Raise Tobacco.

A product of the tobacco industry which used to be thrown away by the ton has become an important item of commerce. The Hopkinsville Kentuckian says:

"Tobacco stems have gone up in price until they are out of sight. Last year the manufacturers here sold them to the citizens to feed their blind horses, but only one or two lucky ones who bought before the first of the year can afford to use them this year. Orders from snuff factories in Germany have caused them to jump up to $1.25 per hundred pounds. Some of the factories want to contract for three years at this price. Those who have used stems heretofore will hereafter have to content themselves with stalks."

For several years past the stems have been bought and shipped in large quantities to Florida for use in fertilizing orange groves.

KENTUCKY LEGISLATURE

FRANKFORT, Feb. 1.—SENATE.—The Senate had no quorum Tuesday, and after a call of the senate, orders of arrest were issued for all the senators who were not known to be sick.

HOUSE.—Mr. Butts put up a resolution in which he hit committees of the houses heavy blow. The resolution set forth the fact that the senate had passed last year 69 bills which were in the hands of the house committees unacted upon, and asked that the committees get to work and try to report them. Somebody else pointed out that the house had passed over 200 bills which were pending in the senate. The house adopted the senate resolution concerning the redistricting of the state into legislative districts. The bill extending the time of certain ex-sheriff's to collect delinquent taxes was passed.

FRANKFORT, Feb. 2.—SENATE.—No quorum present Wednesday.

HOUSE.—Senate bill relating to consolidated corporations, organized under general laws for the purpose of constructing, maintaining and operating bridges across the rivers forming boundary lines of this commonwealth, and declared an emergency, was passed; the committee on school districts reported adversely on house bill 67, which is designed to protect the owners or lessees of lands subject to overflow against the deposit of drift piles thereon, and the bill was ordered to a second reading; the committee also made a like report on house bill 68, amending the attachment laws of the commonwealth, and the same was likewise refused a second reading; house bill providing for the removal of county seats upon the petition of 200 legal voters, and an election in that behalf, was passed; house bill providing for a monthly examination of the books and accounts of the state auditor and treasurer, was passed; house bill 422, permitting courts of claims or local courts to appropriate certain funds heretofore granted in aid of the construction and repair of turnpikes, but unexpended for that purpose. This was reported by the committee on general statutes without expression on a few days ago. The bill was engrossed in the order of the day until Mr. Hoskins, its author, desired to call it up.

FRANKFORT, Feb. 3.—SENATE.—The senate got a quorum together Thursday. The bill fixing the time and terms of the circuit courts was passed, and the bills regulating the operation, works and defining the duties to lands. The bill to add two commissioners to the World's Fair board of managers, who shall serve without compensation, was passed. The governor sent in his veto of the bill introduced by Mr. Berry, of Carroll, known as the "Goodloe" bill, which is an amendment to the revisory commission's chapter providing for the government, management and discipline of the Kentucky penitentiary.

HOUSE.—A number of bills were reported from the different committees, acted up by the resolution adopted Wednesday calling for reports upon seventeen senate bills sleeping in the house committees. The bill defining crimes and felonies, and punishment therefor, and the bill relating to sheriffs and to inmates and other commitments and examinations were given their first reading and ordered printed. The vote by which the house bill allowing counties having less than 30,000 nor more than 75,000 population, to give extra compensation to circuit judges was passed, was reconsidered. It being known that another bill previously passed by the senate makes similar provision, the bill in question was defeated.

FRANKFORT, Feb. 4.—SENATE.—The house bill, Myers and Quigley, relating to mechanics' liens, was defeated because of a general law having been previously passed. The bills concerning the better ventilation of mines and the better protection of operators were passed. The bill relating to landlord and tenant passed.

HOUSE.—The house passed the bill prohibiting lotteries in this commonwealth on Sunday. Mr. Hinton presented a resolution favoring the annexation of Hawaii, which was referred to the committee on foreign relations. Mr. Charlton introduced a local act relating to insolvent debtors. Mr. Pettit, the people's party member from Daviess county, introduced a bill that will site up opposition all over the state. He requires mining companies, underwriters to pay a license of $100 each to the county in which they do business, the proceeds to go to the betterment of roads in the counties. Both bills were referred to committees. The omnibus local option bill was reported from the committee on public morals, and will pass again. There were a number of important measures in the order of the day, but most of them were passed over by general consent. The first taken up was the house resolution for the benefit of the trustees of the jury fund, who paid for too many grand juries last fall a year ago. It was finally adopted and goes to the senate after its journey.

FRANKFORT, Feb. 6.—SENATE.—The senate was again quorumless Saturday. The legislative and judicial redistricting bill introduced the week before came for a time. The provision for dividing counties entitled to two representatives into districts was agreed to.

HOUSE.—Mr. Pettit, the people's party leader, offered a resolution requesting the appointment of a joint committee to investigate whether the joint stock companies engaged in any "pernicious" act in any other state of the Federal Union, and if so, when, how and by whom said indemnities was extracted. Second—Said committee is directed to report what funds, if any, are available for the payment of such alleged indemnities. Third—That said indebtedness, if any, should be paid in specie and at once. Referred to the house janitor. The resolution on federal relations reported favorably on a resolution requesting the Kentucky congressional delegation to vote against the repeal of the law requiring purchases of silver bullion monthly by the United States, reported and in favor of a Kentucky soldiers' home. Mr. Sweeney offered a resolution, which endorses the action of the Kentucky congressmen in the session in congress to consider and vote intelligently upon all economic questions that may be presented to that body. The substitute was put to a vote and no quorum was declared. The substitute was finally withdrawn and the original resolution as reported was passed.

FRANKFORT, Feb. 7.—SENATE.—No quorum again Monday. The handful of senators in their seats listened patiently for a short time to the transaction of a little routine business and adjourned. A petition from citizens of Hopkinsville, asking that a fish law be enacted, was referred to the committee on propositions and grievances.

HOUSE.—The local option bill was reported, enrolled and was ready for enrollment and signature. Mr. Hinton introduced a bill to prohibit railroad companies from prohibiting their telegraphers for sending and receiving of train orders. Referred to committee on railroads. Mr. Leavell introduced a bill authorizing county courts to submit propositions for dividing or striking off territory to legal voters and providing for the transfer of such territory. Referred to the committee on general statutes. The bill practically re-enacting the old law relating to liens and lenders was called up for final action. It had previously been passed by the senate, and provides any advances to infants under eight years of age or to any person who is only temporarily insane. Mr. Barbour offered an amendment making the age limit of lien's twelve years. The amendment was voted down, and the bill passed without change.

E. B. CALDWELL, one of the most prominent magistrates of Lincoln county, was badly injured by a pile of lumber, which fell on him at Waynesburg the other afternoon.

BRAMS BROOKS left three brothers living. They are William G. Brooks, a business man of Boston; Rev. Arthur Brooks, of the Church of the Incarnation in New York, and Rev. John C. Brooks, of Springfield. Rev. Frederick Brooks, another brother, was drowned several years ago.

Mr. Albert [illegible] Gray, kindly asked us to gild our readers the benefit of his experience with colds. He says: "I contracted a cold early last spring that settled on my lungs, and has hardly leaved me from it when I caught another that hung on all summer and left me with a hacking cough which I thought I never would get rid of. I had used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy some fourteen years ago with much success, and concluded to try it again. When I had got through with one suffered with a cough or cold since. I have recommended it to others, and all speak well of it." 50 cent bottles for sale by Louis Drug Co.
