"LET ME KISS HIM FOR HIS MOTHER."—The editor of the New Orleans Advocate has this incident about the ravages of the yellow fever in that city, related to him by one of the Methodist pastors:

"The preacher was called a few days since to attend the funeral of a young man. Before his sickness he was a stout, buoyant, manly youth. He was from the State of Maine, and had been here but a short time. He was attacked by yellow fever, and soon died, with no mother or relative to watch by his bed-side, or to soothe him with that sympathy which none but those of our own 'dear kindred blood' can feel or manifest.—He died among strangers, and was buried by them. When the funeral service was over, and the strange friends who had ministered to him were about to finally close the coffin, an old lady who stood by, stopped them and said, 'Let me kiss him for his mother.' We have yet to find the first man or woman to whose eye this simple recital has not brought tears."

A CURIOUS CURE.—A correspondent of the Clinton Courier, in Westmoreland, relates a very singular cure:

"Mrs. B., some two years since, was thrown from her horse, and sustained an injury to her hip which from that day to this has baffled the skill of the physicians of this vicinity; gradually her limb shortened, so that standing upright her toes touched the floor, and by the aid of crutches it was barely possible for her to take a dozen steps, perhaps, each day. From pining her severely only at intervals, she came to be at last in constant agony, and at night it was only by her husband placing his feet around her feet and pushing the limb towards the foot of the bed, that she could obtain rest. About three weeks since, as her husband was relieving her in this manner as was his wont, the limb suddenly gave way. Mrs. B. uttered a fearful cry of pain, and the bone slipped into its socket. For two years she had been suffering from a hip out of joint.—The lady soon regained the use of her limb, and is now almost as well as ever."

IT COMES AT LAST.—Political retribution, though slow, is tolerably sure. It has been in pursuit of the Indiana Democracy nearly five years, but it is about overtaking them at last.

When the Nebraska Bill was passed in 1854 both the Senators from that State (Bright and Pettit) voted for it. Pettit's term expired the next year. Bright's not till 1857. But as the Indiana Legislature only meets biennially, and as there was then a Nebraska majority in one House or the other, at each of the succeeding sessions, no meeting for joint ballot could be had, and nothing was done. Finally, however, the Democrats, by illegal and informal action, obtained what they called a Joint Convention, with a Democratic majority in it, and thereby elected Mr. Bright for another term and Dr. Fitch to fill out the term of Pettit.

But this high-handed proceeding recoiled on its authors, by leading to the election, last fall, of a Legislature pledged to rebuke and annul it. This has been done by the joint votes of the Republicans and Anti-Lecompton Democrats. If the Administration leaders at Washington are wise, they will acknowledge the validity of the claim of Lane and McCarty. Should they refuse, they will lay up a store of defeats for themselves in Indiana for a long time to come.—Alb. Jour.

A CURIOUS CASE.—On Tuesday last a carriage was driven to the gate of the Pennsylvania Hospital. From it alighted a man, suffering from a wasting disease, who applied for and was granted admission as a patient. He was a man of perhaps fifty years of age, and had arrived in this country only in October last. His name was Francois Morin, his native place Rheims. His polished language distingue appearance despite his poverty—interested the physicians in his recovery. During his brief residence at the hospital—for he died on Sunday night—he was delirious a large portion of the time. In his lucid moments he would speak of a child, which he said, he had left in New York, he having come to Philadelphia for medical advice. It is not known by whom he was accompanied to the hospital, but as he was a person who had seen prosperous days, it is conjectured that there may be some interested in knowing that he now lies dead at the hospital, with none of his kin to fulfil the last offices to his remains.—Phil. North Amer.

AMUSING.—At Durham Assizes a very deaf old lady, who had brought an action for damages against a neighbor, was being examined, when the Judge suggested a compromise, and instructed counsel to ask her what she would take to settle matters. "What will you take?" asked the gentleman in the bob-tailed wig of the old lady. The old lady merely shook her head at the counsel, informing the jury, in confidence, that "she was very hard o' hearing." "His lordship wants to know what you will take?" asked the counsel again, this time bawling as loud as ever he could in the old lady's ear. "I thank his lordship kindly," the ancient dame answered stoutly, "and if it's no ill convenience to him, I'll take a warm ale." [Roars of laughter.]—Eng. paper.

QUICK WORK.—One day last week an Irish servant girl in this town, having finished her day's work, including the "washing," obtained a half hour's furlough, "to see a gintleman friend." The half extended to the whole hour when Bridget appeared blushing and half smiling. "If you plaze, ma'am, I must lave you to-day, for I'm to be married if you plaze, to-night, ma'am." "Why, what does this mean, Bridget?" enquired her mistress; "I never heard you were engaged." "No more was I, ma'am; but a boy just now from the ould counthry wants me to have him, and me cousin thinks I had betther, and so I towld him I would." And she did.—Pittsfield Eagle.

DEAD BODIES SEEN AT SEA.—Captain Spencer, of the packet ship Daniel Webster, from London, arrived in New York last Friday night, reports: Sept. 20, in lat. 43 30, lon. 43, on the outward passage, passed a large number of dead bodies, swollen and distorted, with the sea birds preying on them. They were, no doubt, of the steamship Austria's passengers.—They were near together, in groups of two and three.—Alb. Journal.

GOOD.—Without a dissenting voice, the House of Representatives of Georgia has passed a bill repealing all laws which authorize lotteries in that State, and prescribing certain penalties for all schemes and sales of tickets after the 1st of June, 1860.

Chancery Sale.

BY virtue of a decretal order of the Circuit Court for the county of Ingham, in Chancery, made on the seventh day of October, A. D. 1858, in a case wherein John T. Wilson and Orson W. Bennett, are complainants, and Almon M. Chapin and Jane Chapin are defendants, I, the subscriber, the Circuit Court Commissioner for Ingham county, Michigan, will sell at public auction, at the Court House, in the village of Mason in said county of Ingham, on Saturday, the twelfth day of February, A. D. 1859, at one o'clock in the afternoon of that day, the lands in said decretal order described as follows, to wit: The south east quarter of section thirty three, (33,) in township number two north of range number one west, in the county of Ingham and State of Michigan.

J. G. RAMSDELL, Circuit Court Commissioner for Ingham Co. Mich.

O. M. BARNES, Sol. for Complts.

Dated, Mason, December 23, 1858. 192w7

DR. J. W. KERNOTT,

Ecletic Physician and Surgeon,

Would most respectfully announce that he will visit Lansing on the second days of every month for the purpose of meeting patients afflicted with Chronic or Lingering Diseases.

Rooms at the Lansing House.

Dr. Kernott has in his possession certificates from, and is permitted to refer to hundreds of gentlemen of high standing and respectability, in Detroit, London, Toronto, and other cities and towns, who, having been reduced to the border of the grave from Liver Complaints, Dyspepsia, and other diseases, and having tried in vain their physician's prescriptions, and most of the quack nostrums for the cure of those diseases, are now, from the use of his Vegetable Medicines, in the enjoyment of perfect health.

Dr. Kernott has, in the cities of London and Detroit, during the last seven years, administered the different remedial agents of the Vegetable Kingdom to thousands of patients, in almost every variety of disease, with unparalleled success. His medicines are exclusively vegetable, and such as are safe and efficacious in the cure of disease, without entailing on the patient any of those miseries experienced from mineral poisons.

Chronic or Lingering Diseases of the Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, and Scrofula Cancers, all impurities of the blood, and all diseases of Women and Children, treated successfully.

Dr. Kernott has had great experience in diseases of the Chest and Nervous System, curing hundreds of cases pronounced incurable by other physicians.

NO CHARGE FOR CONSULTATION

☞ Dr. Kernott's residence, Detroit. Entrance to Dispensary, No. 14 Congress street; entrance to office, Griswold street, first door from Congress.

Dr. Kernott will also visit Howell the 25th, and Brighton the 26th of every month. 129

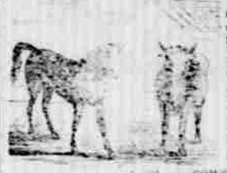
A GREAT HORSE AND CATTLE MEDICINE.



I. L. St. John's Condition Powders.—These powders are held in very high estimation for horses, in cases of DISTEMPER, LOSS OF APPETITE, HIDEBOUND, YELLOW WATER, STIFF COMPLAINT, etc. They are excellent for cattle that are poorly and DISPIRITED; and will cure COWS of giving bloody milk. They increase the quantity of milk, when the cow is generally in good condition. The proprietor has lately received from his agent in the Cities of Boston, New York and Philadelphia, a large supply of the genuine Condition Powders, and offer not a few hundred dollars to be humbugged with the assertion that some other article is just as good.

From a Wealthy Farmer of Seneca Co., Ohio.

My horses were weakened and driven so hard, that he scarcely expected a horse would live and need up. He thought a few boxes of the powders would restore all others. He seemed convinced that they were almost in the last stage, but varieties of the powders, which I gave them, soon restored them to health. I feel very confident that I owe my life to I. L. ST. JOHN'S CONDITION POWDERS. He (Dr. Kennedy) said he knew the powders were good, but did not expect they would do so much good. I feel very confident that I owe my life to the use of one hundred dollars. P. SLAYMAKER.

Fifteen Horses in one stable Cured of a Cough. Mr. James Wardle, a dealer in horses, widely known in Northwestern Ohio, says: I have made use of I. L. St. John's Condition Powders for Cough, Distemper, Worms and Allied Diseases, and I have found them an article of great excellence, and the best horse medicine with which I am acquainted. I have used them since at the livery stables of Hollister Chamberlain, of Monroe City, and found the results fifteen in number, all of which were cured of a cough. I also used the I. L. St. John's Condition Powders. In eight of the cases I thought the horse was lost, but in every case the powders have done their work perfectly well.

Hollow Horn, Etc.—I have used St. John's Condition Powders with a view for horses and cattle, and have found them very efficacious in distemper, and the hollow horn. I have the horse, upon the little occasionally, and find them St. John's Condition Powders. I have frequently given them to my cows that have calved, and have found no cows that have been treated with them to fail in giving milk. These Powders have always been effectual in my practice, and I do not hesitate to recommend them to the public. SAMUEL YOUNG.

Bloody Milk, Etc.—Mr. Jones, of Cincinnati, Ohio, writes: I had a cow badly afflicted with bloody milk, and gave her St. John's Condition Powders. They effected a cure, giving a healthy flow of milk. The cow was generally thought to be in a consumption. I also gave them to a mare with bloody urine, and they effected a cure. I have used them in my stable for some time, and find them to be a valuable article. I cheerfully recommend them to the public. C. G. SYKES.

From a merchant of Philadelphia, Pa.

When travelling at the West I had a valuable horse attacked with a disease of the kidneys. My horse was so bad I was obliged to leave him. I wrote to my partner to procure and give him a box of I. L. ST. JOHN'S CONDITION POWDERS. He did so, and I found on my return home, that the horse was well and able to be driven. I have since used the powders in my family with good effect. I cheerfully recommend them to the public. A. NEWSAM.

Mr. A. Newsam is a gentleman of the highest standing in this city. I have given him a good recommendation for your CONDITION POWDERS. I have seen them during the past two years, and believe that they are superior to any thing else in cases of Bloody Urine, Cattle Distemper, Hollow Horn, etc. I shall use the Condition Powders, and other not yours, in my stable, and shall be pleased to recommend them to my friends. I shall always speak in the highest terms of the powders, and shall be ready to do all that I can to make them better known. I feel
