NAVAL ACADEMY, ANNAPOLIS.

REPORT OF BOARD OF VISITORS—HIGHER STANDARD OF REQUIREMENTS RECOMMENDED—GUNNERY—SANITARY CONDITION, ETC., ETC.

The report of the Board of Visitors to the Naval Academy at Annapolis has recently been made public by the Navy Department. The Board consisted of Rear Admiral G. T. Pearson, U. S. N.; Commodore Daniel B. Ridgley, U. S. N.; Capt. John C. Howell, U. S. N.; Surgeon William Pinckney, U. S. N.; Paymaster John Hambleton, U. S. N.; Chief-Engineer Wm. Roberts, U. S. N.; the Hon. H. B. Anthony, R. I.; the Hon. Alex. Rice, Mass.; the Hon G. V. Fox, New-Hampshire; the Hon. Wm. Darling of New-York, the Rev. Wm. D. Salter of Iowa, and Wm. C. Whittemore, esq., Connecticut.

It is recommended that a higher standard of attainments be required of candidates for admission to the Academy, for the report says: "The greatest obstacle to the complete success of the Institution arises from the imperfect and insufficient preparation of so large a proportion of those who are sent to the Academy for admission; and the statistics of failures (which have been heretofore elaborately collated), both to enter and sustain themselves after entering, show this evil to be of so grave a character, that the Board present with earnestness and prominence the necessity both that the standard of qualifications be raised, and that it be adhered to. In view of the great privileges which the Academy bestows, and of the small number of the youth of the country, compared to the whole, who can under any circumstances enjoy them, and of the more important consideration, that to those who are here educated must be largely intrusted the honor and defense of the nation in future conflicts upon the seas, the Government has a right to expect, and, we think, ought to demand, that no candidate shall be admitted to the Academy who is not at least thoroughly instructed in reading, writing, arithmetic, English
