LITERARY NOTES.

Good light literature in a neat and cheap form is to be furnished by Henry Holt & Co. under the title of "The Leisure Moment Series." These publications will have the advantages of clear type, firm paper, and covers of heavy paper tastefuly decorated; and they will be sold at prices very little higher than those of the various unbound "Libraries."

Mr. Abbey, it is said, has drawn an admirable illustration of Mr. S. S. Conant's "Faustus" for an early number of Harper's Magazine.

The Blackwoods have just published a new satirical novel, "My Trivial Life and Misfortunes, by a Plain Woman," under mysterious circumstances. The author is so determined to remain unknown that she has made all her arrangements with her publishers in the advertising columns of The London Times.

A large number of prettily-drawn and delicately-colored Easter cards have been prepared by well-known designers and have just been issued by L. Prang & Co. Birds, flowers, youthful faces, and silken borders make gay these souvenirs, which are furthermore adorned by devotional verse and friendly reminders.

Fourteen thousand copies of Mr. Shorthouse's novel "John Inglesant" have been sold in England.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS
HAVE JUST PUBLISHED:
LIFE OF LORD LAWRENCE.
By R. BOSWORTH SMITH, M. A.,
Late Fellow of Trinity College, Assistant Master at Harrow School; author of "Carthage and the Carthaginians"; "Rome and Carthage"; "Mohammed and Mohammedanism", etc. With maps and portraits. 2 vols., 8vo, $5.

Mr. Bosworth Smith has given in this work the worthy record of the life of one of the most heroic and genuine characters of the times in which we live. Of the many famous Englishmen who have gained and maintained for their country the supremacy over the vast Indian Empire, John Lawrence stands in the very front rank. Mr. Smith has written with a noble enthusiasm; and his book, in genuine human interest, in historical importance, and in literary workmanship, is not second to any biography that has appeared in recent times.

The work has been looked for in England with extraordinary interest and the first edition was exhausted within a week of publication.

"We have here further proof of the author's qualifications for literary work. We recognize his arrangement and method; his ability to sift, digest and utilize his materials; and his style, which is never dull or commonplace, but animated and expressive, and often rises to eloquence. . . . We shall be much surprised if these volumes do not take a high rank amongst those biographies which tell us exactly what we want to know about men who have risen to greatness without crime or guilt, but by native vigor rather than by scientific discoveries, scholarly acquirements or far-ranging intellectual powers."—[London Saturday Review.

"The wondrous tale of the growth and consolidation of British power in Hindostan is, after all, told most completely, and assuredly with most picturesqueness of detail and strength of human interest, in the lives of the men whose names are inseparably interwoven with Anglo-Indian annals. Few biographers have enjoyed happier opportunities of exemplifying this truth than has Mr. Bosworth Smith, the author of the two substantial volumes devoted to the private life and public career of Lord Lawrence."—[London Daily News.

ON THE DESERT.
With a Brief Review of Recent Events in Egypt. By Rev. Henry M. Field, D. D., author of "From the Lakes of Killarney to the Golden Horn," and "Egypt to Japan." 1 vol., crown 8vo, with a map, $2.

An account of a journey in the track of the Israelites along the Red Sea, among the peaks of Sinai, through the Desert of the Wandering, and up to the Promised Land.

"These notes of travel recount precisely what the average reader desires to hear, and the narrative is put together with much literary skill. Dr. Field has unquestionably given us an entertaining book. We think his account of the revolution suppressed at Tel-el-Kebir, and of the relation of England to that movement, the most intelligible, impartial, and and satisfactory, that we have seen in print."—[N. Y. Sun.

ICE-PACK AND TUNDRA.
An Account of the Search for the Jeannette, and a Sledge Journey through Siberia. By William H. Gilder, correspondent of the New-York Herald with the Rodgers Search Expedition; author of "Schwatka's Search." 1 vol., 8vo. With maps and illustrations, $4.

"The newspaper correspondent is taking a high and well-defined place in literature, and in this country no writer of this class has secured wider recognition than Mr. William H. Gilder, author of 'Schwatka's Search.' His new volume, 'Ice-Pack and Tundra,' an account of the search for the unfortunate crew of the Jeannette, is undoubtedly destined to receive as much favor as did the former volume. . . . Mr. Gilder preserves and presents just those details of life and travel in high latitudes which give the essence of the life there, so that from his book we know more of Esquimaux customs than from any other source. . . . The simplicity and directness of the author's style puts everything before the reader in the most comprehensive fashion."—[Boston Courier.

AN HONORABLE SURRENDER.
By Mary Adams. 1 vol., 12mo, $1.

"'An Honorable Surrender' is a healthful, breezy American romance, not abounding in incidents or dramatic situations, but clever and readable on account of its vigorous and true human nature well and looks on the sunny side of it; while her literary style is pure, graceful and polished. It is some time since we have read so bright a little novel."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

THE RELIGIONS OF THE ANCIENT WORLD.
Including Egypt, Assyria and Babylonia, Persia, India, Phœnicia, Etruria, Greece, Rome. By George Rawlinson, M. A., author of "The Origin of Nations," etc. 1 vol., 12mo, $1.

"The historical studies which have elevated this author's works to the highest position have made him familiar with those books which once directed the world's thought; and he has done literature no better service than in this little volume. . . . The book is, then, to be accepted as a sketch, and as the most trustworthy sketch in our language, of the religions discussed."—[N. Y. Christian Advocate.

FINAL CAUSES.
By Paul Janet, Member of the French Academy. Translated from the second French edition. With a preface by Professor Robert Flint, D. D., LL. D. 1 vol., 8vo, $2 50.

"No book of greater importance in the realm of theological philosophy has appeared during the past twenty years than Paul Janet's 'Final Causes.' The central idea of the work is one which the whole course of scientific discussion has made the burning question of the day, viz: That final causes are not inconsistent with physical causation."—[Independent.

NEWMAN SMYTH'S REPLY TO JOSEPH COOK.
DORNER ON THE FUTURE STATE.
Being a translation of the section of his "System of Christian Doctrine" comprising the Doctrine of the Last Things. With an Introduction and Notes. By Newman Smyth, D. D., author of "Old Faiths in New Light," "The Orthodox Theology of To-day," etc. 1 vol., 12mo, $1.

"The present book contains most of the distinctive views by which Dorner is best known. It is an attempt in plain words to bring the doctrine of Christian eschatology into harmony with the best knowledge and the best thought of the age. . . . It brings theology into harmony with man's deepest longings, and bathes its rugged logical corners with the melting tenderness of Divine love."—[The New-York Tribune.

RECOLLECTIONS OF ARTHUR PENRHYN STANLEY,

HENRY HOLT & CO.
HAVE READY
THE EPIC OF KINGS.
Stories Retold from Firdusi. By Helen Zimmern, with a Prefatory Poem by Edmund W. Gosse. 12mo. $2 50.

"The book is charming from beginning to end. A notable addition to the libraries of those who care to know the great classics of the world."—London Saturday Review.

"The two stories which transcend all the others in point of human interest are those of 'Rustem and Sohrab' and of 'Byzun and Manijeh.' The second is one of the most exquisite that can be found in the whole range of Eastern invention. It is a love story of the most complete kind. To analyze it would be to spoil it; readers should go for it to Miss Zimmern's volume."—London Times.

NEW-YORK MILITARY ACADEMY.
FORT WASHINGTON, N. Y.
Established 1854.
Superintendent—JOHN B. HAYS, M. D.
REOPENS SEPT. 4, 1882.
A Boarding School of the Highest grade, whose three-fold end, and scrupulously followed, is to mould, at an early age, the intellect of youth by science, the will by obedience, and the feelings by religion; never separating these three great requisites, instruction, discipline, religion, while fitting for every profession.
Situated on Washington Heights, about ten miles up the Hudson, it is reached by the Sixth Avenue Elevated Road to 155th-st. Carriages are always in waiting, or, by timely notification, the superintendent meets the arrival of any train.
A more beautiful and healthy place—on an eminence commanding the most delightful scenery—or more attractive surroundings, are not found along the far-famed banks of the Hudson. Its buildings are unusually homelike.
There are forty acres of land attached to it, shaded and intersected by oak groves, affording ample space for playgrounds.
French, German, and Spanish spoken.
