a few days. The press generally regards it with little favor.

Negroes on a plantation in the vicinity of the city attacked their overseer with knives, and killed him. They subsequently surrendered themselves to the authorities, and confessed the deed.

Arrest of a Mexican at Brownsville—Suspected of Murder—Work on the Rio Grande Railroad—Ex-Governor Perry Nominated for Congress—Arrival of the Siberia—Temperance Mass Convention in New York—Crop Failure in North Carolina—Wrecks—A County Treasurer Short—The Canada and United States Boundary.

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, September 10.—A Mexican giving his name as Hisedro Poncho, was arrested here last evening at the instance of Henry Allen, agent of the stock raisers, for the murder of Captain Hatch, a well known stock owner, who was killed a few days since near Corpus Christi. Poncho stated that he had just arrived from Corpus Christi, and his description exactly tallies with the one sent by telegraph from Corpus Christi, requesting that a sharp lookout be kept for the murderer. He has been lodged in jail and will be detained until the facts in the case are more fully developed.

Work on the Rio Grande railroad is progressing rapidly, and it is expected that this city and Point Isabel will be brought within two hours of each other by January.

HALIFAX, September 10.—The schooner Emily Graham has been wrecked at Prince Edwards island. Nine lives were lost.

QUEBEC, September 10.—The steamship Edith Emily has gone ashore. Eight of the crew were drowned.

GOLDSBORO, N. C., September 10.—The Carolina Messenger of to-day has the following item: From the reports we have received from planters for several days past, we are forced to the conclusion that the cotton crop in this section has sustained serious injury. In the counties of Wayne, Duplin, Johnston, Edgecome, Lenoir, Wilson, Greene, Pitt and Sampson, the drouth and rust have damaged the crop very much, and the ravages of the worms in many places will still further reduce the yield. We have before us reliable estimates of damages in various portions of the cotton growing counties, and, as far as we are capable of judging, foresee the prospects at least twenty per cent worse than was generally anticipated a month or two ago.

CHARLESTON, S. C., September 10.—Ex-Governor Perry has been nominated for Congress by the Democrats and Conservatives of the fourth South Carolina district, now represented by Wallace. This is the only congressional nomination so far made by the Democrats.

BOSTON, September 10.—Arrived—Steamer Liberia.

UTICA, N. Y., September 10.—The temperance leaders in this State have published a call for a meeting in mass convention of the electors who favor the promotion of temperance reform by political action, the convention to assemble at Syracuse, New York, on the twentieth of September.

CINCINNATI, September 10.—J. B. Keech, treasurer of Wayne county, is $20,000 short in his accounts, and can not satisfactorily explain the disappearance of the money. He has turned over his property to his bondsmen, but it is inadequate to cover the defalcation.

TORONTO, September 10.—A large party of engineers have left here for Pembina, where they expect to meet the American party appointed to determine the forty-ninth parallel, the boundary between Canada and the United States from the Lake of the Woods and the Rocky mountains. It is estimated that the work will occupy three or four years.

ST LOUIS, Septembr 10.—A freight train and a cattle train on the Missouri Pacific railroad collided thirty-eight miles from here. The engines and six cattle cars were broken up and forty cattle killed. The cars with general merchandise were smashed; loss $30,000. The accident was caused by the misreading of a time card by the conductor of the stock train.

BALTIMORE, September 10.—Owing to unfavorable weather the championship game between the Boston and Baltimore base ball clubs was postponed until to-morrow, but the clubs played an exhibition game, which was called at the end of the fifth innings, darkness coming on. A drizzling rain prevailed throughout the game. Boston 12, Baltimore 12.

PHILADELPAIA, September 10.—The straight-out Democrats meet at Harrisburg on the twenty-fourth instant, to nominate an electoral ticket.

RICHMOND, September 10.—A special to the Dispatch says the steam tug Agnes exploded her boiler this afternoon near Jordan's Point, five miles below City Point, killing Captain Griffith Jones, of the bark Lucy, who was on board en route for his vessel. B. Enroughty, engineer, two colored firemen, and the wheelman, colored, were also killed. Two colored men were wounded. Captain Lawrence, who commanded the tug, was blown some distance, falling in the water, and was but slightly injured.

The schooner Mary Morris, which was alongside the tug, was badly wrecked. The tug is a complete wreck.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., September 10.—The investigation of the loss of the Metis was continued to-day. Captain George B. Hall, agent and inspector of the line, who was on the Metis as a passenger on the night of the accident, gave his version of the disaster, which was not different materially from the accounts already published. He testified that after he found the vessel was sinking he went to the steward and told him of the danger and instructed him to take his men and go into the saloon and put life preservers on the passengers; to be sure and see that every passenger had a life preserver as there were plenty of them for both passengers and crew. He went down on the saloon deck but could not get into the saloon on account of the passengers filling up the doors. He told them they had better get on the upper deck.

The hull of the boat soon separated from her upper works and drifted ashore, and we all soon went into the breakers and were picked up by people on shore. I think if we had got in the surf and there had been no one to have assisted us we would nearly all have perished. There were about fifty persons on the hurricane deck; it was not over forty minutes after the collision, that the steamer went down; I think the damage was done at the time of the collision, and that the steamer began taking in water then. I account for the raise of water reported by the engineer by the supposition that the vessel got so large a body of water in the freight hold that the weight of it broke off the bulk head. I do not think there was any person on board who did not receive timely notice of the alarm.

George J. Harris, of Burlington, Iowa, a passenger, testified that in his opinion two good chances to save the lives of those on board were lost before the steamer sank—first, from the propeller that lay by us, and second, if those in charge had improved the time and used all steam in making progress towards the shore instead of blowing off while lying still, the steamer could have been beached. There were no guns fired or rockets sent up.

George W. Howard, of Rome, New York, testified that there was no alarm given near his room. Some of the passengers came out of their rooms without knowing anything was the matter; everybody, apparently, had just awoke; women and children were screaming for assistance, but no one offered to help them; saw no person belonging to the boat except a man who went through the boat and said there was nothing the matter—everything was all right. He spoke as if he was an officer. He offered no assistance to the women and children.

William H. Baker, first mate, testified, but nothing new was elicited. Adjourned.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., September 10.—Daniel Gleason, of North Adams, who murdered his wife last spring, was sentenced to-day to be hanged.

A leading London journal suggests that housekeepers can save thirty per cent of their coal by using solid bottoms in ordinary grates. It says: "In any fire-place not excessively small a plate of iron placed upon the grate will halve the consumption of coal, reduce the smoke and leave a cheerful, free burning fire. Quite sufficient air enters through the bars, no poking is necessary and the fires never go out until the coals are consumed. There is no ash and no dust, every particle of fuel being consumed." These hints apply just as well to this country as to England.

Mayor Banks, fresh from Tennessee, brings cheering news from that State to New York. Greeley's majority he estimates at from 50,000 to 75,000. The managers of the State fair, without distinction of party, have invited Mr. Greeley to deliver the annual address at Nashville on the fifth proximo. In the event of his acceptance, large numbers from Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and Kentucky are expected to attend the exercises.

The Lisa Weber burlesque troupe has closed its engagement at the Boston theatre, Pauline Markham taking a benefit. The lady was cordially received, and was made the recipient of a handsome floral offering. In the burlesques of "Ixion" and "Ernani" she exhibited her familiar graces of voice and person. The troupe has disbanded, and Miss Markham will probably go to Wood's Museum for next season, although she has had flattering offers from a California manager.

The bark Fu Ju arrived at San Francisco a few days since from Yokohama, Japan, with a full cargo of teas. The bark is under the Japanese flag, and is manned entirely, from the commander to the cabin boy, by natives of Japan. The Fu Ju exhibits in American waters for the first time the flag of Japan, a vast empire that until within the past few years was entirely locked up from the rest of the world. This is a wonderful effect of the powers of advancing civilization.

Embroidered sashes are very fashionable. An exchange says we have seen a very elegant one of black silk embroidered heavily with colors. There were three ends at the back, which were finished with a fringe of colored silks. Embroidering these sashes affords a pretty pastime for ladies who are troubled with too much leisure.

The Supreme Court of Iowa has decided that where cattle are enticed by the dripping of water from a railroad tank, and are thereby brought upon a railroad track and while there injured the railroad company is liable.

American fashionable weddings are now to be conducted on the English plan, the groom proceeding to church first and waiting for his bride.

From the report of the Bureau of Statistics we learn that the total product of cereals in the United States, during the year 1871, was 1,528,776,100 bushels, being in the ratio of 396 bushels to each inhabitant. Of this amount 991,898,000 bushels were corn, 230,722,400 were wheat and 255,743,000 were oats. The wool product of the United States during the same year was 177,000,000 pounds, and of the entire world 1,121,519,000 pounds.

MONETARY.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY REPUBLICAN, TUESDAY EVENING, September 10, 1872.

While there is hardly any pressure in the money market, deposit lines show a material decline compared with last year, and the banks have consequently a more restricted limit for discounts. In fact, were the demand very active, might be compelled to refuse even unexceptionable signatures, but there is only a moderate amount of business paper making, and the regular demand is therefore not very active. The call for currency to remit to the country continues, as well as the demand to meet Northern and Western drafts. The movement on the street is not very active, and we notice little or no variation in rates, though the market appears to work a shade closer. We continue to quote first class paper at 9@10 ⅌ cent ⅌ annum; A1 at 10; less desirable names not second grade at 11; second grade at 12; first class mortgage 9½@10; good to second grade do 11@12.

There was more movement in sterling exchange without any quotable variation in rates. COMMERCIAL.

TUESDAY EVENING, September 10, 1872.

COTTON—The sales to-day reached 1650 bales, partly at previous rates, but mostly at a futher decline of ⅛c. We modify our quotations accordingly, and give also the Exchange figures, which are for average lists according with its official type, while ours present the proper range of the market for average lists, but with the outside figures for low middling given as the outside figures for strict:

	General quotations.	Exchange quotations.
Low ordinary	— @—	—
Ordinary	— @—	—
Good ordinary	18½ @19¾	—
Low middling	20⅜ @20¾	20⅜
Middling	21 @21⅛	21
Strict middling	— @21⅛	—
Good middling	— @21⅜	—

The supply was ample, and the demand fair, but under a further decline of ¼c at New York and 1-16d at Liverpool factors were compelled to make further concessions, the bulk of the business showing a decline of ⅛c. Some transactions, however, early in the day were at yesterday's rates, but on others, again, buyers chimed that they bought ¼c lower. Low middling sold at 20½, 20⅝, 20 11-16 and 20¾c; strict low middling at 20¾c and 20⅞c, and strict low middling to middling at 21c. The market closed with several lists of the late receipts remaining unsold. There was some inquiry toward the close for average low middling at 20½c, but factors asked more.

The sales for the past three days sum up 2950 bales, against 2564 for the corresponding time last week and 860 the week before. Receipts since Friday evening 4098 bales, embracing 417 from other delivery ports and 4581 proper, against 2335 proper last week and 1040 last year. Total since August 31, 8734 bales, against 3512 last year—increase 5222. For all the ports see statement below. There have been no reports.

The amount on shipboard not cleared, going on board and engaged for shipment was set down at the opening this morning at 4650 bales, embracing 2100 for Liverpool, 2000 for Havre, and 555 for the North, which, deducted from the stock on hand by our running statement, last evening, left 8000 bales to represent the quantity at the landing and in presses unsold or awaiting orders.

The Exchange reports, "Demand good; prices ⅛c off." It quotes accordingly as above.
