LITERARY NOTES.

A volume of "Lettres Posthumes de Prévost-Paradol" has been published at Brussels by Lebègue.

Charles Kingsley intends to publish a new edition of his poems, which will contain several pieces that have not hitherto been collected.

A translation of Comte's chief work, "La Politique Positive," in four volumes, is in preparation by his English disciples, Dr. Bridges, Mr. F. Harrison, Prof. Beesley, Dr. Congreve, and Mr. H. Dix Hutton.

The Rev. G. W. Cox, M. A. (author of "Mythology of the Aryan Nations"), and Mr. E. Hinton Jones are preparing a work to be entitled "Popular Romances of the Middle Ages," in which they will endeavor to give, in a popular prose form, some of the earlier Metrical Romances. It is to comprise the stories of "Arthur," "Roland," "Bevis of Hampton," "Guy of Warwick," "Sir Tristram," "Merlin," "Havelok," "Ogier," and "Beowulf," together with notes and an introduction tracing the comparative mythology of these stories in their relation to older myths.

University College, London, has recently been enriched by several valuable donations and legacies. Mr. Grote left £6,000 for the endowment of a chair of Mental Philosophy, and Mr. James Yates legacies to be similarly applied for the teaching of Geology and Archæology. The treasurer of the College has given an endowment of £200 for five years for the chair of Applied Mathematics, and the late Prof. Graves left a legacy to the College, without a rival of its kind, in the shape of a Mathematical Library, consisting of more than 10,000 volumes, beside some 500 pamphlets.

HORACE GREELEY'S NEW BOOK. Another Edition Just Ready.

WHAT I KNOW OF FARMING.
WHAT I KNOW OF FARMING.

One of the best books ever published upon the subject. It does not consist of a lot of dry, dull essays upon Agriculture, that no one can be interested in, but is a work written by one of the greatest as well as one of the simplest writers in the world, in his most agreeable manner.

Mr. Greeley has written this book in the plainest and simplest manner. He says: "I hope to be generally accorded the merit of having set forth the little I pretend to know in language that few can fail to understand."

Mr. Greeley closes his book: "With the joyful trust that these essays, slight and imperfect as they are, will incite thousands of young farmers to feel a loftier pride in their calling and take a livelier interest in its improvement, and that many will be induced by them to read abler and better works on Agriculture, and the sciences which minister to its efficiency, and impel its progress towards a perfection which few, as yet, have even faintly foreseen."

The book is a remarkable one, and the good sense, excellent advice, and valuable hints that it abounds in make it really valuable to any one in any sort of business, occupation, or profession.

"." The book is published in a very handsome style. Beautifully printed, bound in elegant cloth covers, with gilt back.

PRICE $1 50.

G. W. CARLETON & Co., Publishers, Madison-square, New-York.
