Shower For Miss Tribble.

One of the prettiest pre-nuptial parties for Miss Eva Tribble whose wedding to Mr. James Pressly takes place on next Thursday evening, was given by Mrs. Fred G. Tribble at her home on Greenville street Friday afternoon. On entering the beautifully decorated reception hall Mrs. J. Cliff Green and Miss Annie Cox welcomed the guests, and Miss Letta Mosely and Mrs. Rufus Gaines invited the guests into the big living room where the hostess and the bride-to-be received. Miss Tribble was charming in a light blue accordian plaited crepe de chine dress. To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, little Misses Sarah and Elizabeth Tribble daughters of the hostess, came into the room bearing the huge package of gifts and showered the bride. Misses Miriam Sue and Miss Zae Broyles gave several beautiful piano selections and Mrs. James Craig sang very sweetly.

The guests were invited into the dining room by Mrs. Levis Sanders, Miss Neele Barton and Miss Lola Wilson. Here there were immense bowls of sweet peas, and the highly polished round table was lovely with lace mats, cut glass and pink peas while misty pink and white tulle was caught with the same flowers from table to chandelier above. A delicious salad course with iced tea was served by Misses Ella Mae Tribble, Ola and Dorothy Tribble, Oreana Guest and Janie McClure. Sarah Tribble pinned a pink sweet pea tied with pink ribbon on each guest. Misses Evelyn Cox and Alma Duckworth served refreshing nectar from a bowl hidden in a mass of big white daisies. Others who assisted the hostess in entertaining were: Mrs. Frank Barton and Mrs. R. W. Tribble.

Moved to West Whitner Street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Sherard, who have been living on North McCullie street have moved to the residence of Mr. John R. Cochran on West Whitner street.

Mrs. Love Better.

Mrs. H. G. Love, who has been ill at the Anderson Hospital for the past three weeks was moved yesterday to the home of her sister, Mrs. J. L. Sherard on West Whitner street. Her many friends are delighted at her improvement, and wish for her a speedy recovery.

Two Showers For Miss Tribble.

Miss Eva Tribble, one of the attractive brides for the coming week, will be the honor guest at two showers on Monday afternoon. Mrs. V. B. Wilson will entertain for Miss Tribble at a miscellaneous shower, and on Tuesday afternoon she will be Miss Etha Archer's honor guest at a shower.

A Delightful Dance.

A delightful dance and one fully enjoyed by the guests present was given on Friday evening at the Rose Hill club. Among those present were, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Causey, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. DeCamp, Mr. and Mrs. K. P. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John Linley, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ligon, Mr. and Mrs. P. K. McCully, Misses Lucy Cross, Jessie Browne, Louise Gilmer, Linda Thompson, Lucile Bray, Lois Jackson, Florida Harris, Lois Wells, Belle Minor, and Lydia McCully. Messrs. L. M. Cochran, Clyde Smith, T. P. Dickson, Phil Wilhite, John Major, Gene Watson, Willie Marshall, G. C. Welch, A. L. Todd, C. G. Garrett, S. M. Wolfe and Glenn Lassiter.

At Home For Thursday.

Mrs. A. M. Sharpe and Mrs. Daisy Wilson have issued invitations to an At Home for Thursday afternoon, June 10th.

Miss Sara Cobb of Pelzer is spending several days with Miss Ola McGregor.

Miss Willie Ray Robinson has gone to Atlanta to visit her aunt, Mrs. T. A. Ratcliffe.

To Be Married in Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Fassel leave tomorrow for Atlanta to attend the marriage of their son, Julius Clarkson Russel to Miss Dora Bell, on Wednesday, June 9th.

The wedding will take place on Wednesday at noon in the West End Baptist church after which there will be an elegant wedding luncheon at the home of the bride. At two-thirty the young couple will leave for New York for a weeks' visit before going to Panama where Mr. Russell holds a responsible governmental position. In New York they will be the guests of Mr. Willie Russell and Miss Eunice Russell, the brother and sister of the groom, who make their home there. Miss Bell is a cousin of Mrs. Keith Prevost of this city and as her guest has often visited Anderson. Both have many friends here who are greatly interested in their wedding, and wish for them a very prosperous life.

For Miss Tribble.

A "rainbow shower" was the pretty entertainment given on Thursday afternoon by Miss Nelle Barton, in honor of Miss Eva Tribble. Her handsome home on Calhoun street was bright with flowers of the many beautiful rainbow hues. At the door the guests were greeted by the attractive hostess assisted by Mrs. J. Levis Sanders. In the parlor the guest of honor was given a bright colored ribbon and told to follow the "rainbow" and find a pot of gold. After many turns and twist, Miss Tribble followed her ribbon into the dining room, to a filled jar on the table which was gilded with many beautiful linen articles, the gifts of the guests present. An interesting little contest with a toast for the bride-elect was the source of much merriment, each one being read aloud. Delightful nectar was served from a flower embedded bowl by Miss Bessie Major and Miss Olivia Duckett.

Music during the afternoon by Miss Foe Broyles, was greatly enjoyed by all.

An elegant salad course was served by Miss Ola and Ella May Tribble, and each guest was presented with a miniature box of gold tied with bright colored ribbons as a souvenir of this pretty occasion.

Miss Margaret Hair of Clifton Forge, Va., is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. M. Garrison, on North McCullie street. She has been attending commencement in Due West.

Miss Grace Killingsworth of Columbia is visiting Miss Eva Tribble and will be here for the Tribble-Pressley wedding next week.

Popular Young Couple Married Yesterday Afternoon.

A wedding that came as a surprise and yet one of great interest to their many friends was that of Miss Ella May Cummings and Mr. John Rast yesterday afternoon at five o'clock at the home of the bride on Sharpe street.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. W. Speake, and only the immediate members of the family were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Rast left immediately for a wedding trip of two weeks. Mrs. Rast is a daughter of Mrs. M. J. Cummings and is one of Anderson's most attractive and popular young society women. Mr. Rast was formerly from Columbia, but for the past six years had held a responsible position with the Sullivan Hardware Company.

Both young people have the best wishes of scores of friends.

Beautiful Affair For Miss Fretwell.

Mrs. Q. Frank Johnson and Miss Anna Tribble were hostesses Saturday morning for the Fretwell bridal party. This was one of the most attractive of Miss Ruth Fretwell's pre-nuptial parties.

When the guests arrived at Mrs. Johnson's pretty home they were given a large card mounted with art paper and were asked to draw a picture of Miss Fretwell as a bride. She in her usual sweet manner consented to pose for them.

When the pictures were finished Mrs. Laughlin, Mrs. Maxwell and Mrs. Fretwell were selected to name the best likeness. In a few original and funny words Mrs. Laughlin announced Miss Bertha Cashin the star artist. She was given a brilliant bouquet of sweet peas which she presented to the bride.

Another souvenir for the bride was the best picture possible, a picture of the groom in a handsome silver frame.

The original drawings afforded much merriment. A delicious salad course with ices was served by the two charming hostesses.

covered with little difficulty. After seeding, if the ground has become quite dry, rolling is usually beneficial. Care should be taken when mowing or watering the newly seeded areas to avoid disturbing the young grass. This caution always applies in a measure to fall seeding, although there is not so much danger of damage in the case of the latter.

Fertilizing.

The management of the lawn after it is once established is an extremely important matter, and there are a few general practices that should be followed carefully. Beginning in the early spring, the first thing to do is to remove with a rake the top dressing that has been applied the fall before. After removing this it is usually advisable to apply some fertilizer, even though the soil is already reasonably fertile. One of the very best fertilizers for the lawn in the spring is nitrate of soda, but on account of its quick action and its caustic effect extreme caution should be used in its application. Five pounds of nitrate of soda are sufficient for 1,000 square feet of lawn, and if applied in solution with the watering pot and the grass then thoroughly watered with a hose, there is little danger of scalding. Bone meal is probably the best commercial fertilizer to use on a lawn, considering the danger from the misuse of nitrate of soda. Bone meal can be used without taking any special caution in its application, as it is in no way injurious to the grass. Eight pounds in 1,000 square feet is a liberal application. Any commercial fertilizer that is used should be applied early in the spring when the grass begins to grow. In fact, bone meal can be used to advantage every month during the growing season, except perhaps July and August. Fertilizing through the season is especially beneficial in keeping the grass, stimulated at times when it would otherwise be more or less inactive. Pulverized limestone as a top dressing is very helpful, and an application of this substance can be made either in the fall, winter, or spring. Lime corrects the acidity of the surface soil and is useful in checking the growth of moss and various other plants that are detrimental to the grass.

Improving the Lawn

Repair, Improvement and General Management.

Washington, June 5.—The improvement of an old lawn is a very much more difficult problem than establishing a new one. In many cases it is impracticable to attempt the improvement of an old lawn that is in a bad condition say the specialists of the United States department of agriculture. However, if a reasonably good turf obtains, it is possible to better it materially by reseeding, fertilizing, and watering. In the majority of cases improvement is desired in the spring, since at this season many bare spots are in evidence as the result of the preceding winter. If the areas to be improved are small, they can be handworked and reseeded with little difficulty. If they are large, it is usually advisable to spade them up, work thoroughly, and seed, as in the case of starting a new lawn. In any event, reseeding should be done early in the spring with a liberal quantity of the mixture before described.

When the stand of grass is thin over the entire lawn of a greater portion of it, a special reeder equipped with small disks has been found very satisfactory for cutting the seed into the sod and thereby producing favorable conditions for germination and subsequent growth. In the early spring, however, the soil is usually loose as a result of the freezing and thawing and is in sufficiently open condition to permit the seed to go
