Merry Christmas Has Surely Begun

Those who shop early will be the happiest people by December 25th.

The assortments are best now---though we shall have fresh things coming in between now and Chris mas.

Shopping is easiest now, before the great rush starts.

There are two ways of planning for Christmas--one by making out a list at home and trying to make the store fit into it; the other by coming here and getting suggestions from the things themselves.

Which way will you do?

If you have to shop for children bring them with you, and you will soon find out what they want most.

Ladies' and Children's Handkerchiefs.

You would scarcely believe that we can offer such values for the holidays unless you see them for yourselves. An assortment larger than ever shown before.

At 15c a box, a good fancy box for ladies' handkerchief.

At 25c, a box. fine, hemstitched, neat patterns, fancy borders.

At 25c a box, children's fancy border, with embroidered initials.

At 35c a box, children's fine quality, hemstitched, white with colored embroidered initials.

At 35c, or $1.00 a dozen, Ladies' pure linen, hemstitched, hand embroidered initials (convent made).

At $1.25 a box, half doz., fine pure linen hemstitched, hand embroidered initials.

At 75c each, very pretty one, hemstitched, embroidered border or scalloped edge.

At 25c, better linen, hemstitched and embroidered, new designs.

At 15, 20, 25 and 35c, handsome fine pure linen, hemstitched, embroidered or lace edge.

At $1.75 for half doz., in fancy boxes, all pure linen, exquisitely embroidered, surprising value.

Handkerchiefs For Men.

$1.00 dozen, fine white handkerchiefs.

$1.75 dozen, pure linen handkerchiefs.

$1.00 for half doz., in a box, fine quality pure linen, with initials.

Embroidered Grass Linens.

Hand embroidered in blue and white—a beautiful line of doylies, tray covers, center pieces, cushion tops, luncheon cloths and table covers in square, oblong and round. Napkins to match.

Holiday Umbrellas.

That perplexing gift for "him" is soon selected if you take a look at the wonderfully beautiful umbrellas we are showing.

Men's silk umbrellas with steel rods, finely mounted in horn, gun metal, ivory, sterling silver and natural woods.

Ladies' parasols, umbrellas and carriage parasols. A handsome assortment to choose from with stylish mountings in gun metal, fancy wooden, sterling silver and horn.

Waist Patterns

Something out of the ordinary in imported Japanese silk hand embroidered waist patterns; embroidered in all-white and delicate colors. Each one distinctly different from the other.

White linen hand embroidered waist patterns, one in a box, nicely done up.

In'ants' Wear.

Hand made silk caps and bonnets in white, blue, pink and cardinal.

French mouline bonnets, long and short.

Cashmere, embroidered and silk coats.

Infants' crib blankets.

Infants' long and short dresses in real baby effects.

Long and short skirts in Nainsook and embroidered flannel.

Cashmere and flannel embroidered sacques and kimonos.

Silk booties.

French bibs in mouline and silk.

Inaugural Ball Draws HUNDREDS To the Capitol Building

The inaugural reception and ball which took place in the Capitol last night, was attended by a very large number of people. The reception began promptly at 8 o'clock when Governor and Mrs. Carter received in the Foreign office the officers of the National Guard, who appeared in full dress uniform. After being received by the Governor the officers were greeted by a number of ladies, the wives of prominent officials, stationed in the Governor's private office.

The arrangements for the reception were excellent and the great throng in attendance was well taken care of.

At the main entrance to the Capitol Col. Jones, Captain Shaw, Captain Campbell and Captain Atkinson met the guests. At the foot of the main stairs was stationed Lieut. Whitehead. Lieut. Stewart was in the upper hall, while Lieut. Cunningham and Lieut. Pratt were stationed in the Secretary's office. The guests were all received in what formerly was the Foreign office which had been simply but very tastefully decorated for the occasion.

The introductions to the receiving party were made by Don S. Alexander, the Attorney General's Department, and Walter F. Dillingham. The party being composed of the following: Mrs. Alatau Atkinson, representing the Department of Education; Mrs. Walter F. Frear, the Supreme Court; Mrs. Lorrin Andrews, Attorney General's Department; Mrs. Charles S. Cooper, Health Department; Mrs. T. C. Hobdey, Department of Public Works; Mrs. George Rathbun, Governor's Department; Mrs. E. P. Boyd, Mrs. J. W. Pratt, Land Commissioner's Department; Mrs. Arthur M. Brown, High Sheriff's Department; Mrs. R. D. Wilcox.

Among those who attended the reception were the consuls of Great Britain, France, Germany, Portugal, Norway, Russia, Italy, Japan, China and Mexico. The U. S. Navy was represented by Admiral Terry, Captain Bertman, Captain Wilde and Commander Brown, and the army by Captains Williamson, Cabaniss, Langdon, Lyon, Newton and a number of officers from the U. S. S. Managhan. Among the Federal officials present were Collector of the Port E. M. Hackfeld, Judge Dole, Collector of Internal Revenue Chamberlain, C. M. Cooke, Assistant Attorney and Postmaster J. Albert Cox.

Dancing began at about 9 o'clock. The Territorial Band furnished music, assisted by a quartet from which trained great applause. The dancing took place in the old House room, the floor of which had been specially prepared, for the occasion, extensive and other light refreshments were served while punch was supplied in the lanai. At 11 o'clock coffee and sandwiches were served.

The committee in charge of the affair were as follows:

Committee on Arrangements—Col. J. Jones, Maj. C. L. Cooper, Maj. Jas. F. Fisher, Jr., Capt. Jas. M. Hendrie, Mr. Andrew Brown, Mr. J. A. Gilman, Mr. Henry C. Ahuli, Mr. W. F. Dillingham, Major J. M. Poole, Capt. Harry Campbell, Mr. F. Pratt.

Invitation—Capt. Hendrie, Capt. Lyon.

Supper—Mr. Andrew Brown.

Reception—All committees.

Floor—Major Jas. F. Fisher, Capt. Jas. M. Hendrie, Mr. J. A. Gilman, Mr. Henry C. Ahuli.

So many images the occasion had been a success. The accommodations had been placed in the hands of competent men, thus insuring an evening of unalloyed pleasure. Though the halls were thronged, the coolness of the evening had been such as to make the occasion exceptional as regards comfort of the kind.

Governor and Mrs. Carter were most gracious in their reception of the guests of the evening, cordially shaking hands with the hundreds present.

At the function and to complete the thing with the one that the dancing everyone had to it afterwards had been completed to the part upon and that a season of pleasure. Informality had been instituted. Many were the words of congratulation received by Governor Carter and his gracious wife.

While this pleasurable event was to a large measure accountable for the pleasant evening spent by everyone, still there were other things that aided materially in making the whole function what it was.

The refreshments seemed rather to be a good share of special mention. They were to be not elaborate, but were nevertheless most tastefully arranged. A special feature was the arrangements made about a central refreshment table temporarily set up in the center of the front stairway leading to the office where Governor and Mrs. Carter entertained and assisted to prevent congestion among those going up and coming down.

In the Foreign office the room of prime interest access to the Governor's private office and half way across was placed two dozen rose chairs for young ladies at the disposal of the guests. These were decorated with maile leis and between them was a bower of American Beauty roses. It was in this room that Governor and Mrs. Carter received.

In the Governor's office there was a semi-circle of palms and roses laid in large quantities upon the mantels. This was the room set aside for the couple for gents already mentioned.

Downstairs in the legislative hall the theater aisle was filled with palms and other growing plants while numerous ferns and other growing plants were in the hall itself, more compact decorations, palms and other growing plants were used.

It was not until a late hour that the guests began to leave and after midnight there were still many remaining. Even after 1 o'clock the members of the guard could be heard singing out on the soft night air.

AYRES CAPTURES PRIZE IN SHANGHAI

Herbert M. Ayres, well known and formerly resident in this city, now a member of the staff of the Shanghai Times, finds time from newspaper work in the Orient to distinguish himself in the field of sports, as witness the following from Shanghai papers touching on sporting events there of October 24:

"Mr. H. M. Ayres gave a splendid exhibition of fast and far walking. He won in a class by himself, and walked the mile in 8 minutes and 54 seconds."—North China Daily News.

"H. M. Ayres had a walk over in the mile walk winning by three hundred yards in 8 min. 54 sec. The race created great interest and should be a feature at future meetings. The Ariel Vase Cup has come to the Times office."—Shanghai Times.

"H. M. Ayres gave a capital exhibition of walking in the One Mile Walking Race, which he won very easily in 8 min. 54 sec. Probably the other competitors will make a better show on future occasions, now that Ayres has shown them how to walk. His time in this event should stand as a record for some time to come."—Sport & Gossip.

"The novelty of the day, the walking competition, saw thirteen names entered but only eight faced the starter, three of whom abandoned the race before a quarter of the distance was covered. It was seen that Mr. Ayres had all his own way at the start and he literally or rather actually walked away from his competitors and secured the prize with the greatest ease. It needs a little effort for the jaws of Shanghai to send one of their own compatriots to "walk away with their own prize, but the game, always, is played with the enthusiasm of their representative."—Press.

Wm. Thompson of Lihue, H. Ahrens & Co., returned from Kauai in the Mikahala this morning.
