SPEAKING SQUARELY.

"I fain would climb, but fear I fall,"
To Bess wrote Raleigh.
"If thy heart fail, climb not at all,"
Bess answered fairly
So answered Raleigh sweet Queen Bess
In words that did a world express.

Few better read the human heart
Than Courtier Raleigh.
He plays at Jove a humble part.
That speaks not squarely;
And Raleigh doubted a bolder face
And won the sovereign lady's grace.

Long shone the light in courts and camps
Of Soldier Raleigh.
He may have been the worst of scamps,
But he spoke squarely;
And so prevailed on Mistress Fame
To breathe a magic o'er his name.

Yet who can say the task is light
Of speaking squarely?
True lovers in their ladies' sight
Are bold but rarely.
Else had I been more blessed to-night,
Than Walter Raleigh.
But I like him have feared to fail,
And therefore have not climbed at all.

The Temperature.

Mr. Louis Frigerio, No. 50 Chartres street, reports the weather for the past two days as follows:

	8 A. M.	2 P. M.	6 P. M.
January 1	56	72	69
January 2	60	66	63

Lowest point during the night of January 1, 48°.

A young married lady is the sensation in social circles in England just now. She is a Hindoo, from Madras, who, although belonging to a high caste, has ventured not only to cross the ocean, but also to mix freely in London society, and to conform generally to the social customs of the country. Accompanied by her husband she has visited the chief objects of interest in the metropolis and in several of the provincial cities. She is the first Hindoo lady who has broken through the barriers of prejudice and caste in order to visit England.

The Richmond, Virginia Enquirer, says:

A fine equestrian painting, nine by seven feet, representing the last meeting between General R. E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson on the day before the battle of Chancellorsville, painted by Mr. E. B. O. Julio, of New Orleans, is on exhibition at the store of Messrs. John H. Tyler & Co., Main street. It is valued at $10,000, and will be presented to the Lee Memorial Chapel, at Lexington.

It is now discovered that the account of a "balloon" being found in a tree in North Africa, and supposed to have traveled southward from France during the Franco-German war, is founded on a typographical error. The word should have been printed "baboon."

A physician once remarked that a small blow would break the nose. He might have changed his mind if he had heard the blast given on a facial bugle in the theatre last night. It was loud and long and the blower not injured.

Seven vessels of the Pacific whaling fleet put in an appearance at San Francisco bringing a total of 11,300 barrels of oil and 300 pounds of bone and 10,600 pounds of ivory.

Time is a valuable the only thing of which it is a virtuous covetous.

Monetary--Commercial.

MONETARY.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY REPUBLICAN, FRIDAY EVENING, January 2, 1874.

The money market exhibits less stringency, the demand for discounts on the street not being quite as strong as for several days past, and rates for first class paper, accompanied by unexceptionable collaterals, being easier, but without quotable variation. The offerings at the banks are of fair extent, and are liberally met, at least for all approved paper. We continue to quote street rates for first class paper, accompanied by unexceptionable collaterals, at 1@1½ ⅌ cent ⅌ month; A1 without collaterals at 1½@— and second grade at 2@3. First class mortgage paper continues to rule at 10 ⅌ cent ⅌ annum, and second grade at 11@12.

The market appeared to be rather quiet at the opening, but the demand soon became quite active and prices hardened, after which the movement continued animated up to the close, resulting in the liberal business noted above. Ordinary sold at 11½c, strict ordinary at 12½c, good ordinary at 13½c, strict good ordinary at 13¾c, low middling at 14¾c, strict low middling at 15¼c, middling at 16c, strict low middling at 15¾c and middling at 16⅛c. Yesterday's business is reported to have been at rather easier rates, but to-day, under the competion among buyers, prices hardened as noted above.

The sales for the past three days sum up 21,150 bales (6500 on Wednesday, 3600 yesterday and 11,050 to-day), making, with the addition of 500 bales to Tuesday's report, an aggregate for the week of 48,700 bales, against 47,600 last week and 49,000 the week before.

Week's receipts 78,280 bales, embracing 5613 from other delivery ports (of which 4538 from Mobile, 50 from Florida, and 1042 from Texas), and 72,667 proper, against 74,240 proper last week and 24,826 last year. Total proper since August 31, 564,607 bales, against 484,774 last year—increase 79,833.

The sales embraced 1300 hhds at 4¾@4⅞c for inferior; 5@5½c for common; 6¼@6½c for fair; 6¾@7c for good fair; 7¼c for strictly good fair, 7½ for fully fair; 8c for prime; 8½c for strictly prime; 8½c for strictly prime to choice; 6@8c for seconds; 8½@9½c for yellow clarified; and 9¾@10¼c ⅌ ℔ for white clarified. Stock in the sheds 13,950 bbls, 241 half bbls and 2 hhds.

FLOUR—The market is quiet but firm, with a small stock on hand. We note a fair local trade. The foreign demand is checked by the want of freight room. CORN MEAL—The stock is held higher on account of advanced freights in the West. 100 bbls sold at $3 25 ⅌ bbl, with holders asking more.

PORK—Is dull. Mess is quoted in round lots at $15 25; retailing at $15 50@16 ⅌ ℔.
