At Last.

Washington dispatches to the Western papers of the thirtieth ultimo, give us the following information. The first portion thereof will be welcome intelligence to army officers:

General Phillip St. George Cook, commanding the Department of the Lakes, has been placed on the retired list, and Lieutenant Colonel George Crook, Department of Arizona, has been appointed Brigadier General of the Department of the Lakes, and the Department of the East has been abolished. The command is now a military division of the Atlantic, under command of General Hancock.

Colonel A. H. Markland, now of Indianapolis, wants to be sergeant-at-arms of the next House of Representatives, and bases his claim on the fact that he was an efficient postoffice agent during the war. If efficiency and usefulness in the postal service is a good reason for giving a man a high and lucrative office, then J. M. G. Parker, of New Orleans, is entitled to the presidency of the United States.—St. Charles Herald.

Louis XIV., who, like many humbler rhymesters, somewhat overrated his poetical powers, showed a copy of verses to Boileau and asked his candid opinion of them. "Ah, sire," said the poet, "I am more convinced than ever that nothing is impossible to your majesty; you desired to write some poor rhymes, and you have succeeded in making them positively detestable."

MONETARY.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY REPUBLICAN,
MONDAY EVENING, November 3, 1873.

Under the influence of the fluctuations in sterling exchange at New York and other unfavorable accounts the market was a little unsettled, but we noticed no marked change in any department. The position of the banks continues to improve, both from the receipts of currency and payments on maturing obligations, some parties paying up 50 ₱ cent and others the face of their notes. Several of the banks will be fully prepared to resume currency payments on this day week, should the majority so determine. There is at the same time a continued fair demand for discounts outside, and nothing has transpired to indicate any change in street rates. We continue to quote selected paper at 2@3 ₱ cent ₱ month; first class at 3@—; other grades entirely nominal; first class mortgage paper at 10@11 ₱ year, and second grade at 12@—.

Some brokers who sell for certified checks report the transactions at the current rate.

No sales of silver were reported. Buotations were nominal.

There was a liberal movement in sterling exchange, but the market was unsettled and private bills gave way ½@1 ₱ cent and bank 1 ₱ cent. The sales amounted to about £64,000, embracing £3000 bill of lading at 112¾@112½, £1000 do at 112½, £10,000 do and £1000 A1 clean at 112¾, £12,000 bill of lading at 112½@113¼, £12,000 bill of lading and $3000 A1 clear at 113, £150 bill of lading at 113¼, £2,000 private bankers' and bank and £5,000 bank at —, £2000 bank at 114½, and $3000 do for remittance at 115½.

COMMERCIAL.

MONDAY EVENING, November 3, 1873.

COTTON—The sales to-day summed up 2300 bales at lower prices, closing at a decline of ⅛c in good ordinary to strict low middling and ⅜@½c on middling and the higher grades. We modify our quotations accordingly and give also the Exchange figures, which are for average lots according with its types, while ours present the proper range of the market for average lots, but with the outside figures for low middling, good ordinary and ordinary given as the outside for strict of those grades.

NEW ORLEANS CLASSIFICATION, ASSIMILATED TO THAT OF LIVERPOOL.

	General quotations.	Exchange quotations.
Ordinary	— @—	—
Strict ordinary	— @—	—
Good ordinary	13¾@14¼	13½
Strict good ordinary	13¾@14¼	—
Low middling	14¼@14¾	14¼
Strict low middling	14¾@15¼	—
Middling	15¼@15½	15¼
Strict middling	15¾@15¾	—
Good middling	16¼@16½	16¼

The market opened under the demoralizing influence of a decline in gold and sterling exchange, but with a very good inquiry at proportionately lower prices, and about 1500 bales changed hands during the morning at an irregular decline of ⅛@¼c; afterward the advantage was more uniformly on the side of the buyers, prices settling down to a decline of ¼@½c, and the entire business summing up the amount noted above. The sales included 300 ordinary, business, at 13c; strict good ordinary at 13½c; low middling at 14 and 14½c; low middling to strict low middling at 14¾c; strict low middling at 14¾, 14¾ and 14¾c; strict low middling to middling at 14¾c; middling at 15c, and good middling at 16¼c. Prices have now sunk to a point at which they are less than the cost of production.

Under unusually heavy receipts and a slack demand for exchange, factors found it expedient to meet the demand freely at our quotations. In fact, some sales were made at less than inside figures and it would require a high style to command the outside.

The amount on shipboard not cleared, going on board, and engaged for shipment was set down at the opening this morning at 39,000 bales, embracing 16,000 for Liverpool, 19,000 for Havre, 2000 for Bremen and 2000 for the North, which, when deducted from the stock on hand by our running statement Saturday evening leaves 15,600 bales to represent the quantity at the landing and in presses unsold or awaiting orders.

The Exchange reports: "Sales 3700 bales market irregular and unsettled." Its quotations are reduced upon all grades.
