across the continent, which would be managed in the interests of the people. After the work is fairly begun it would be completed in three years.

Relief of the Poor.

The president of the Produce Exchange has been requested by many members to convene that body, to consider what steps can be taken for the relief of the poor of this city.

A Distillery Raid in New York Harbor.

Revenue officers, with a file of United States soldiers, made a descent on a large illicit distillery on Barren island, New York harbor, last night. A complete destruction of the distillery was effected, and 50,000 gallons of mash, twenty hogsheads of molasses, forty-five barrels of rum and one schooner were seized. The total value of the property seized is $12,000.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Trouble with the Indians.

OMAHA, February 11.—The excitement over the Indian news is becoming great. There is no doubt but that, in consequence of the failure of the agents to provide for them, the Indians are leaving their reservations for the purpose of providing for themselves, at the expense of settlers, herders and ranchmen.

The following is officially received by General Ruggles from the commandant at Sidney, Nebraska:

Wheeler and Merchant, reliable ranchmen, state that a party of Indians drove them six miles last night. They abandoned their herd and came to Sidney.

This ranche is near Courthouse Rock; am I authorized to send cavalry to drive these Indians across the Platte? No news from Morton's party. The commanding officer at Sidney was directed by telegraph to send out all his available cavalry to Lawrence Fork, as far as Redington's ranche.

General Reynolds, commanding at Fort Russell, has been instructed by telegraph to send out two cavalry companies, under reliable officers, to the same place, thence to thoroughly scout the country and drive the raiding Indians within the reach of North Platte river, and to take six days cooked rations and sixty rounds of ammunition with them.

Arrival of the Bodies of the Siamese Twins.

PHILADELPHIA, February 11.—Yesterday the case containing the bodies of the Siamese twins was opened in the presence of a number of medical gentlemen. The embalming process has not been entirely satisfactory in its results, owing to the fact that when the bodies were subjected to that process decomposition was already far advanced. At the same time it is believed the main points of interest in the case will be fully elucidated by an autopsy. A number of medical gentlemen were present at the college last night and steps were taken to commence operations. Plaster casts of the bodies were taken yesterday.

Pomeroy's Case.

TOPEKA, February 11.—The House of Representatives to-day, by a vote of 37 to 26, passed a resolution requesting the county attorney to take steps for bringing ex-Senator Pomeroy to trial.

Judgment for Damages.

CLEVELAND, February 11.—To-day, in the Superior Court of this city, the case of Edward Lyle against the Cuyahoga Lodge I. O. O. F., the jury returned a verdict for plaintiff for $10,000. Lyle, it was claimed, failed to deliver money intrusted to him for the widow of a deceased member of the lodge, and the lodge issued a circular denouncing his dishonesty, whereupon Lyle entered suit for damages.

Women's Temperance Movement.

ACTON, O., February 11.—Four hundred women here have enlisted in the temperance movement. The organization was completed this noon, and work will be commenced to-morrow morning.

Republican Nomination for Governor of Connecticut.

HARTFORD, February 11.—The Republican State Convention has nominated Henry B. Harrison for Governor.

Death of N. P. Trist.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., February 11.—N. P. Trist, formerly of Philadelphia, chief clerk in the office of Secretary of State, under Mr. Marcey, during Polk's administration, and negotiator of the treaty of Guadaloupe Hidalgo, since the war postmaster here, died this morning, aged seventy-four years.

Naval.

FORT MONROE, Va., February 11.—The United States steamer Powhatan passed out this evening from Norforlk, for the Delaware breakwater to convoy the Monitor Cannonicus to Key West. The steamer Western Metropolis passed out for New York.

A Safe Robbery in Boston.

BOSTON, February 11.—The safe of Broman, Dow & Co., of Haymarket square, was robbed last night of $8000.

Severe Storm on the Atlantic Coast—The Ajax.

SAVANNAH, February 11.—The storm of Sunday last was one of the severest along the coast in many years.

The monitor Ajax passed through the entire gale uninjured. During the blow on the night of the eighth she parted, however, from the Ossipee, and was not discovered until the following day after the storm had abated.

New York Legislature on the Centennial.

ALBANY, February 11.—In the Assembly to-day a resolution for the appointment of commissioners to represent the State at the centennial exhibition at Philadelphia was rejected, and a substitute that the present commission appoint a sub-committee to represent the State, without pay, was adopted.

Result of the Elections.

LONDON, February 11, 6 A. M.—Two hundred and fifty-four Conservatives and 180 Liberals have been returned to the House from England; 15 Conservatives and 36 Liberals from Scotland, and 21 Conservatives and 44 Liberals and Home Rulers from Ireland.

There was much rioting at Chesterfield and Barnsley yesterday, and many policemen were injured.

Good Advice from Carlyle.

A new book by Cunningham Geikie, addressed to young men, contains the following admirable letter from Carlyle, hitherto unpublished:

CHELSEA, March 13, 1843.

DEAR SIR—Some time ago your letter was delivered me. I take literally the first free half hour I have had since to write you a word of answer.

It would give me true satisfaction could any advice of mine contribute to forward you in your honorable course of self-improvement, but a long experience has taught me that advice can profit but little; that there is a good reason why "advice is so seldom followed"—this reason, namely, that it is so seldom, and can almost never be, rightly given. No man knows the state of another; it is always to some more or less imaginary man that the wisest and most honest adviser is speaking.

As to the books which you, whom I know so little of, should read there is hardly anything definite that can be said. For one thing you may be strenuously advised to keep reading. Any good book, any book that is wiser than yourself, will teach you something—a great many things, directly and indirectly, if your mind be open to learn. The old counsel of Johnson's is also good and universally applicable. "Read the book you do honestly feel a wish and curiosity to read. The very wish and curosity indicates that you then and there are the person likely to get good of it." "Our wishes are presentments of our capabilities." That is a noble saying, of deep encouragement to all true men, applicable to our wishes and efforts in regard to reading as to other things. Among all the objects that look wonderful or beautiful to you to follow with fresh hope the one that looks wonderfulest, beautifulest. You will gradually, by various trials (which trials see that you make honest, manful ones, not silly, short, fitful ones) discover what is for you the wonderfulest, beautifulest; what is your true element and province, and be able to abide by that. True desire, the monition of nature, is much to be attended to. But here, also, you are to discriminate between true desire and false. The medical men tell us we should eat what we truly have an appetite for, but what we only falsely have an appetite for we should resolutely avoid. It is very true. And flimsy, "desultory" readers, who fly from foolish book to foolish book and get good of none and mischief of all, are not these as foolish, unhealthy eaters who mistake their superficial, false desire after spiceries and confectioneries for the real appetite, of which even they are not destitute, though it lies far deeper, far quieter, after solid, nutritive food? With these illustrations I will recommend Johnson's advice to you.

Another thing, and only one other, I will say. All books are properly the record of the history of past men had in them, what actions past men did, the summary of all books whatsoever lies there. It is on this ground that the class of books specifically named history can be safely recommended as the basis of all study of books; the preliminary to all right and full understanding of anything we can expect to find in books. Past history, and especially the past history of one's own native country—everybody may be advised to begin with that. Let him study that faithfully, innumerable inquiries, with due indications, will branch out from it; he has a broad, beaten highway from which all the country is more or less visible—there traveling, let him choose where he will dwell.

Neither let mistakes nor wrong directions, of which every man, in his studies and elsewhere, falls into many, discourage you. There is precious instruction to be got by finding that we were wrong. Let a man try faithfully, manfully to be right; he will grow daily more and more right. It is at bottom the condition on which all men have to cultivate themselves. Our very walking is an incessant falling; a falling and a catching of ourselves before we come actually to the pavement! It is emblematic of all things a man does.

In conclusion I remind you that it is not by books alone, or by books chiefly, that a man becomes in all points a man. Study to do faithfully whatsoever thing in your actual situation, there and now, you find either expressly or tacitly laid to your charge—that is your post; stand in it like a true soldier; silently devour the many chagrins of it, as all human situations have many, and be your aim not to quit it without doing all that it, at least, requires you. A man perfects himself by work much more than by reading. They are a growing kind of men that can wisely combine the two things; wisely, valiantly, can do what is laid to their hand in their present sphere, and prepare themselves withal for doing other wider things, if such lie before them. With many good wishes and encouragements, I remain yours sincerely,

THOMAS CARLYLE.

The Spanish fort of San Juan de Pinos, now called Fort Marion, at St. Augustine, Florida, is the oldest fortification on the western continent still used as a place of defense. It covers about an acre of ground, and would accommodate a garrison of one thousand men, with one hundred guns. It was begun in 1620, and completed in 1756, the Indians being compelled to do the labor of building. Over the entrance is the Spanish coat of arms, and the name of the then governor, the chief engineer of the works, and the date of the completion of the fort. In 1835 a dungeon was discovered by the caving of a wall from above, and in it were two iron cages, just large enough to admit the body of a man, and each contained a human skeleton. Who the victims were there is no tradition to tell. In one of the dungeons Osceola was chained, previous to his removal to Fort Moultrie. The fort is now garrisoned by an old sergeant.

Writing on the benefits of foreign travel, Rev. Dr. Storrs says:

Men send their sons to Europe that they may learn languages; but every man can not go to Europe. It is not safe for every one to go there. I have seen men come back from Europe who reminded me very much of their valises—pasted over with the names of a great many hotels and cities, and half defaced pictures of mountains and lakes, but with constitutions very much battered, and less inside than when they started.

MONETARY.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY REPUBLICAN, WEDNESDAY EVENING, February 11, 1874.

The money market continues quiet and easy, with limited offerings, both in bank and on the streets, and the few transactions reported in commercial paper indicate no quotable variation in rates. We continue to quote first class paper, with collaterals, at 10@12 ₱ cent ₱ annum; without collaterals at 12; A1 at 1@1½ ₱ month, and second grade at 2. First class mortgages rule at 10@11 ₱ cent ₱ annum, but no transactions are reported in second class.

The following telegrams were posted at the Cotton Exchange:

NEW YORK, February 11, 11 A. M.—Money rate 5. Carrying rate, gold, 2⅝.

P. M.—Money rate 5. Carrying rate, gold, 4.

LONDON, February 11, 4 P. M.—Amount of bullion gone into Bank of England, on balance to day $3 000.

Gold opened at 111⅝@111¾, against 112 at New York, and, after a fair business, closed at 111⅞@112⅛, against 112⅛ in that market, where it touched 112⅜ during the interim. The sales summed up $73,000, embracing $2000 at 111⅞; $10,000 at 111⅞, $24,000 at 112, $30,000 at 111⅞@112⅛, and $7000 at 112⅛.

No sales of silver were reported. American half-dollars are still quoted at 109@110, and Mexican dollars at 110⅜@111.

Sterling exchange opened at about yesterday's closing figures, but under the influence of an early advance in gold and an improvement in bills at New York, closed 3-16 ₱ cent higher for commercial bills, and 2-16 for bank. The sales were of liberal extent, amounting to £92,700, and comprising £1500 A1 clear at ⅝ 35; £1000 and £1200 do at ⅝ 36; £3000 bill of lading and £2500 do and A1 clear at ⅝ 36@⅝ 37; £5000 bill of lading at ⅝ 36@⅝ 37½; £2000 do at ⅝ 37; £30,000 bill of lading at ⅝ 36½@⅝ 37½; £20,000 bill of lading and £3000 do and A1 clear at ⅝ 37@⅝ 37½; £1500 bank at ⅝ 39; £14,000 do at —; £300 and £1200 do at ⅝ 40, and $1000 do sight at ⅝ 44.

The sales of francs included 25,000 and 50,000 commercial at 4.68¾, and 20,000 do at 4.68⅛.

At the close sterling bills were quoted at ⅝ 36½@⅝ 37½ for bill of lading and A1 clear, and ⅝ 40@⅝ 41 for bank, and francs at 4.66¾@4.67½ for private, and nominal at 4.65 for bank.

The offerings of domestic exchange were of fair extent, and rates were at previous figures. The sales were large, covering $538,000 New York sight, and embracing $25,000, $30,000 and $50,000 commercial and $25,000, $25,000, $40,000 and $130,000 private bankers' at ⅛ ₱ cent discount; $5000 private bankers' at 7-16, and $8000 thirty days' at ⅛. A sale also of $20,000 commercial on Boston was reported at ⅛ discount.

The banks continued to check on New York at ⅛ ₱ cent discount, and commercial sight was still quoted at ⅜.

The only sales of stocks reported were 100 shares of New Orleans and Jackson Railroad Company at $6 50, and 100 shares of Mechanics and Traders' Bank at $24. The strength of the market was fully tested by a copious list of bank stocks and other shares and securities being offered at public sale by Messrs. Nash & Hodgson, auctioneers, which attracted quite a numerous company, but no sales were reported. We heard, however, that 11 shares New Orleans Gaslight Company sold at the inside rate of $134.

Under the influence of a confident impression that the Legislature will not attempt to scale the city debt, the demand for city gold bearing seven per cents was more active, and opening at 52 the market closed at 54⅛@55. The sales embraced $5000 at 54; $1000, $5000 and $5000 at 54⅛; $50,000 in several amounts at 52@55, and $15,000 at 55⅛.

City appropriation certificates were still in demand, and were quoted at 61, against 60 yesterday, but no sales were reported.

Nothing transpired in Metropolitan Police warrants, which were still quoted at 73.

Old and new State warrants continue rather quiet, and are still quoted at 48@49 for round amounts of large denomination, and 50@51 for small. The sales included $4000 at 48⅞, and $1800 at 50.

COMMERCIAL.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, February 11, 1874.

COTTON—The sales to-day (not including 300 and 600 additional yesterday, the latter very late) summed up 9000 bales at irregular prices, a part being at previous rates, a part being at figures which would not have been accepted yesterday, and a part at an advance of ⅛c, closing strong without quotable advance. We accordingly repeat yesterday's quotations, and give also those of the Exchange, as below:

	General quotations	Exchange quotations.
Low ordinary	8⅝@9⅛	9⅛
Ordinary	10⅝@11	10⅞
Strict ordinary	11⅝@12	—
Good ordinary	13⅛@13⅜	13⅜

At the opening the market appeared to be quiet, but a fair business was, nevertheless, done during the morning at full prices for all clean white, and even running lists and irregular rates for other descriptions; after which, toward 2 P. M., the demand became more active and continued so at the close, resulting in reported sales to the extent noted above. This does not include 1000 bales for to morrow's delivery. At the close, some brokers who had purchased to a fair extent, expressed the conviction that the actual sales proper were not less than 11,000 bales, which, if correct, is a matter of no too much importance to the trade not to be made public. The mere fact, however, of such a report being in circulation, indicates the spirit that prevailed from 3 to 4:30 P. M. It is not, therefore, surprising that some factors thought quotations ought to have been advanced.

The amount on shipboard, not cleared, going on board, and engaged for shipment was set down at the opening this morning at 130,000 bales, embracing 61,000 bales for Liverpool, 19,000 for Havre, 5000 for the Mediterranean, 3000 for Spain, 6000 for Bremen, 24,000 for the North Sea and 12,000 for the North, which, when deducted from the stock on hand by our running statement yesterday evening, leaves 208,700 bales to represent the quantity at the landing and in presses unsold or awaiting orders.

The Exchange reports: "Sales 10,750 bales, including 2400 yesterday after 3 P. M. Demand active; market strong."
