
CHARLES FOSTER.

Such testimony as this is but the constant and natural echo wherever this article is used.

This Liniment is indispensible to planters and owners of horses and mules. Mr. John Daniels, of Montgomery, Ala., sold a slave for $850, who was raised from other uncertainties by this Liniment. Every family should have it. Be very particular and enquire for the Mustang Liniment and take no other.

Sold by all dealers throughout North and South America, Europe, and all the Islands of the Ocean, for 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle.
