FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

MONEY AND STOCKS.

New York Financial Market.

NEW YORK, March 27.—Money—1 per cent. Prime Mercantile Paper—4@5 per cent.

Government Bonds—Quiet and unchanged, except an advance of ¼ per cent. in coupon 4s.

Railway Bonds—Market quiet and prices generally higher.

State Securities—Dull and steady.

The stock market is very sensitive to European war news, all day the disposition being to buy. On reports that further complications between England and Russia were probable and sell on more pacific statements. In regard to the trouble between those two countries, the fact that speculators have faith in an advance in prices in case war should be declared is shown by the number of telegrams received the past two days by leading commission houses ordering purchases of stocks on the open declaration of war At the same time conservative operators, including some of the leading financial men of the city, do not hesitate to express the opinion that the first effect of a European war would be to depress prices of nearly all securities dealt in on the Stock Exchange, and they cite the experience of this country following the Franco-Prussian war as evidence of the correctness of their theory. There were also some local circumstances which tended to influence the course of special stocks, including the declaration of a dividend of 2 per cent. for the current quarter by the Directors of the Lackawanna Company, which was followed by a decided advance in price of that stock, although it was generally understood there would be no change in the amount of the dividend to be declared. The Lake Shore Directors to-day, for the second time, passed a quarterly dividend, and, although it was also very generally stated prior to the meeting that no dividend would be declared, the action of the Directors had a depressing effect on the price of the stock. The last dividend was paid November 1, 1884, and was 1½ per cent. The Michigan Central Directors also passed their dividend, but it has been so long since this company paid anything to its stockholders that this action had no effect on the price of stock. In fact, there was not a sale of the stock to-day on the Stock Exchange. The market at the opening was somewhat irregular. Early dealings, however, developed considerable strength, which was quickly followed, however, by lower prices, and in a majority of cases the lowest quotations of the day were made before noon. Stimulated by news from abroad, the market began to advance about midday, and although irregular and feverish, many of the stocks made decided gains during the afternoon, and final sales were in most cases very near the highest prices reached. Leading commission houses continue to complain of the dull condition of the market. Northwestern opened at 91¼, sold down to 90¾, and in the general rally again touched 91¾, at which it closed, a loss of ¼ per cent. It has been rumored that additional bonds were to be issued by the Northwestern Company at an early date. Inquiry at the company's office elicits the statement that the Northwestern Company has no intention of issuing any more bonds, but new bonds will probably be issued soon on some of its extensions built recently, including particularly the extension to Black Hills. The next cash dividend on 10,000 shares of the Northwestern common was sold this afternoon for 3 per cent. The regular dividend has been 3½ per cent. Representatives of the Pacific Mail say there is no truth in the statement that the matter of settlement of the subsidy has been left by agreement to President Houston, of the Pacific Mail, and Vice President Huntington, of the Central Pacific.

Transactions on Stock Exchange aggregated 241,000 shares, of which 48,000 were Lackawanna, 27,000 Lake Shore, 24,000 Northwestern, 12,000 New Jersey Central, 27,000 Pacific Mail, 410,000 St. Paul, 19,000 Union Pacific.
