Alcorn's Game.

There seems to be no end of suggestions to the opposition in Mississippi. A correspondent of the Louisville Courier-Journal has added his contribution, which is, that one opposition ticket be put in the field with Senator Alcorn at its head, and Samuel Carter for the second place, the latter being a colored Republican, who is understood to be much dissatisfied at his failure to obtain the nomination for Lieutenant Governor from the Republican convention. Then he would have a regular Democratic ticket, headed by ex-Governor B. G. Humphreys, the first or Alcorn ticket being intended to divide and weaken the Republican, and the Humphreys ticket to receive the full Democratic vote and to be elected, after which Alcorn and Carter are to be elected to the United States Senate, the former for the long term and the latter to fill the vacancy. This is a brilliant scheme, and doubtless will thrill the soul of every Mississippi Democrat who reads it, and wishes that it could only be carried out.—New York Times.

Spanish Claims.

The American and Spanish commission is thus far disposed of about ten of the claims before it. The number pending is 8, some of which have been filed since July last. Several are now before the umpire for his decision. It is said at the office of the commission that the business would have been closed eighteen months ago, but for the difficulty of obtaining information outside of the limits of Havana. If the existing rules with regard to the filing of printed memorials and exhibits in both English and Spanish shall not be complied with before the first of November, the cases to which they relate will be dismissed.

Alexandre Dumas used to tell the following anecdote. Being one evening at the Carlo, Naples, he entered into conversation with a stranger sitting in a stall next to him. "I hope," said the latter, at the close of the performance, "that we may have the pleasure of meeting again. I am Alexandre Dumas." "Oh, indeed!" replied the celebrated novelist, with his gay laugh; "so am I." The stranger collapsed.

Little Johnny—"Mamma, what's your business?" asked a judge of a stationer at the bar. "Well, I s'pose you might call me a locksmith." "When I grow up I'll do the same kind of work." "Don't do that work at your trade!" "Last time when I heard a call for the perlice I had to bolt for the front door."

COMMERCIAL.

FRIDAY EVENING, September 12, 1873.

COTTON—The sales to-day reached 450 bales, at full prices, requiring some variation in our quotations, as below. We give also the Exchange figures, which are for average lists according with its types, while our present the proper range of the market for average lists, but with the outside figures for low middling, good ordinary and ordinary given as the outside for strict of those grades:

NEW ORLEANS CLASSIFICATION, ASSIMILATED TO THAT OF LIVERPOOL.

	General quotations.	Exchange quotation.
Low ordinary	— @ —	—
Ordinary	13½ @ —	13½
Strict ordinary	14½ @ —	—
Good ordinary	16 @ —	—
Strict good ordinary	16⅝ @ 17	—
Low middling	17½ @ 18	18
Strict low middling	18½ @ 18¾	—
Middling	18¾ @ 18¾	18½
Strict middling	19 @ 19¼	—
Good middling	— @ —	19¾

The demand was fair and, had the movement not been restricted by scant supplies, the business would, no doubt, have been on a much more liberal scale. Factors were very stringent in their pretensions, and in some cases realized figures above our quotations. Low middling sold at 18c and a fraction less, strict low middling at 18¼, 18⅝ and 18¾c, and Liverpool middling at 18½c. A number of buyers are awaiting more liberal receipts.
