WILL ESTABLISH TRUCK LINE TO HARTWELL; SA.

SEEMS NOW A CERTAINTY AND ALSO A THING OF THE NEAR FUTURE

BIG POSSIBILITIES

Are Open to People of Both Sections—Will Fill Long Felt Need.

An automobile truck and passenger line between Anderson and Hartwell, Ga., seems now a certainty and a thing of the near future.

Mr. S. M. McAdams of Iva was in the city a few days ago and while here told a reporter of the Intelligencer that he was going to establish this truck line. He stated that he was going to Atlanta this week to look at some trucks and that as soon as he purchased one, he would begin operation. He intended to haul passengers as well as freight and stated that the rates for both would be very reasonable.

Dr. W. I. Halley of Hartwell was in the city yesterday and he was asked about the proposed line. He stated that he thought that it would be a great success and that he was going to put forth every effort to have it established as soon as possible. He stated that the people in Hart county were ready for it and were wanting it.

Dr. Halley comes to Anderson several times every week and says that on every trip he has more people wanting to come to Anderson than he can possibly accommodate, and that these people are willing to pay for their transportation. He stated that the people across the river liked Anderson and wanted to do there trading here. He stated that they could get what they wanted in this city and that there was no use of their having to go to Atlanta for some of the things which they bought.

Dr. Halley is one of the staunchest friends of the city of Anderson, and he has been untiring in his efforts to have good roads built between here and Hartwell. He has a regular speedway from the ferry to the town of Hartwell and has also been instrumental in keeping the road between here and Halley's ferry kept in good order. Last year he hired hands at his own expense and brought them across the river where they filled up the holes in the road on this side. Saturday he secured twelve hands and they are at present working on the roads just this side of Savannah river.

For several years the dream of the people of Anderson and of the people of Hartwell has been a railroad or a trolley line which would connect these two fertile sections. Failing for the present in this their efforts for the past few months have been exerted for good highway. These have been established on the Georgia side and it is only a matter of a short time before the road on this side of the river will be put in first class shape like that on the other side.

Although the truck line will not be the railroad, the trolley line or the bridge which has also been greatly desired, it means the opening up of great possibilities for the citizens of these two sections and for the merchants and business men of Anderson.

Has Fine Pepper.
Isiah Blassegame, a colored man who lives in the eastern section of the city has some of the finest Bell pepper that has been seen this year. He states that he has quite a quantity of it and intends putting it on sale.

McCoy-Martin.
Miss Mattie Bowen McCoy and Mr. Maxie Clinckales were married on Sunday by Rev. H. C. Martin of near Belton. Mr. Martin was formerly of Mt. Bethel and Miss McCoy of near Neal's creek. Both are well known in Anderson county.

Salts Is Fine For Kidneys, Quit Meat

Flush the Kidneys at Once When Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only a part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder comb from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidney or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

TOURISTS ARRIVED IN CITY YESTERDAY

Party From Atlanta Had Much Trouble on Account of Heavy Rain Sunday Night.

A party of tourists including Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Dodson of Atlanta and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lewis and little daughter, Martha, of Montezuma, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon and spent last night at the Hotel Chiquola.

On account of the heavy rains on Sunday night the party had a great deal of trouble and spent nearly the entire night between here and the river. Roads became so bad that the Packard automobile in which they were riding slipped in a ditch and their efforts to get it out without help were useless.

Yesterday afternoon upon reaching the city they bought new shoes and laughingly stated that the mud which were on their old ones would never be removed.

Mr. Dodson is the well-known Liver-tonic Medicine man of Atlanta. The party were on their way to Atlantic city.

SLAYS FIGHT DESPERATELY TO CHECK TEUTON ADVANCE

from the Vistula river and forms them back over the Bug, thus splitting the grand duke's forces into two sections, with thousands of acres of swamp and marsh land between them.

If the Austro-Germans can continue their progress another week, even the British press admits the Russians will have to give up Warsaw, and with it the whole line. Meanwhile the Germans are massing more troops in the Baltic provinces, and the recent encounter in the Baltic seems to suggest that they contemplate a co-ordinated naval action, but it is possible that the sea operations only were a feint.

In southeast Galicia the Poles are fighting tenaciously and have the advantage of a remarkable series of parallel rivers beyond the Gnilla Lpa and the Austro-German advance is likely to be costly.

Thus, on their two extreme wings the Russians appear to be firm, and where they are retreating it still is claimed, their retirement is orderly and accompanied by vigorous rear-guard operations. The Austro-Germans advancing in the center, moreover are getting deeper into a country covered with forests and streams and barren of railways, between the middle Vistula and the Bug—natural advantages to the Russians, military writers here emphasize. They point out, too, the daily lengthening chain of Austro-German communications, which brings an added burden to the Teutonic allies.

Some of the British public think the time has come for Great Britain and France to begin a general offensive and force a transfer of German troops from the east, but the more conservative military writers think the time is not at hand, and that the best aid England can lend her eastern ally is to pour into Russia every ounce of ammunition that can be spared without curtailing the necessary supply at the western front.

One of the main aims of the Germans in the east is a vast move behind Warsaw, embracing Brest-Litovsk, one of the strong Russian bases. Civilian residents already are leaving the city because of the possibility of German occupation. Circulars dropped from German aircraft on the Polish capital predict Warsaw's fall by the end of July.

As an explanation of the continued retirement of the Russian center, a Petrograd dispatch says: "The Russians will refuse to accept serious battle in a country devoid of railways."

GERMAN REPLY IS EXPECTED IN WEEK

the death of the Americans on board the Canadian vessel.

The president's information is to the effect that his official family and other officials in Washington are not disposed to regard the Armenian's sinking, at least upon information so far received, as presenting so serious a situation as that of the Lusitania.

The president spent several hours in deep study of the general European situation, both as regards the submarine warfare negotiations and various angles of efforts previously made and under way for peace. He had before him confidential reports handed and transmitted to him by Col. E. M. House, Ambassador Gerard and Secretary of State Lansing.

It was authoritatively stated that there was no definite peace movement under consideration now by the president and that he still maintains that now is not the time to talk of or make any more toward peace.

What London Hears.

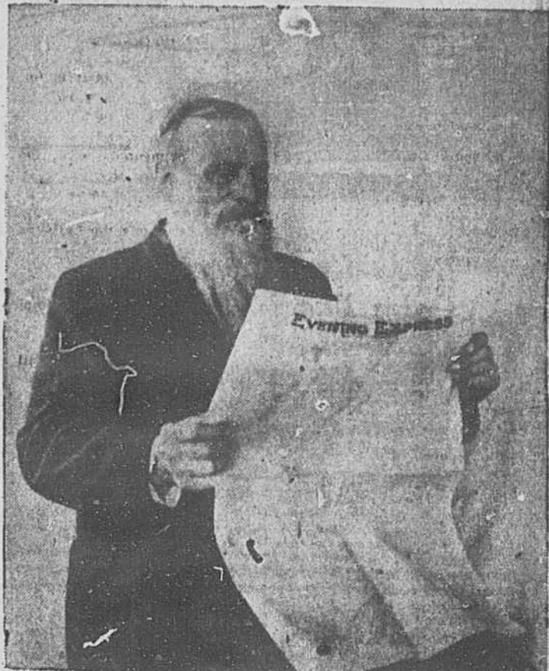

London, July 5.—The Copenhagen correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company, says he learns from the diplomatic source that Germany's reply to the American note, which is expected to reach Washington next week, will include the proposal that American citizens sail only on certain specified vessels, the departure and destination of which shall be announced to the German government.

A joint American and German inspection of these ships to see whether they are neutral and American or British will be suggested. If the proposal is accepted, the correspondent says, Germany will guarantee that such ships will not be molested.

Preliminary Draft Made.

Berlin, July 4.—(Wireless to Sayville.)—The preliminary draft of the German reply to the American note regarding Germany's submarine warfare has been prepared, says the Overseas agency. The draft will be submitted to several German diplomats before being sent forward to Washington.

A Birthday "Shower"

Joseph L. Winslow

On May 25th, last, Joseph L. Winslow, holder of the Mutual Benefit's oldest policy, No. 795, which was issued in 1846, celebrated his 84th birthday anniversary.

It seemed appropriate because of Mr. Winslow's continued friendship for the company that Mutual Benefit agents throughout the United States should show their appreciation indirectly in some way.

By bulletin therefore the company suggested that a postal card shower on Mr. Winslow's birthday anniversary would be very fitting.

In recent issues of The Intelligencer, both daily and semi-weekly, something has been said of Mr. Winslow and his policy, so Mutual Benefit policyholders and others will doubtless be interested in his letter of acknowledgement, addressed to President Freilinghuysen, which follows:

Portland, Maine, May 25th, 1915.

Mr. Frederick Freilinghuysen, Pres.,
Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co.,
752 Broad St.,
Newark, N. J.

My Dear Sir:

I thank you for your courteous letter congratulating me upon the celebration of my 84th birthday. I highly appreciate the courtesy of your remembering me on this anniversary.

As it is a physical impossibility for me to answer personally each letter and postal, or to acknowledge each gift received, I must ask you to convey to each of the gentlemen who remembered me, my grateful thanks and appreciation for the splendid celebration of my birthday.

I am very glad that I hold the oldest policy in force with the Mutual Benefit, especially as my association with the company has afforded me 70 years of the highest grade of personal service which a man could receive from any institution.

Associations often become dear simply through passing of years. But my association with the Mutual Benefit has meant far more than that. For 70 years I have known that my interest in the company was guaranteed by men of the highest integrity and nobility of character; men who realize that money put into life insurance is a sacred trust fund; men who were not bound by the terms of a written contract, but men who saw the vision of all that a Life Insurance Company ought to be; men who in guarding the interests of the company as a whole, had an insight into the needs and desires of each member as an individual.

I am very grateful to my father for his thoughtfulness in taking out this policy for me, and wish it were possible for all boys' fathers to take out policies for them in the Mutual Benefit as soon as the company's rules permit their acceptance.

Will you please extend to each of the gentlemen of the Mutual Benefit, my sincere appreciation of their kindly remembrances. I was overwhelmed with letters, postal cards, telegrams and other evidences that the Mutual Benefit men were thinking of me. Many fine cigars testified that the Mutual Benefit men remembered me in a substantial way.

I have been greatly impressed with the character of the letters which I received. The letters speak volumes of the high character of the men who represent your company. They show that they are just the kind of men that I should expect to represent the Mutual Benefit.

It affords me pleasure to hand you my proxy, carrying as it does, the strongest endorsement of the present policy and present officers of the Mutual Benefit.

Very sincerely,
Joseph L. Winslow.
