on the Democratic party, and for years chairman of it's State central committee, died in East Bridgewater this morning.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—All the Modoc prisoners have been removed to Fort Klamath under a strong guard.

The reported invasion of Sonora, Mexico, by bands of Apaches from the vicinity of Tucson is denied.

James Oldfield was murdered in the town of Parasde, Sonora, by a man named Audist, who stabbed his victim in the presence of his wife.

D. O. Mills has resigned the position of president of the Bank of California.

It is reported to-day that William Sharon has finally purchased the interest of Huntington and Hopkins in the Central Pacific railroad.

NASHVILLE, June 16.—Thirty-two interments are reported from cholera since Saturday. A large percentage of those attacked have recovered. The deaths were for the most part among the colored population.

CHICAGO, June 16.—Special Treasury Agent Bailey arrived at Springfield, Illinois, last night with one of the most troublesome of the counterfeiting and forging fraternity, one Merrill, alias Moore, alias Morris, and with probably other aliases. On his person were found blank drafts on the First National Bank of Memphis, City National Bank of Grand Rapids, Michigan, and on two or three national banks in Vermont. He had also a letter of credit, cunningly forged, from a bank in Utica, New York.

A bloody battle occurred here this morning at the corner of Halsted and Erie streets between three police officers and the same number of burglars, which resulted in the shooting and probable killing of Jack Allan, one of the most daring and notorious thieves in the country, and the capture of Dave Reggio, alias Rogers, or one-armed Dave, a scarcely less noted villain.

The burglars were spotted last night by Sheriff McDonald, of Stone City, on a train from Milwaukee, in which city they had, on Saturday night, robbed a dry goods store of several thousand dollars worth of goods. McDonald telegraphed to police headquarters here, and three policemen met the train at the depot, but the thieves, catching sight of them, jumped from the car and ran.

The officers overtook them and met with fierce resistance on attempting their arrest. Allen drew a pistol and fired an ineffectual shot at officer Simmons, who returned it, one of his shots striking Allen in the side and penetrating the intestines, inflicting, it is believed, a mortal wound. Reggio also fought desperately, but was finally captured and is now in jail. About $3000 worth of goods stolen in Milwaukee were recovered. The third burglar made his escape.

A dispatch from Decatur, Illinois, says that last September, A W. Drake, a farmer, living near Moweaquna, Illinois, died under suspicious circumstances. Mrs. York, his mother-in-law and housekeeper, was suspected of having had something to do with his sudden death, but no steps were taken to investigate the matter, and Mrs. York went to reside with her son in Kansas, where, a few days since she was taken sick.

The physicians told her she had but a few hours to live, and she then confessed to having poisoned her husband in 1865; Mrs. A. W. Drake, her daughter, two children of A. W. Drake, the wife of E. R. Drake, formerly of this city, and last September A. W. Drake. She then went, she adds, to her son's, and a short time ago made a mixture of poison to administer to him at the first opportunity. Feeling unwell a day or two afterward, she went after some medecine to a cupboard, and by mistake took the fatal dose prepared for her son, which resulted in her own death.

CINNATI, June 16.—The past forty-eight hours have developed the presence here of cases resembling cholera. Three fatal cases and three not fatal, part of which had all the symptoms of cholera, within this period, were reported at the regular meeting of the Academy of Medicine to-night.

The announcement in the papers this morning of a fatal case having cholera symptoms created no excitement during the day whatever, the citizens generally not apprehending the prevalence of cholera as epidemic during this season.

MEMPHIS, June 16.—The weather to-day was very unfavorable for the improvement of the health of the city, as during last night the mercury fell 12° and to-day was cloudy and hot. The interments to-day were nineteen, fifteen of whom died of cholera and cholera infantum.

The city council this afternoon passed an ordinance to establish a Board of Health.

BELFAST, Me., June 16.—At daylight this morning Almond Gordon, a farmer living near Opdyke station, and his wife and youngest daughter were fonily murdered in one bed, and his little son, six years old, who slept in a crib in the same room, was fearfully wounded, and the house set on fire. All the bodies were very much mutilated. A bloody ax, with which the slaughter was done, was found near at hand. A younger brother of the murdered man is now under arrest, chargad with the crime. The alleged cause of the bloody work was a dispute about some property. The suspected man appears perfectly calm and manifests no anxiety.

The following additional particulars of the Thorndike murder have been elicited: John Gordon, a man of seventy years of age, had recently conveyed to his son Almon M., his farm, worth $3000, taking back a mortgage for life for the support of himself and wife.

The other son, John T., was dissatisfied with the arrangement, and probably thought that by the death of his brother and family the property would fall to him. This is the only motive thus far assigned. At the time of the murder the old people were absent on a visit. The inmates of the house were the murdered man, Almon M., aged twenty-five; his wife, aged twenty-two; the children, Ira B., aged six, a little girl, aged seventeen months; Anna, a niece, aged nine; John T., the brother, and a hired man.

About 3 A. M., the latter was awakened by the shrieks of the little boy. And he immediately discovered that the house was on fire. He informed the neighbors, and the flames were extinguished without much damage. The bodies of father, mother and the infant who occupied the same bed were soon found, mangled and so scorched as to be hardly recognizable.

A little boy, who slept in a crib in the same room, was severely wounded, but may survive. The bloody deed was evidently committed with an ax, which was found on the premises. The wounds of the three murdered persons were inflicted upon the head, and must have caused instant death.

Brother John was soon arrested. He is twenty-eight years old, a farm laborer, and unmarried. He maintains a sullen indifference, refusing to answer any questions, but saying that at the proper time he will defend himself. The coroner held an inquest this evening, but the jury had not rendered a verdict when the last train left Thorndike at 6:30 P. M. The prisoner will probably be arraigned before the police court to-morrow.

LITTLE ROCK, June 16.—The courthouse, with all the records of Green county, burned on the night of the twelfth.

About three weeks ago, in Rutherford county, George Woods, colored, ravished a white widow woman and then knocked her in the head with an ax. The lady died. On Saturday night a party of fifty men took Woods out and hung him.

The Granges in Kansas.

Bourbon county, Kansas, was the scene of a very large Grange meeting, and one that looked and acted in a more common sense line than generally characterizes protective organizations in that State. The growth of the movement there has been very rapid. Two months ago there was but one Grange in Bourbon county; there are now forty, with a membership of more than one thousand. Their association has already resulted in the procurement of agricultural implements at a discount of fifty per cent on former prices, and general supplies at an average of twenty-five per cent less. They are also taking steps toward the erection of a mill for grinding their own grain, and contemplate the future incorporation of a company for the manufacture of their own implements, something that Kansas sorely needs.

We are rejoiced to see so healthy a sentiment pervading their organization. It seems rather that of a co-operative association than of anything approaching to politics. As one of their speakers expressed their purpose, it was simply that of establishing among the agricultural classes that same union of strength which the trades and manufacturers have long since found so necessary for the preservation of their rights. Of course, there was the usual denunciation of monopolies, and with much reason. Kansas burned her corn last year, or left it standing to rot in the field, because it took three bushels to pay the freight of one to market, and then the one sold for too little to pay the cost of raising. But so able, quiet and manly an expression of their needs can not but meet with approval, and go far toward receiving speedy remedy.—Cincinnati Times and Chronicle.

The Providence (Rhode Island) Journal, in noticing the parade of the Ancient and Honorables on Monday last in Boston, thus speaks of the election of Major Poore as the commander of the corps: "Major Ben Perley Poore was yesterday elected to the high distinction of commander of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery of Massachusetts. This is one of the most distinguished honors, if not the most distinguished, in the citizen soldiery of the Union. Men of the highest position and officers of the highest rank have contended for it for a time that goes back more than a hundred years before the declaration of independence; and some of the most eminent citizens of Massachusetts have accounted it a distinguished accession to the evidences which they have received of the popular confidence and favor. It could not be conferred upon a more patriotic officer, or upon one who in every way, by his pen, his voice, and by his personal service, has been more prompt for the advancement of the interests and the vindication of the honor of Massachusetts."

The cloud who cried for an hour didn't get it.

The market opened with a fair inquiry but, as operations were checked by the high prefer ences of factors for the kinds most wanted and the scant supply of those descriptions, only a limited business was done during the morning after which the movement showed more spirit without at any time exhibiting much activity, and the sales summed up the amount noted above. The market was strengthened by an improvement at Liverpool of 1-16d in uplands, and at New York of ⅛c in spots, and of 3-16@¼c in futures, but buyers were unwilling to go on at any advance on previous rates.

The amount on shipboard not cleared, going on board and engaged for shipment was set down at the opening this morning at 30,000 bales, embracing 17,000 for Liverpool, 2500 for Havre, 4000 for Cork and a market, 1500 for the North Sea and 5000 for the North, which, when deducted from the stock on hand by our running statement Saturday evening, leaves 25,300 bales to represent the quantity at the landing and in presses unsold or awaiting orders.

The Exchange reports: "Market unchanged. Sales 1750 bales."
