tain Darling, chief of the surveying party here, charges that the Osages and Cheycnes, who murdered his men, were fifteen miles outside of their reservation.

The surveyors have withdrawn from the Indian country until they can secure government protection.

The Indians are driving away stock and killing the settlers in the southwestern part of Kansas.

ARKANSAS CITY, April 24.—It is reported that three men were killed by the Indians at Medicine Lodge creek, near the south line of the State. It is also stated that nine others were killed about the same time.

FORT SCOTT, Kansas, April 24.—The town is in flames. The destruction of the business part of the city seems inevitable.

Don Carlos Interviewed.

The New York Herald's Spanish correspondent interviewed the pretender, Don Carlos, in an isolated chateau in the south of France one day last week. Of the distinguished Bourbon the correspondent says:

The first impression produced by the Prince's presence is agreeable. He is tall and slim in person, with a remarkably handsome face. He wears his beard full. The first pleasing impression is rather weakened as he speaks. He is slightly effeminate in his address, and his manner and delivery are not in harmony with his energetic, manly, physical appearance. The immediate effect is unfavorable, but this consequence of his peculiarity, or habit, is soon effaced by his smile, his candid tone, and, above all, by his good sense and cogent reasons in exposition of his position.

Over two hours were passed in a pleasant chat, the royal host evincing, in his conversation, more liberality of sentiment than the typical Bourbon ever gets credit for. On the subject of the Church the Prince is reported as saying:

I have never given any one reason to believe that after my accession to the throne religion would be permitted to interfere in politics or politics with religion. I greatly value the influence of the priesthood. I admire many men who are priests; but I admire them in the Church, and I would be the first to oppose their interference in matters beyond their clerical sphere. No country in the world is less susceptible of government by absolutists than Spain. It never was so governed; it never will be so governed. The Basque provinces and Navarre have from time immemorial possessed the privileges of free countries. They have always emphatically declared they will leave the formation of a Spanish constitution to the action of a freely elected Cortes. I wonder there can still exist a doubt of our intention in this respect.

My programme of government can be set forth in few words. Everything shall be done through a free Cortes or Parliament. There shall be complete decentralization in everything but general politics.

Don Carlos expressed himself on the Cuban question in this manner:

Although I believe the abolition of slavery to be indispensable, I am of opinion that emancipation should not be at the expense of the proprietors; therefore it must be gradual. As to the alienation of the colony, I believe that no Spanish government, of whatever form or nature it may be, dare propose or allude to the subject in Spain.

The Herald prints the following as a special telegram from Vienna:

VIENNA, April 19.—Swindling is reported in connection with the appointment of the American commissioners to the International Industrial Exhibition to be held in this city. It is asserted that many of the commissioners purchased the position for the sake of the honor of appearing in an official character at the assemblage of the fair and during its management. One of the gentlemen says he paid the sum of $6000, but the rate generally charged was somewhere in the neighborhood of $2000. The majority of the commissioners are incapable persons. The more respectable among them are engaged in instituting inquiry into the matter of the swindle.

The Emperor of Austria has invited all the sovereigns to be his guests during the Vienna exhibition. The Prince of Wales and the Crown Prince of Germany, who are patrons of the British and German exhibitions, will be present at the opening on the first of May. There was some prospect of the hereditary Grand Duke of Russia being likewise present; but, according to the last arrangement, he is to arrive with the Czar at the beginning of June. The German Emperor has announced his arrival for the end of June. As regards the Sultan nothing has yet been settled. An inquiry was made on his behalf as to whether the Czar and the German Emperor were coming at the same time in which case the Sultan, expressed a wish to be present also. The great lion undoubtedly will be the Shah of Persia.

Monetary--Commercial.

MONETARY.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY REPUBLICAN,
THURSDAY EVENING, April 24, 1873.

The money market continued quiet and easy. The demand for discounts at the banks was fair, and on the street moderate. Nothing has transpired to indicate any variation in rates, and the market is still quoted for first class paper, with or without collaterals, 9@10 ⅌ cent ⅌ annum, A1 12@—, second class —@18, first class mortgage paper —@10, and second class 12.

Gold opened at 117¾@117¾, against 117¾ at New York, and, after a liberal business, closed at 117¾@117¾ (⅛c higher than yesterday) again at 117¾ in that market, where it touched 117¾ during the interim. The sales summed up $151,000, embracing $15,000 ($5000 and $10,000) at 117¾; $11,000 at 117¾; $25,000 at 117¾@117⅝; $16,000 ($4000, $5000 and $7000) at 117⅝; $18,000 ($6000 and $12,000) at 117⅝; $3,000 at 117¾, and $60,000 at 117⅝@117¾.

No sales of silver were reported. American half dollars were still quoted nominal at 110@111, and Mexican dollars at 1 ⅌ cent premium in gold for new and 3 for old.

The movement in sterling exchange was of fair extent. Under the influence of the advance of gold in New York, the market opened about ¼@½ ⅌ cent over yesterday's closing figures, but under the subsequent decline in bills in that market, lost the improvement in private. The sales amounted to £60,100, comprising £5000 bill of lading at 126¾@126¾; £35,000 and £6000 bill of lading and £1000 Al clear at 126¾; £35,000 bill of lading at 126¾@127; £18,000 British ship's bill and £2200 Al clear at 127; £2000 bill of lading at 127 1-16; £1000 Al clear at 127¼, and £1000 bill of lading at 127¼.

The sales of francs comprised 325,000, embracing 25,000 and 75,000 commercial at 4.52½, and 50,000 and 75,000 at 4.51¾.

At the close sterling bills were quoted at 126¾@127 for bill of lading and Al clear, and 127¼@127¾ for bank, and francs at 4.53¾@4.52½ for private, and commercial at 4.50 for bank, and German marks at 11@111¾.

The offerings of domestic exchange were very light, and rates were without quotable variation. The sales amounted to only $90,000, embracing $20,000 and $25,000 private bankers' sight on New York at 3-32, and $20,000 and $25,000 at 5-16. The banks continue to check at ¼ ⅌ cent premium, and private sight was still quoted at ¼@5-16.

The only sale reported in stocks was 220 shares Louisiana Levee, preferred, at $7.

The sales of bonds included $2000 city gold bearing seven per cents at 59¾, and $14,000 at 59¾. They were quoted at the close at 59¼@59¾.

The demand for Metropolitan Police warrants reported yesterday continued, and still higher rates were realized, being quoted at the close at 90@91, showing an improvement of 1 ⅌ cent. The sales included $1200 at 90¾, and $700, $1000 and $2000 at 91.

In school certificates we noticed a sale of $6000 at 64¾, which was about the closing quotation.

Nothing was reported in city appropriation certificates, which continue nominal at 63@64.

In ordinary State warrants we noticed sales of $10,000 old and Citizen at 34½@35, $10,000 do at 34¾@35, and $17,000 do at 35, at about which they were quoted at the close.

The only sales reported in legislative warrants were $2000 at 76, and $2000 at 77, at which they are now quoted.

COMMERCIAL

THURSDAY EVENING, April 24, 1873

COTTON—The sales to-day (not including any yesterday) embraced 4700 bales, at about previous rates. We accordingly repeat our last quotations, and give under the Exchange figures which are for average lists accordingly with its types, while ours present the proper range of the market for average lists, but with the outside figures for low middling, good ordinary and ordinary given as the outside for strict of those grades:

NEW ORLEANS CLASSIFICATION, ASSIMILATED TO THAT OF LIVERPOOL.

	General quotations.	Exchange quotation.
Inferior	9 @10	—
Low ordinary	10¼@11¼	—
Ordinary	12¾@14	12
Good ordinary	15¾@16¾	16
Low middling	17¾@18¾	17¾
Middling	18¾ @—	18¾
Strict middling	19 @19¼	—
Good middling	20¼@20¾	20¾

The market opened with a fair demand, but operations being checked by moderate supplies and buyers offering a fraction less than the pretensions of factors, the business during the morning was of moderate extent, after which parties came together more freely and the movement exhibited little change at about the closing hour, without any time showing much activity. The lower grades continued in fair request and commanded full prices compared with last week, and the better qualities were firm at previous prices, high styles of strict good ordinary commanding more than our outside figures for that grade. Low ordinary sold at 11c; strict ordinary at 13¾c; good ordinary at 15¾; and 16c; strict good ordinary at 16¾c; high style do at 17c; strict good ordinary to low middling at 17¾c; low middling at 17¾ and 17¾c; strict low middling at 18¾, and middling at 18¾c.

The amount on shipboard not cleared, going on board and engaged for shipment was set down at the opening this morning at 88,500 bales, embracing 50,000 for Liverpool, 12,000 for Havre, 1000 for the Mediterranean, 6000 for Bremen, 1500 for Spain, 15,000 for the North Sea and 3000 for the North, which when deducted from the stock on hand by our running statement last evening, leaves 74,656 bales to represent the quantity at the landing and in presses unsold or awaiting orders.

The Exchange reports: "Market steady; sales 4750 bales, including 100 after 4 P. M. yesterday."
