THE MESSAGE.

This annual document, owing to its general importance, is entitled to some remarks.

By these state papers we are informed of the views of the Executive in regard to the various subjects that may from time to time become of primary interest to the people at large. He presents his southern policy, financial views and civil service reform successively, first taking up a large part of the message. It is easy to be observed that he is enjoying no little amount of self-satisfaction because of the succes of his pacification policy, that the promising outlook for permanent success has firmly grounded him in his course, and despite the opposition of the partisan, in his own party he will not falter. To him largely belongs the honor—he can well be proud of the success of the policy. He no doubt had this subject most at heart when he entered upon his duties, it being then the most important problem demanding a solution, and having successfully solved it is most proper to invite the general acceptance of his solution.

A large space is devoted to finance which of course would be in accordance with the views of Secretary John Sherman. Little comfort is given to the anti-resumptionists, by plainly affirming the importance of enforcing the Resumption Act and then return to specie payment at an early date. He would have us believe that a little silver mixed with the circulating medium would be advisable and assist in the return to specie payment, but plain notice is given, that a bill giving us the amount our silver men would have would not meet his approval.

He emphatically denies the propriety or right to pay off the bonds with any other than a gold coin.

Civil service reform is taken up and in a mild way he asserts his devotion to the purpose of reforming the public service. It indicates the qualities of patience and forbearance, for if otherwise he would have made a more direct assault on those who have resisted and made war again it his purposes. The rest of the message is a reference to our friendly relations with foreign powers, the several cabinet reports, and several subjects not of primary importance.

The document presents the characteristics of the man, thoughtful and firm, but not agressive views modestly presented yet stamped with unyielding purpose. No great ability or personality is displayed, but it bears the impress of a strong mind, practical throughout, and ranks favorable as a State paper.

There is one point of great importance to the people of the United States which President Hayes entirely forgot to say anything about, and that is the Electoral Commission business. It would be interesting, perhaps profitable, to know what he thinks of the matter, and as he is of rasher an accomodating disposition and tries so hard to please everybody it is the more strange that he withholds his views on a subject on which all parties desire him to take the floor. One thing is true, namely that in his inaugural, messages and speeches, he never yet claimed to have been elected. He is simply mum on that point, and doubtless thinks the less said on it the better; but that course is hardly fair to the people, and we suggest that he send in a special message on the subject.

A FORMER RESIDENT HANGED.—On the 25th of September last, Anderson Shiflet was hanged at Harrisonburg, Va., for the murder of a man named Lawson. The following is the account of the hanging:

Shiflet made a dying statement to his spiritual advisor, asserting his innocence of the actual murder, but acknowledging that he knew Lawson was to be killed. As the rope holding the trap door was cut the doomed man fell to the ground, the rope being broken. Shiflet uttered a groan and was again lifted to the scaffold. Here he renewed his lamentations, exclaiming "God knows I am innocent." A second and stronger rope was procured. While it was being adjusted he asked Deputy Sheriff Bowman to raise the black cap from his eyes so that he might look upon the light once more. His request was granted, and turning toward the spectators he said with some firmness: "Gentlemen, I bid you all good bye." The second attempt of the sheriff was successful, and the doomed man was swung into eternity.

This unfortunate man resided in Lock Haven for several years, on Water Street just below where Hile Myers, resides. He left here about 1865 or '66. He was sometimes called Shippey, but his true name was Shiflet. Our informants, who knew him well, say he was known here as a "sporting man."—Clinton Democrat.

ROBBERIES IN LOCK HAVEN.

Last Saturday night burglars entered the residence of Mr. Geo. W. Hipole through a window and stole a dozen solid silver teaspoons, a wedding gift to Mrs. H. from her father. The thieves wanted only the best, as they broke a plated spoon to try if it was solid silver, and left that kind of ware.

At the residence of Mr. Dudly Blanchard they got through a bay window, it is thought, and took from the room in which they were sleeping a lady's gold watch and a gold chain, valued together at $250. The was No. 28,843. Humbert watch, Geneva, maker. They also took $3 out of Mr. B's. pantaloons, and a sett of solid silver spoons, a bridal gift to Mrs. Blanchard from her father. While the thieves were operating, she though she heard some one in the house and said so. He made a little reconnoissance and returned satisfied that everything was all right, but the morning disclosed the truth of Mrs. B's. fears. The rogues missed some things, especially $100 in the bureau, part proceeds of the Episcopal Thespian entertainment. Mr. Blanchord offers $100 for the capture of the thieves, or $50 for information that will recover the articles.

At Mr. Samuel Christ's they took his overcoat and that of Mr. Frank Fields.

The burglars tried Mr. Geo. Strayer's, upset a crock getting in the window and left. They also paid their respects to Mr. Crider's, but came away empty handed; and it is suspected that they tried but failed to get in Mr. Good's and Mr. Newton Frederick's.

In addition to the above, which was evidently done by professionals, the following are some petty thieving of recent date: From S. H. Frederick's cellar a quantity of lard; T. C. Kintzing's ice-house, 18 pounds butter; Dr. Hayes', G. B. Perkins, and J. W. Harris' clothes lines cleaned; Mrs. McGhee's hen roost. No arrests.

A full line of Clothing for men and boys—at Boyer's. Very cheap.

A Mr. Orwig shot a wild turkey in Lewis township, Union county, weighing 23 pounds.

The oil well at Hyner, Clinton Co. is now 1900 feet deep, and is still only an imaginary oil well.

Matelasse Cloaking for ladies at Boyer's, $2.75 per yard, very latest style.

The Telegraph is up and we are now in lightning communication with Union county and the balance of the world. Progress.

Col. M'Clure, of the Philadelphia Times, spent several days in Bellefonte, and brother Meek had the pleasure of a call by the popular journalist.

Linn's Annals of Buffalo Valley.

Copies of the above valuable local history of the far-famed Buffalo Valley may be obtained of R. F. Brown, Lewisburg Daniel Derr, Bellefonte, or at the JOURNAL BOOK STORE, Millheim. Price $2.

After December 1st the subscriber will be prepared to carry express packages and small bundles and boxes of goods, from Coburn Station to Millheim, Aaronsburg Woodward, and all points along the line, at reasonable charges. The patronage of the public respectfully solicited.

J. WILLIS MUSSER.

All colors in Two Fly Maroon Heading Fringe, silk tied, at 30 cts yard, at Boyer's.

Everybody that sees it is pleased with the Journal Book Store, and almost everybody buys something before leaving. Our stock of goods is full, select, and constantly increasing, our prices are all down on the ground floor—and then we (plural) are such pleasant, clever and accommodating fellows that people seem to consider it a pleasure to buy of us. Fact.

The following we clip from the Bellefonte Republican:

A teacher in one of our Sunday schools asked her scholars this question: "Did you know you were all born in sin?" "Oh, no, said one bright little girl of five summers, "I was born in Milesburg." "Well, it is all the same said the teacher;" "but don't interrupt me."

Never knew that "sin" and "Milesburg" are synonymous terms. Brother Tuten. Is it because both are so intensely Republican?

Mr. Louis Haas, the proprietor of the Bellefonte Brewery came to our town the other week and delivered a wagon load of the best beer to the lan llord of the Millheim Hotel, Mr. W. S. Musser. We call the attention of our readers to the fact, that Mr. Musser sells the beer at the same low figures, it can be obtained at the brewery in Bellefonte. Give it a trial. 2t.

At Boyer's you can buy the finest Fur Hats at $2 00. Best style.

At present the streets of our cities and larger towns are enlivened during day time and in the evening by a vast mass of people, examining and admiring the splendid display of Christmas Goods in the large and brightly illuminated show-windows. In our own town the show-window of the JOURNAL BOOK STORE contains a fine lot of Holiday Goods, which is increasing every day. Come and look.

Christ Alexander is a real down greedy fellow, even if he is a granger, and seems determined to be at the head of the class all the time. He always has the biggest corn ears and the most of them, he hauled away the first load of goods ever brought to the Forks by rail, and now he brings the first load of wheat ever received there for shipping. He ought to be ashamed of nimself—that's what he ought.

Boyer sells the best Calico at 5½ and 6¼ cent per yard.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A two year-old child of Archie Munro, of Farrandsville was scalded to death last week by upsetting a tub of hot water upon itself.—Clinton Democrat.

Miss: A word in your ear. The next fine afternoon that you saunter out, buy a box of GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP. That admirable purifier will remove every one of those pimples which detract so much from your beauty. Sold by all Druggists. There is Youth in every bottle of HILL'S HAIR DYE.

It makes us about half mad to see how our oyster merchants put on airs. They walk our streets dressed in broadcloth and fine linen, just like a sett of bloated bond-holders, as if there was no work to do all the year round. But let any of these aristocrats whet her Lion or Bear, come out for office, and the Journal will go for them red hot.

The Laurel Wreath, single or double, is the best parlor stove, and the Economy and Zenith the best cooking stoves in use. They are all made at Lewisburg by the Slifer, Walls & Shriner Company, and if by accident any part or piece gets broken, you can get another in a day. Just read the advertisement in another column.

J. Newman, Jr., of the Eagle Clothing Hall, Bellefonte, Pa., keeps up his reputation as the boss clothier in Centre county. Newman understands his business thoroughly and sells lower than any other house in his line in Central Pennsylvania. Overcoats, winter suits, gloves, boots, hats, underwear, and in fact everything in the line of Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods, of the best quality and at the lowest prices. Patronize Julius—he will do the square thing by you.

Having obtained special rates on COAL OIL to Coburn Station we are now prepared to sell by the barrell to dealers at the same price they would be charged either at Sunbury or Williamsport.

tf SMITH & Co.

REBERSBURG FRAGMENTS.

Plenty—sausages.

Wanted—a foot of snow.

The Co. Superintendent has been visiting our schools the last few days.

Our teachers will attend the County Institute en masse.

Jesse Long sold his property at Rockvill to John S. Fisher, for $15-00, and gives possession in a few days.

J. R. Brungard has resigned as teacher of the Rebersburg Primary School, and A. E. Wolf, has becomr his successor.

Mr. Jerry Kessler and lady, who have been visiting their many friends throughout our valley for the last month, have again left for their home in Rockport, Ill. Don't forget us, Jerry, but come soon again.

ANON.

SPRING MILLS ITEMS.

Our school is flourishing under the direction of Prof. W. A. Krise.

Krumrine & Sons shipped their first car load ot wheat last week.

J. D. Long has added to his saddler shop a first class stock of leather which he sells very cheap.

Hicks & Bro. do a rushing business in the stove line. They sold five in one day and it was a poor day at that. They are enterprising men and advertise. Success to Messrs. Hicks & Bro.

And now we have the "Telegraph" to this place. It is generally supposed that D. Wallace Duncan will be the operator.

The young man "Cain" of this place of which the Watchman gives an account, who had a paralytic stroke while in Bellefonte, last week, is getting along right well, and his attending physician has hopes of his speedy recovery.

YONEY.

Says the Lock Haven Democrat: The recent flood brought in about 12,000,000 feet in logs. Flynn & Merrill's drive didn't get in. It is hung up at Westport, and will be there till there is water enough to bring it in, which may be this fall, and it may be not till next spring. In the latter case they'll have to be hauled out and cared for. There is about 4,000,000 feet in the drive.

Square timber went off at better prices than ruled in the spring. Pine 8 to 13; Oak 6 to 9; and Hemlock 4 to 5 cents. Most of it was sold; the balance is harbored in the mouth of Bald Eagle, numbering 35 40 rafts.

The mills started by this rise are Pardee & Cook's, W. A. Simpson's Brown, Shouse, & & Co's, and Bridgens & Mann's.

BEWARE OF STRANGERS, GIRLS.—The Pittsburg papers print the antemortem statement of Jennie Hamilton, of Milroy, Mifflin county, who was enticed away from her home under promise of marriage, and ruined by a drummer for a school furnishing house in Cincinnati, named Charles Rose. In her statement she said that Dr. Schmauser, of Allegheny, to whom she had applied for relief without knowing the cause of her illness, performed an operation upon her at two different times. Dr. Schmauser has been arrested and is in jail. The papers speak of her as a beautiful girl of about 23 years. This is another sad warning to thoughtless girls, who, blinded by momentary passion and the blandishments of heartless scoundrels, rush into engagements which result only in a world of misery and unhappiness, and, probably, a shameful death. Girls, shun all association with men you do not know to be honorable, and be particularly guarded against the licentious "drummer."—Altoona Tribune.

DENIES THE CHARGE.—Dr Thomas Rothrock at home.—Dr. Thomas Rothrock, of Beech Creek, whom the papers have been heralding over the country as the absconding abortionist in the Winslow case, and whom the sharpest detectives have been hounding, hears of the charge against him, hastens home from the hospital where he was being treated for disease, and in open court, in Bellefonte, last Friday enters bail for his appearance at Lock Haven, to defend himself. He denies the charge in toto, and defies his accusers, and also asks a suspension of the public judgment until the facts are known. We intimated in the WATCHMAN last week that matters were getting along rather fast in Dr. Rothrock's case, and from the way in which he has met the charge there is every reason to believe that he will prove himself entirely innocent of the disgraceful and criminal accusation.—Watchman.

THE FORKS.—After an absence of some weeks we visited the Forks again on last Thursday and are happy to say that the spirit of improvement is alive and active down there. Smith & Co's large grain elevator and R. R. siding are complete and in working order. Grain is hoisted from the wagons by horse power. Mr. Christ. Alexander has the honor of having delivered the first wheat ever marked ad the Forks.

Mr. Samuel Hackman has his boss restaurant a-running and seems to be getting along quite cleverly.

The Forks House, under the management of mine host Perry, and his estimable lady, is an established success already. Mr. Stover assures us that he has a good and increasing custom, and judging from the excellent manner in which the Forks House is conducted, there is no reason to doubt it in the least.

The one public place which we did not get time to visit—Greninger's store—is said to be doing a fair business.

In and about the Depot everything indicates business. The waiting room is now provided with good, comfortable seats and a stove that would warm up Greenland, when in full blast. The freight room is chuck full of goods for Penns, Brush and Sugar vallies. Large quantities of freight are brought to Coburn continually, and the Depot building is getting too small already, but "we told them so"—the rail road ossifers namely, that Coburn would be the Boss Station on the route, and that they should give us a larger Depot. They can now see what comes of not heeding the advice of men of judgment. That's all.

A KIND REQUEST.

It is now about the season of the year that people think of paying their small debts, such as taxes, shoe-maker's and tailor's accounts, subscriptions to preachers, and—we fondly hope—their printers. We have labored industriously and according to the best of our ability to give our readers a good, readable local paper, and have received but a small sum on subscription, during the year. Make up your mind when you read this, to pay your subscription between now and Jan. 1st, and do it. We need money—constantly—for current and living expenses, and if we get what is due us we can get along well enough considering the times. Please remember—between now and Jan. 1.

Don't buy the old style Ball Fringe, when you can get the Two Fly Fring, at Boyer's, for only 30 cents per yard.

THE silverware delivered by the National Silver-Plating Co., No. 704 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, is giving entire satisfaction. All orders are promptly filled, and no one need hesitate about sending them money.—Lutheran Observer.

NOTICE.—All persons knowing themselves indebted on the road and school tax duplicates for the year 1876, are hereby notified to pay up within ten days from the date of this notice. All taxes remaining unpaid after that time will be collected forthwith as the law directs. Dec. 13th, 1877. COLLECTOR.

Money brought 3⅝ per cent, premium for permanent loan, at the meeting of the M. B. & L. Association on Monday evening. The books of the Association are now open for stock subscriptions on Series 4. Apply to the Secretary or Treasurer.

Sammy Faust, residing over at Spring Bank, is certainly one of the cleverest fellows out of jail, and we doubt very much whether there are any quite as clever in jail. Think of it, dear reader, here we have been sitting and waiting a la Grant, for some of our patrons to bring presents around, but unlike Grant we didn't get any—not even a few bushels of apples or a turkey to aid us in our Thanksgiving devotions. How hard. The other day, however,—yes the other day, Dec. 10th, A. D. 1877, our poor heart was made glad—we almost wept big tears of gratitude and joy, for Sammy Faust sent us a sausage of such enormous size that all feeling of want is banished from our poor heart, for this winter at least. Sammy knows how to make the hearts of the poor rejoice. He knows that giving to the poor is lending to the Lord; and if we get to Kingdom Come before he does, we will do our utmost to keep a reserved seat in waiting for him Next!

"A great newspaper in every sense of the phrase" is the judgment of journalists and the people upon the Philadelphia WEEKLY TIMES. Not yet a year old, this weekly paper has achieved a success in circulation as well as in influence that is without parallel. It comprises eight pages or fifty-six columns, full to overflowing with readable matter gleaned from every part of the wide fields of Politics, Literature, Science and Art. The editorial page abounds in crisp comments on the news of the day, embodying careful and independent views, tersely expressed. The departments relating to Home and Society and the Farm and Garden make it welcome at every fireside, and offer from week to week temptations that are irresistable to the scissors of an editor. Fiction, poetry and sketches of travel and adventure find a place in every number. But the great distinctive feature of the Philadelphia WEEKLY TIMES is its current series of chapters on the UNWRITTEN HISTORY OF THE WAR. Every one of these is from the pen of a prominent actor in the late conflict between the States, and describes some phase of the war that came within his own personal observation. No newspaper ever before presented such an array of contributors as appear in this department. Among them are such men as Hon. Carl Schurz, Hon. A. H. Garlitz, General Joseph E. Johnson, General Joseph Hooker, General James Longstreet, Hon. John W. Forney, General G. T. Beauregard, General William B. Franklin, Hon. John H. Reagan, Hon. Simon Cameron, General Richard Taylor, General John C. Fremont, and such women as Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, Mrs. E. E. Briggs ("Olivia,") and Mrs. Jessie Benton Freemont. The prospectus of the WEEKLY TIMES appears in another column. At this season when people are selecting their newspapers for the next year, no one should fail to send for and examine a specimen copy of this truly remarkable journal.

Daniel F. Beatty's PIANOS & ORGANS.

CAUTION.—The reputation I have gained and the celebrity of my organs, have induced some unprincipled parties and agents to copy my circulars, and misrepresent my instruments; against this the public are hereby cautioned. All my organs bear my trade-mark, Golden Tongue, and all my Pianos have the word PIANO underlined and also have my name on the sound board, Washington, New Jersey, without which none is genuine.
