Recital to be Notable Event.

The principal occasion to which musical and society folk of Honolulu are looking forward is the piano and song recital by Frederic Biggerstaff, pianist and William Edwin Chamberlain, baritone, at Bishop Hall, Punahou, Monday evening, July 1. There will be a full moon Monday evening and Punahou will offer an ideal setting for such a musical affair. Already several concert parties have been made up for that evening.

Both these gentlemen are among the best known artists and teachers of the Pacific coast. Mr. Biggerstaff makes his home in San Francisco and Mr. Chamberlain lives across the bay in the College City of Berkeley. They have made many friends since coming to the Islands and have been frequently entertained since their arrival.

The following list of prominent ladies will act as patronesses of their concert: Mrs. L. Tenney Peck, Mrs. Charles T. Wilder, Mrs. Rudolf J. Cooke, Mrs. Wm. L. Whitney, Mrs. D. Howard Hitchcock, Mrs. A. B. Ingalls, Mrs. C. R. Hemenway, Mrs. Wm. A. Love, Mrs. H. M. Von Holt, Mrs. E. J. Timberlake, Mrs. Benj. L. Marx, Mrs. B. F. Dillingham, Mrs. H. B. Restarick, Mrs. A. F. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gay and Mr. Ernest Gay's Dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gay and Mr. Ernest Gay entertained on Thursday evening at one of the loveliest and most elaborate dances given this season. Wallele, the beautiful home of the Gays, is like a glimpse into fairyland with its bridge across the stream which separates it from the highway. It is built close enough to the mountainside to make it very romantic. On Thursday evening it was beautifully decorated in Japanese and Chinese lanterns and garlands of mountain ferns were festooned about the house in a very artistic manner. The bridge which connects one with the outside world, was strung in Chinese lanterns with electric lights in each and the railings were covered in maile and white ginger. The staircases were trimmed with white ginger and palapalie. Delicious refreshments were served at 11 o'clock. Kaai's orchestra furnished the music. The following friends were the Gays' guests: Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cartwright, Mr. Camponette, Mr. Andrews, Mr. Edwund Hedemann, Dr. Hedemann, Mr. and Mrs. Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tenney, Mr. and Mrs. R.
