SENOR CASTELAR.

In Mr. Bryant's "Letters from Spain" written in 1857, we find the following description of Señor Castelar, who it seems was already a prominent and promising member of the Democratic party. Mr. Bryant has been describing the ceremony of admitting a candidate to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in the University of Madrid:

"After a strain of music, a young man, sitting on a front bench on the right side of the platform, and dressed in the costume of a doctor of philosophy, turned his face to the presiding officer and began to speak. 'It is Emilio Castelar,' said my Spanish friend; 'he is one of the professors of philosophy, gran democrata, y muy elocuente—he is not more than 24 years old, and yet he is a great advocate.' I observed the young man more narrowly; he had a round youthful face, jet black mustaches, and a bald forehead; he gesticulated with Spanish vivacity, in yellow kid gloves. I was not near enough to hear very well what he said, but his discourse, delivered in earnest, impressive tones, seemed to take a strong hold of the audience, for they leaned forward with deep attention, and at the pauses I could hear the murmur of 'Muy bien! muy bien dicho!'"

THE TRIBUNE ALMANAC REPRINTED.—Complete sets from 1838 to 1868, both inclusive, bound in two volumes. Price $10.
Politicians, Public Libraries, and all others interested, will be glad to know that we have been enabled to reproduce THE TRIBUNE ALMANAC for the years 1838 to 1868, inclusive, excepting 1842, in which year none was issued—comprehending the Politician's Register, and the Whig Almanac, containing Annual Election Returns by States and Counties, lists of Presidents, Cabinets, Judges of the Supreme Court, Foreign Ministers, Governors of States, &c., with Summaries of Acts of Congress, and other Political Statistics. The following introduction to the volumes, by Mr. Greeley, more fully explains their scope:
"In the Fall of 1837—years before the establishment of THE TRIBUNE—the October Elections having developed a popular uprising against the Jackson-Van Buren dynasty which had for ten years seemed invincible—I was moved to issue a POLITICAL REGISTER for 1838, intended mainly to embody the election Returns of that year, and compare them with those of some preceding year. The reception of that little annual was such as to justify its reproduction for each succeeding year—that of 1842 only excepted—until the issue for 1868 will complete a series of thirty annual Registers of Election Returns, with other useful political and statistical matter, afforded for a trifle to each reader, though the preparation of each issue now involves a total cost of more than $1,000. This annual has been known successively as The Politician's Register, Whig Almanac, and Tribune Almanac, under which last name it has been issued for several years past. The stereotype plates of the earlier issues having been consumed in the fire which destroyed THE TRIBUNE building in 1845, it has for some years past been impossible to present the full series of the work at any rate, and the imperfect sets from time to time thrown upon the market have commanded fabulous prices.
"At last the new art of PHOTO-LITHOGRAPHY—as yet in its infancy, but giving promise of great results in the future by no means distant—has rendered it possible to reproduce the old issues at a moderate cost; and it was resolved that a limited number of full sets of the work—at least so far as its contents were not ephemeral—should be photo-lithographed and offered to the public. Of that resolve, the work herewith presented is the fruit. As it will be wholly unique, and of great interest to historians and politicians, I trust that most of the sets may be promptly secured for Public Libraries, where they may be preserved and remain generally accessible. Those who fail to obtain a copy now will probably miss their only opportunity. HORACE GREELEY."
The complete sets of the Register and Almanac are comprised in two neatly bound volumes, and are now ready. Price for the two volumes, $10.
Those wishing to secure these interesting Political Statistics should send in their orders immediately, as only 1,000 copies are printed.
Each order must be accompanied with the cash. Address
THE TRIBUNE New-York.
