An Ohio informant of the Philadelphia Press gives a gloomy account of the political situation in that state from a republican point of view. He says the restoration of home rule in Louisiana and South Carolina does not cause so much complaint in the party as the apparent incongruities of the civil service reform. Carl Schurz appears to be the chief object of the hostility of the Ohio republicans who believe he is using his position not in the interests of the reform of the civil service, but to revenge himself for the affronts which he received from leading republicans when in the senate Another cause of dissatisfaction is the persistency with which the policy of resumption is pressed in face of the popular belief that the act of 1873 would be repealed. There is much apprehension among republicans in regard to the threatened speech of Secretary Sherman in favor of forcing through resumption. Great offense has been given by the exertions of the administration in pushing Stanley Matthews for the senate without regard to the rights and feelings of other senatorial candidates. To add to the general demoralization in the republican party in Ohio the office holders have been thrown into utter confusion. While they have more money to spend for political purposes than other people, and are willing to spend it, they are prevented from taking an active part in behalf of the ticket by fear of losing their places. All this the informant of the Press, who is vouched for as having great experience in politics, says is producing a damaging effect on the party which will inevitably lead to disastrous consequences unless the mistakes are repaired.

On the subject of the communistic platform of the Ohio republicans and the speech of their candidate in its favor the corresondent expresses no opinion. He probable approves of such methods of fishing for votes. It appears from his account of the demoralized condition of the republicans of Ohio that the only way to repair damages is to remove Carl Schurz from the cabinet, abandon the policy of resumption for inflation, withdraw support from Stanly Matthews, and recall the circular order to office-holders. As the southern policy of Mr. Hayes is an accomplished fact and cannot be reversed the republicans of Ohio will have to make the most of it. But the other changes in the programme of the administration might be made without much trouble. From present indications they would suit the republican party in Pennsylvania as well as in Ohio. Mr. Hayes should give the subject his earnest attention as soon as he returns from New England.

District Attorney Finney of New Orleans, in a letter to the New York Herald, very summarily disposes of the defence recently made by the members of the Returning Board. Mr. Finney says the delay in bringing the four knaves to justice was due primarily to the failure of the Nicholl's courts to secure execution. As long ago as January the Judge of the Criminal Court charged the Grand Jury with the matter, but owing to the absence of witnesses in Washington it was necessarily postponed, and when in the succeeding April it was taken up as old business the foreman of the jury desided not to make an indictment, simply in the fear that it being a special term of court there might be some doubt as to the jury's power. On 27th of June, however, the jury officially requested the Court to instruct him, as District Attorney, to get the proper information, which he accordingly did without delay and in the usual process of law. The plain sentiment of facts proves conclusively that the prosecution of Wells, Anderson, Kenner and Cossanave is a strictly legal proceeding, brought about without political aid and entirely removed from the range of party strife. Neither Mr. Hayes, Gov. Nicholls, nor any politician of either party have any authority or business to interfere with it, but each and every one should stand by and let the law take its course. The public, be it ever so lenient toward Mr. Hayes, will tolerate no open compromise with crime. —Ex.

The Williamsport Rubber works, the only establishment of the kind west of New Jersey, is now employing about two hundred hands, and under the personal management of Mr. E. H. Burlingame is doing a business of over fifty thousand dollars a month. In the present condition of things such an institution is worth to the city as much as three or four saw mills. Nearly a thousand persons are supported by the wages paid by the rubber company to its employes.

ANOTHER STRIKE

A DEADLOCK AT PITTSTON.

Thirty-Five Hundred Employes of the Pennsylvania Coal Company Go Out.

Special Dispatch to The Times.

Pittston, August 18.—According to a notice posted last night to the effect that the miners and laborers employed by the Pennsylvania Coal Company to meet their bosses at their respective places of work this morning at ten o'clock, at and about each place there gathered all the employes to hear what proposition the company had to make. After calling the different meetings to order the bosses read the following petition, which had been transmitted to each works: "We, the undersigned miners, laborers and other employes of the Pennsylvania Coal Company, do hereby agree to resume work immediately upon the same rates as paid in July, 1877, leaving it to our company to make an advance, should they in their judgment deem it proper so to do." The reading of the paper was in most cases received with a firm "no." Action was then taken and out of three thousand five hundred men and boys employed by this company there was less than 200 that would sign it under any circumstances. The general feeling among the community is, that had the company put up a notice for all the works to start at once there would not have been any trouble, but as it is now the men will not sign the petition nor will they go to work without a raise. It looks as if the company, instead of being afraid of the Scranton miners, had fears of their own employes, or they would not have taken this unwise and injudicious course to stir up a feeling between themselves and the men at this critical moment. As it is now, this is a dead lock between them which time can only tell when it will be broken.

The Lehigh Valley Strikers Arrested.

Special Dispatch to The Times.

Mauch Chunk, August 19.—The railrord companies in the Valley have already caused the arrest and incarceration of upwards of thirty of the late strikers who had committed overt acts and destroyed property. David Litz, a brakeman on the Central road had prevented a train from leaving the round house at this place by drawing the fires from the engine, was arrested to-day and lodged in jail at this place. He was captured in the Pine Swamp, whither he had escaped.

A Whole Regiment Volunteers.

Special Dispatch to The Times.

Bethlehem, August 19.—At a meeting of the company commanders of the Fourteenth Regiment, National Guards, held at Allentown last evening, it was resolved that Colonel Good should offer the service of the entire regiment to the Governor. The meeting was attended by all the commanders but three, and the entire regiment is ready to turn out for a three month's service, or longer if needed. As the Governor had in orders designated the Fourth as the regiment next to be called, it is believed that its services will be accepted. The regiment is about seven hundred and fifty strong, armed with Springfield breach loaders, and uniformed in the regular army fatigue (blue), and in condition to do effective service.

THE HARVEST HOME PICNIC AT LEWISBURG.

Incidents and After-Thoughts.

Much credit is due the committee for the manner in which this great festival was managed. There was no jarring, no friction, everything moved along smoothly and harmoniously. What struck us as especially praise-worthy was the perfect good order and conduct that prevailed the entire day. No drunkenness or rowdyism mentionable occurred from morning till night. It affords us great pleasure to record such a marked improvement in this respect, in the character of large gatherings this summer, and we cherish the hope that it may so continue. Every good citizen will hail with joy every step of progress in this direction.

The most popular and successful institution of the day was the Free Lemonade Stand at Centre County Head Quarters. Business was very brisk here. Not even a vestige of hard times, panic or strike was visible at the Quarters. Box after box of golden lemons was opened, sliced and squeezed; tub after tub was filled and emptied in rapid succession. As fast as ten men could make and deal out the cooling fluid it was consumed by the thirsty multitude. For nearly five hours the stream flowed continuously, until about thirty five barrels of "ice cool lemonade" had been manufactured and given away, free to all. What a happy thought by the committee, what a grand consummation—a free lemonade stand at a Harvest Home Picnic. M. M Musser, of Aaronsburg, acted boss of the shanty, and Squire Reifsnyder, Gust Deininger, Judge Zerby, Harry Tomlinson, Abs. Confer, Cyrus Bright and a Mr. Dunkle, of Spring Mills, were the bar-tenders—and a more obliging landlord and a better set of bar-tenders could not be scared up anywhere.

The people of Union county, especially of Lewisburg, won for themselves golden opinions for the kind manner in which they received and treated their Centre County guests. It seemed to be their study to make us all comfortable and happy. There was nothing within the range of reasonable desires that was not fully and freely provided. Their kindness is appreciated by our people. The iron band of commerce and travel that now unites the two counties is typical of the growing friendship between their people. The business and social ties formed at Spring Mills on July 4th, were much strengthened on the 15th of August.

The only offset to the entire success of the Grand Festival, was its huge proportions. The thing was entirely too big. There was too much of it. You could not see or find any one person in particular—unless by accident—as everything was one vast and dense mass of humanity in every direction. We had hoped to see some of our old friends and to form some new alliances as well, but had to give it all up in despair. A picnic party of one tenth the number that were here present would be much more enjoyable socially. However we give this only as our impression, having no desire whatever to raise a discordant voice where all seems pleasure and happiness.

Such festive occasions cannot be without good and permanent results. The fleeting pleasures of the hour will pass swiftly by, but if the tendency of our better parts move in a proper channel, we will return better men, women and children, They foster a kind fellow-feeling to our race, cultivate sociality between sections and people, and are important aids in the training and education of the young.

J. P. Gephart, of Bellefonte, and D. A. Musser, of Millheim, have associated themselves into a partnership for the purpose of dealing in grain, coal, plaster, &c. It is their purpose to keep a full supply of the best coal in the market always on hand, and to sell them at the smallest living margin.

They will erect large bins under roof, at the old Musser Mill, Millheim, which will be as convenient a place for a coal depot as any could be found in or about town.

We wish the new firm of Gephart & Musser abundant success.

You can read the time table of the L. C. & S. C. rail road in another column.

The total amount of tickets sold and distributed for the Excursion last week was 2422½, distributed as follows:

Bellefonte,	41,
Harris Twp.,	139½,
Potter "	425½,
Gregg, "	708½
Penn, "	454½
Haines, "	528
Miles, "	217½
Tylersville,	7
	2422½

Some four more cars were sent than had been ordered, and this enabled the committee to take many more persons than were provided with tickets.

We are informed that Walls, Smith & Co. have purchased several acres of ground at Coburn Station, Centre Co., for the purpose of erecting a Grain House, Store Room, and Coal Yard, embracing all the ground lying between the Railroad and Penns Creek, opposite the depot. They expect to break ground for the Grain House next week. There are several buildings in process of erection now at this point, among the rest a large hotel, put up by Geo. Stover; another building by a party from Rebersburg, to be used as a tailor shop, and confectionary store. Coburn will no doubt, become the business centre in Centre county.—Mifflinburg Telegraph.

BEAUTIFUL—GOOD—CHEAP!!!

The Journal Office now has for sale the best and cheapest lot of Stationery ever brought to Millheim. We sell best Congress Note Paper at 15 cts. per quire; Best Congress Cap, 20 cts. per quire; Sermon Bath—a very fine article—10 cts. per quire; Beautiful Stellar Papeteries, 24 sheets paper and 24 envelopes, assorted tints, 24 cts. a box; Blank Copy and Composition Books, 5 cts. a piece; Double Thick XX Granite Envelopes, a novelty—very good, 15 cts. per pack; Corn and Canary Envelopes, from 8-12 cts. per pack. Good Lead Pencils, 24 cts. a dozen; The celebrated Spencerian Pens at the same price as other pens; Beautiful Chromos, 10 cts. each. A share of the public patronage respectfully solicited.

It may as well be understood from the beginning that rowdyism, profane and vulgar language, will not be tolerated on the trains of the L. C. & S. C. rail road. Col. Slifer, the President, is a christian gentleman, and will meet such practices, should they threaten to become common, as they deserve. A person holding a ticket can not for that reason do as he pleases on a train. He can ride to a given point on condition of good behaviour. That's the contract and the law, whether so printed on your ticket or not. No one has a right to annoy his felow-passengers by swearing, yelling, noisy and bolsterous conversation or even by running through the train continually. Persons guilty of such conduct can be ejected from trains at any place. We write this in the kindest feelings and hope some of the young men who were at Lewisburg last week will thank us for the information.

Up to the hour of going to press we have no news from Harrisburg that would indicate who will be nominated by the Democratic state convention now in session there. Judge Mayer may by the nominee for the Supreme bench, but Trukey from the west and Furman Sheppard of the Philadelphia bar, now seems to be foremost in the race. Were it not that Sheppard is from Philadelpia, his nomination might be considered certain.

The nomination of Schell for Auditor General seems to be conceded, and that of Col. Noves, of Clinton county, for State Treasurer, very nearly so. However, a day or so will tell who are the lucky ones, and we hope the convention will select the best out of the good material on hand. With acceptable candidates victory seems to be assured.

REBERSBURG FRAGMENTS.

Our boys were home lately on a visit from Milesburg and speak well of the school.

The other Sunday nearly everybody was to the Sugar Valley camp-meeting. Everything passed off without accident.

The Bellefonte Republican, in speaking of the fact that Rebersburg is represented at eight different schools, asks whether Anon means to insinuate that it is about time they send their children away to be educated. In answer I would say that our common schools rank with the best in the county, but that we have no higher institution of learning here, and so many of our young men complete their education at the various institutions throughout the state. In one particular at least Bellefonte is far in advance of us, We have no students at the Pittsburg Penitentiary.

Anon.

For the Journal.

Mr. Editor:—The allusion you make in your paper of the 9th to the good side walks in smaller towns in eastern Pennsylvania, and the wish expressed that a better spirit might prevail in your own town, finds a hearty response throughout our entire valley. We of Brush Valley are often obliged to visit Millheim on business, and it is vexations to find your narrow and ofttimes crowded streets blockaded by wood piles, old racks of wagons, piles of lumber and rubbish generally, your store fronts ornamented with empty boxes and barrels while your side walks at many places are absolutely dangerous to life and limb. It is yet altogether fresh in our memories how a citizen from Nittany Valley fell into a man-trap right in the centre of your town, last winter.

You expect much trade and business from our valley, we know; but you should have at least some regard for our safety and comfort in return. Your citizens, it seems to me, manifest very little public spirit, while the majority of them are fully able to take care of number one, especially when we come to do business with them.

If you can not compel such improvements as are indispensible in a business town, which you are so ready to boast of, you should at once take measures to incorporate yourselves into a borough. Your enterprising men, if you have any, should act without delay.

Hawkeye.

Rebersburg, Aug. 19, 1879.

Sept. 5th is the last day on which you can be assessed in order to vote. See to it for yourself.

Our farmers are busy as beavers plowing and preparing for seeding. The soil is in excellent condition.

Money brought 38½ pr. ct. premium at the last meeting of the Building Association. Who would not have M. B. & L. A. stock?

John Keen has re-roofed his house and bank-building, and removed the old fashioned dormer windows. Quite an improvement, Johnny.

Doctor Mingle has just completed some valuable improvements to his dwelling. Paint and sidewalk would still enhance the appearance of things vastly.

Mr. James N. VanOrmer, who was laid up with a broken leg for some weeks, at New Brighton, Beaver county, returned home on Saturday. He is mending as fast as can be expected.

G. H. Morehouse, Esq., Route Agent for Adams Express Company, was here last week to establish an office at Coburn Station. We understand that a Mr. Huston is to be the express agent.

J. D. Foote & Co., have sent several of their celebrated Keystone Cultivators away out to Nebraska. The next shipment may be to China or Japan, via San Francisco and Pacific Ocean. Whew!

Wash Stover has nearly completed the foundation walls for his new house on Water Street. Wash thinks handling stone is hard work, but we encouraged him all we could and advised him to stick to it.

Maj. Fisher, the substantial merchant at Penn Hall, is now engaged in building a large addition to his store, to be used as a Hard Ware and Stove department. The Major means business on the first floor all through.

Jeremiah Haines and Jonathan Gramly, Executors, will offer the Homestead of George Gramly, deceased, at public sale, Sept. 29th next. This is one of the most desirable properties in or about Millheim. See advertisement in another column.

"Time is Money," and if you desire to have correct time get one of C. H. Held's splendid new clocks. He has just received a very fine assortment of clocks which he offers to sell at bottom prices. No excuse at all for being behind time even in these hard times.

Benjamin Beaver has made an engagement with F. P. Green, of Bellefonte, to sell the popular Family Medicines prepared by Mr. Green, to merchants. Ben's politeness and engaging manners seems to fit him very well for such a business and we hope he will be largely successful.

The camp meeting for Brush Valley circuit, Evangelical Association, begins to-day, about a half mile east of Centre Mills. Let all who go consider that it is a religious meeting they are attending, and let their conduct be such that they will have no reason to be ashamed of it afterwards.

We give place to a correspondence from Rebersburg under the signature of Hawkeye, which goes for us fellows a little more roughly, than is just necessary, but which hits the nail right square on the head in all it says. What say you, citizens of Millheim, to the suggestions of Hawkeye?

"How I wish that my skin was as white and soft as yours," said a lady the other day to a female friend. "You can easily make it so," said the lady addressed. "How?" inquired the first speaker. Use Green's Sulphur Soap. Sold by all Druggists.

Hill's Hair & whisker Dye, black or brown, 50 cts. 4w

Ritchie & Maynard are about publishing a history of Centre County, and we are glad that the job has fallen into such able hands. While at Bellefonte the other day, Mr Maynard read to us the history of Millheim, as far as compiled, and we feel bound to say that it is accurate, interesting and altogether good. Messrs. R. & M. should be liberally encouraged by our citizens.

The Union County Fair will come off, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 4th, 5th and 6th, next and the Lewisburg Chronical already talks of "Excursions" and big crowds from Centre county. Now not so fast, gentlemen. We want it understood from the beginning that there will be no crowd from these diggings unless the Journal throws the weight of its influence in that direction. Remember that fact as you move along. Verstanden?

Bennington, on last Wednesday celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of its sanguinary battle of the Revolutionary war. Mr. Hayes was present as an invited guest, but must have keenly felt the awkwardness of his official position on finding the walls and fences of Bennington placarded with "Fraud Triumphant eight to seven." Wonder if Mr. Hayes would rather not be President than have such nasty things offend his Presidential eye?

At Coburn Station matters are already rather brisk. Considerable freight and a fair sprinkling of passengers arrive daily and business will soon increase rapidly. A handsome and convenient depot building will soon be completed, and it is to be hoped that work on the new road from Millheim to Coburn will be resumed without delay. Such a road as we now have is simply a nuisance, considering the traffic and travel that is already passing over it. Make the road at once. "Let us have peace."

The brick work of the bank building at Centre Hall is up and the concern is approaching completion. It is a large, three story brick edifice of excellent symmetry and proportions; but we could not make out whether the town is too small for the building or the building too large for the town. Perhaps brother Kurtz can help us out of the dilemma. Uebrigens we congratulate the Penns Valley Banking Co., and our neighboring town on their external appearance of wealth. But, then, why don't you have a rail road?

In the No. 60—twelve stop Church Organ, Mr. Daniel F. Beatty, the talented manufacturer of musical instruments, has reached the acme of perfection, it excells in ornate beauty of construction and its richness, power, volume, and sweetness of tone must be heard to be properly appreciated. See his advertisement. All churches who contemplate purchasing should at once address Daniel F. Beatty, Washington, Warren county, N. J., U. S. A.

Executors' Sale.—The undersigned Executors of the last will and testament of George Gramly, late of Millheim, deceased, will offer at public sale on the premises, Millheim, on Saturday, September 29th, 1877, at one o'clock, P. M. the following valuable real estate:

Three Certain Lots, situate in Millheim aforesaid, bounded north by alley and Elk Creek, east by Elk Creek, south by lands of John H. Musser and others, and west by Water street,—containing altogether ninety two perches neat measure. Thereon is erected a large two and a half story plank dwelling house, good barn, shop, and all other necessary outbuildings. A fine variety of choice fruit trees on the premises. A thrifty orchard of apple trees in good bearing condition in the rear of barn.

Also, at the same time, a certain piece of land situate one half mile west of Millheim aforesaid, bounded on the north by Turnpike, on the east by lands of Jacob Nees' estate, on the south by lands of Adam Meyer, and on the west by a lane—containing five acres and six perches neat measure. The same is in a good state of cultivation.

Terms will be made known on day of sale, by

Jeremiah Haines,
Jonathan Gramly,
July 23—6t. Executors.

VEGETINE. Rev. J. P. Ludlow writes:

178 Baltic St., Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov., 14, 1874.

H. R. Stevens, Esq. Dear Sir.—From personal benefit received by its use, as well as from personal knowledge of those whose cures thereby have seemed almost miraculous, I can most heartily and sincerely recommend the Vegetine for the complaints which it is claimed to cure. James P. Ludlow, Late Pastor Calvary Baptist Church, Sacramento, O. 32-4w
