MADRID'S MAD MOB.

Generals Campos and Maret Said to Has Been Assassinated.

Denver, May 4, 6:30 p. m.

London, May 4.—The is no doubt but that internal revolution exists in Madrid, causing the government as much uneasiness as the external. Mobs are parading the streets, threatening the overthrow of the Regent government It seems probable from dispatches received from Gibraltar which says that a most alarming rumor prevails regarding the situation in Madrid, and where it is reported that Generals Campos and Meret had been assassinated and that Premier Sagasta has fled to the British Embassy for protection from the fury of the mob. It is only reported that the city and state was in a siege, but it said rioting and firing is in progress in other towns. The report is doubted. The Carlists are exceedingly active and are sending out cieulars to excite the Spanish people in rioting.

Washington, May 4.—The expected battle yesterday between battleship Oregon and the Tamerlario off the coast of Rio Janerio did not take place. It is now learned that the Mamerlario's boilers are in a bad condition, and cable advices say she is still anchored at La Plation, where she will remain some time before she can put to sea. One quarter of the crew has deserted already.

DEMING'S SOLDIER BOYS.

The young men of Deming who have enlisted in the volunteer force of the United States army after going to Silver City to pass an examination will pass through here today en route to the southeast. The Deming force comprises M. C. Rose, James Hamilton, Thomas Darnell, Alexander Thompson, Jr., Clay Fletcher and Young Howard. If the remainder of New Mexico's troop can compare favorably with Deming's sons then they they will suprise the world with their unequaled horsemanship and daring bravery. We predict laurels for our wild west heroes in event of battle.

Intellect Against Intellect.

"If you want to see intellect play against intellect," said a young lawyer, yet in his enthusiasm, believing in equity and the purity of the law, "you should go down to the civil or the supreme court when a big case is being heard. It is not like sitting through a criminal trial. A man's quickness and eloquence are often assisted there by dramatic details, but in the civil or supreme courts a lawyer must depend upon his own brain alone and not upon emotional tricks. What a delight it is for me to listen to the wit, combats and terse arguments of two masters grown gray at the bar! These men have at their command the reading of twoscore years. They are armed with the humor of experience and the cool sight of age. Their intellects, never having been wasted in idleness, are as fresh as a young girl's dream of life and as unerring as a woodman's rifle. When they take up an argument on an important affair, it is not to make a few pointed remarks. They go deep, plunging into the very core of things. If need be they begin to elucidate law from its inception in the remotest confines of ancient civilizations, and they drift easily and gracefully along the centuries, giving a regular compendium of history as they go along. To see these old fellows ordinarily you would imagine that they were sleepy and slow, but when they appear before the bar their frames become erect, their eyes flash and they thunder and roar as if with voices of lions."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Typographical Bulls.

A head writer on the St. Paul Pioneer Press wrote the top line of a "sing head" this way, "Minnesota a Sheep State." The wooden headed murderer of common sense set it up "Minnesota a Cheap Skate." This puts us in mind of two "bulls" made by Gig Martin on the old Omaha Herald in 1886. One night Gig got hold of a chunk of Frank Morrissey's editorial headed "Multum in Parvo," and he set it up "Mutton in Fargo." Once again Martin caught one of Frank's effusions captioned "A Red Letter Day," and printed it "A Red Setter Dog."

But about the worst break ever made on the old Herald was made by Billy Hardy. The style on The Herald in those days was to hyphenate and abbreviate to beat the band. For instance, Farnam street was styled "Farnam-st.," and Capitol avenue as "Capitol-av." Hardy lifted a take of commercial review off the hook one night, and it quoted Bradstreet as saying this and that. Bill, ever mindful of the style and ignoring common sense, arranged the type to read "Brad-st. predicts," etc. Of course it was "marked" on him, but Bill wouldn't have it. He went down into the proofroom and kicked for a "ring," demanding an apology and wanting to know "if they were going to change the d——d style every day."—Dyersville (Ia.) News-Letter.

Her First Thought.

A steamer was passing by a settlement on the shore of one of the great lakes, and along the water front were a few houses built out on piles. An old man and an old woman, evidently traveling that way for the first time, stood by the rail. Presently the woman noticed one of the houses built over the water.

"Well, my gracious, Henry," she exclaimed, "just look at that house! S'posin somebody's taken sick in the night and they have to run for the doctor. Built right out in the solid water. O my Lord!"—Boston Budget.

Miles of Hair.

Few women consider that they carry some 40 or 50 miles of hair on their head. The fair haired may even have to dress 70 miles of threads of gold every morning.

The accuracy of some parts of the locomotive is ten times finer than in the watch, but for absolute measurement the accuracy in the watch is almost three times as fine as in the locomotive.

Twenty years ago England had 11,618 male and 14,991 female schoolteachers. Last year there were 66,310 female and only 20,270 male teachers.

In order that all those who have been discussing the question of what the standing of our home guards will be toward the territorial government we reproduce the following, taken from the Globe-Democrat: — "The Washington Guards of Galveston, Tex., this morning notified Adjt. Gen. Mabry that they would not volunteer to go outside of Texas. Gen. Mabry immediately sent the Captain of the company a telegram ordering him to ship all the guns and equipment of the company to Austin and that the company be immediately disbanded from the state service."—We also publish an extract from a letter from Governor Otero to Col. Richard Hudson.

The following copy of a letter, written in 1595 by a young lady when residing with a lady of rank as attendant in her waiting room, an office carrying no menial service with it and much sought after by the daughters of gentlefolk, may be interesting:

Negroes With Red Hair.

"A man sees lots of funny things while traveling around the country, but the most peculiar sight I ever say was in Omaha the last time I was there," said Charles Killinger of Cincinnati. "While walking along the street there one day I saw two negroes with hair as red as any red hair you ever saw. It was as kinky as the negro wool usually is. It was a funny sight, and I stopped to look at them as they went down the street. A friend of mine who resides there told me those negroes had come from the south some years ago and as far as he knew were full blooded darkies. Six fingered people are not uncommon, but for freaks those darkies took the cake."—Denver Republican.

The Westfield (Ind.) News prints the following in regard to an old resident of that place: "Frank McAvoy, for many years in the employ of the L. N. A. & C. Ry. here, says: 'I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for ten years or longer—am never without it in my family. I consider it the best remedy of the kind manufactured. I take pleasure in recommending it.' It is a specific for all bowel disorders. For sale by J. P. Byron, druggist.
