THE REVISED CATECHISM.

First class in modern Moral Philosophy stand up and recite:

What is the chief end of man?

A. To get rich.

In what way?

A. Dishonestly if we can; honestly if we must.

Who is God, the one only and true?

A. Money is God. Gold and greenbacks and stock—father, son, and the ghost of the same—three persons in one: these are the true and only God, mighty and supreme; and William Tweed is his prophet.

Name the twelve disciples.

A. St. Ass's Colt Hall, whereon the prophet rode into Jerusalem; St. Connolly, the beloved disciple; St. Matthew Carnochan, that sitteth at the receipt of customs; St. Peter Fisk, the belligerent disciple; St. Paul Gould, that suffereth many stripes and glorieth in them; St. Iscariot Winans; St. Jacob Vanderbilt, the esteemed disciple; St. Garvey, the chair-itable; St. Ingersoll, of the holy carpets; St. N. Y. Printing Co., the meek and lowly, that letteth not its right hand know what its left hand taketh; St. Peter Hoffman, that denied his (Irish) master when the public cock had crowed six or seven times; St. Barnard, the wise judge, who imparteth injunctions in time of trouble, whereby the people are instructed to their salvation.

How shall a man attain the chief end of life?

A. By furnishing imaginary carpets to the Court-House, apocryphal chairs to the armories, and invisible printing to the city.

Are there other ways?

A: Yea. By purchasing the quarantine apostle for a price; by lightering shipmen of all they possess; by proceeding through immigrants from over sea; by burying the moneyless at the public charge and transhipping the rest 10 miles at $40 a head. By testing iron work for buildings. By furnishing lead and iron gas-pipes to the Court-House and then conveying the impression in the bill that they were constructed of gold and silver and set with diamonds. By taking care of the public parks at $5 an inch. By loafing around gin mills on a salary under the illusion that you are imparting impetus to a shovel on the public works.

Are these sufficient? If not, what shall a man do else, to be saved?

A. Make out his bill for ten prices and deliver nine of them into the hands of the prophet and the holy family. Then shall he be saved.

Who were the models the young were taught to emulate in former days?

A. Washington and Franklin.

Whom do they and should they emulate now in this era of larger enlightenment?

A. Tweed, Hall, Connolly, Carnochan, Fisk, Gould, Barnard, and Winans.

What works were chiefly prized for the training of the young in former days?

A. Poor Richard's Almanac, the Pilgrim's Progress, and the Declaration of Independence.

What are the best prized Sunday-school books in this more enlightened age?

A. St. Hall's Garbled Reports, St. Fisk's Ingenious Robberies, St. Carnochan's Guide to Corruption, St. Gould on the Watering of Stock, St. Barnard's Injunctions, St. Tweed's Handbook of Morals, and the Court-House edition of the Holy Crusade of the Forty Thieves.

Do we progress?

A. You bet your life!

Yours truly, MARK TWAIN.

PROFESSOR ROBERTS would respectfully announce to his pupils, friends, and also to Principals of Schools, that he is now prepared to resume tuition in DANCING and CALISTHENICS, and is ready to negotiate with Institutes, Academies and private families. Prof. Roberts has had an experience of 15 years, and great success has attended his previous efforts, and secured for him the most prominent position in this particular branch of a thorough education. Particular attention given to young Ladies, Misses and Masters, as regards elegance of manner, which he flatters himself is the characteristic of those who have profited by his instructions. Ladies and Gentlemen wishing to form classes will be attended at their residences either in or out of the city. Prof. Roberts will also introduce this season, figures of the German which are entirely new and novel.
HIGHEST TESTIMONIALS GIVEN.—Prof. Roberts has taught Dancing in our Institution with great acceptance. In his method of teaching, and gentlemanly bearing, we think he has no superior in his profession, and he will compare favorably with Mr. Charland, who for many years was THE teacher of Dancing in New-York City. Parents and Guardians who are seeking a suitable Instructor for their children and wards, in this accomplishment, would do well to secure Prof. Roberts's valuable services.—New-Brunswick, N. J., Sept. 20, 1870. The Misses BUCKNALL; N. A. LESPINASSE, Ft. Washington French Institute; A. J. S. NEWBERRY, M. D., LL.D., Geology and Palæontology.
The plan of this School embraces five three-year courses for the Degree of Engineer of Mines or Bachelor of Philosophy, viz.: I. Mining Engineering. II. Civil Engineering. III. Metallurgy. IV. Geology and Natural History. V. Analytical and Applied Chemistry.
REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.—Candidates for a degree must be at least 18 years of age, and must, unless graduates of colleges, pass a satisfactory examination in algebra, geometry, and plane, analytical, and spherical trigonometry, physics, and general chemistry. There is a preparatory year for those not qualified for the regular course, which may be entered at the age of 17 years. Persons not candidates for a degree may, by special arrangement, pursue any of the branches taught in the School without previous examination.
Pecuniary aid extended to those not able to meet the expenses of the School.
The next session begins Oct. 2, 1871. The examination for admission will be held on FRIDAY and SATURDAY, Sept. 29 and 30. For further information and for catalogues, apply to
