[illegible]

Providence, R. I., January 7.—The board of aldermen refuse a license for the exhibition of Mrs. Lincoln's wardrobe.

New Orleans, January 7.—The Louisiana State Fair commences here to-day, attracting a large number of strangers. Two steam plows are on exhibition.

In the convention yesterday Blackburn offered a series of resolutions, providing that the warrants of the convention bear eight per cent. interest from the date of the assembling of the convention until paid into the State treasury, making them receivable for all dues to the State, and prohibiting tax receivers from receiving any warrants other than those issued by the convention.

Cooley opposed, on the ground of the illegality of the proposed measure, and offered a substitute providing that tax receivers pay into the treasury the identical funds collected. Both referred to a committee of three, which reported to-day for Cooley's substitute, which was adopted after a stormy debate.

In the debate to-day, one member was asked his opinion of the constitutionality of the reconstruction laws. He gave it as his individual opinion that they were unconstitutional, and offered to quote Stevens to the same effect.

Washington, January 7.—The House bill for expediting bounty payments, authorizes the employment of twenty-two additional clerks in the Second Auditor's office.

Short Cabinet session to-day. Seward and Grant absent.

Grant and Sherman had a protracted interview at the War office.

Wilson's bill, presented to-day, vacates the offices of Governor, Secretary, Treasurer, Controller and Surveyor General of Georgia.

Secretary Seward was before the Senate committee on Foreign Relations, regarding territorial acquisitions.

Schenck stated in Congress there are four hundred thousand barrels of whisky in bond, on which tax is due, amounting to forty millions.
