LITERARY NOTES.

A dictionary of Scottish musicians, from the year 1400 to the present day, is now on the press.

An important number of the Columbia College studies in history, economics and public law is an elaborate "History of Elections in the American Colonies," by Cortlandt F. Bishop, Ph. D. That history began on July 30, 1619, in Virginia, with an election at which "the inhabitants" of the colony voted for burgesses. The development of the system of suffrage in each colony is not without interest, even from the point of view of present day politicians.

S. R. Stoddard, of Glens Falls, N. Y., has published the sixteenth revised edition of his map of the Adirondack Wilderness. In contrast with its predecessors, it shows the Adirondack State Park in an overtint.

The real name of the most distinguished Dutch novelist of his time, "Maarten Maartens," is Van de Poorten Schwarz.

The recent celebration of the Izaak Walton tercentenary has recalled among many facts one which goes to show that he was an uncommonly sturdy royalist. It was he who saved the exiled Charles II's Collar of the Garter, and he did it in this fashion: "Colonel Blaque remained at Mr. Barlow's house at Blore Pipe, in Staffordshire, where, with Mr. Barlow's privity and advice, he hid His Majesty's George under a heap of dust and chips, whence it was conveyed through the trusty hands of Mr. Robert Milward, of Stafford, to Mr. Izaak Walton, who conveyed it to London to Colonel Blaque, then in the Tower, whence escaping, not long after, he carried it with him beyond seas and restored it to His Majesty's own hands."

The Czarevitch is said to have well developed literary tastes. The long descriptive letters which he has sent home during his travels have been highly praised.

Professor GOLDWIN SMITH'S
NEW BOOK.
THE UNITED STATES.
AN OUTLINE OF POLITICAL HISTORY,
1492-1871.
By GOLDWIN SMITH, D. C. L.

Author of "Canada and the Canadian Question." 12mo. With Map. Cloth, $2.00.

"It is 'an outline of Political History,' and as such it fills its own particular niche, as those who are familiar with Goldwin Smith's vigorous and interest-commanding style will know. As a literary stylist he has no rivals among his contemporaries. That he is a partisan does not detract from the interest of his book. The fact that it may not express the views of the average American on the questions at issue will not prevent its having numerous readers and leading to endless discussion."—Chicago Tribune.

D. APPLETON & CO.'S NEW BOOKS.

GENERAL JOHNSTON.

By ROBERT M. HUGHES. A new volume in the Great Commanders Series, edited by GEN. JAMES GRANT WILSON. With Portrait and Maps. 12mo. Cloth, gilt top, $1.50.

The active and varied career of General Joseph E. Johnston, the conspicuous part which he took in the Civil War, the differences of opinion between Jefferson Davis and himself, and their effect upon the fortunes of the Confederacy, render the story of his life one of engrossing interest and great historical importance. The author has had access to unpublished documents and other sources of fresh information, which impart to his work a distinctive quality and a special and permanent value.

THE GILDED MAN
(EL DORADO).
And Other Pictures of the Spanish Occupancy of America.
By A. F. BANDELIER. 12mo. Cloth, $1.50.

The author here describes the adventures and romantic episodes attendant upon the early Spanish explorations of our Southwest. The scene of the story which gives its title to the volume is laid in Venezuela, and the legend of EL DORADO is for the first time told accurately in popular form. With this exception, the tales relate to our own country. They include the stories of the mysterious "Seven Cities of Cibola," "El Quivira," and others of equal dramatic interest and historical value.

FACTORS IN AMERICAN CIVILIZATION.

STUDIES IN APPLIED SOCIOLOGY. A Series of Fourteen Popular Lectures and Discussions before the Brooklyn Ethical Association. 12mo. Cloth, $2.00.

This is uniform with the two previous volumes of the series, entitled respectively "Evolution in Science and Art" and "Man and the State." The lectures are by well-known writers and speakers, the range of topics embracing all the more important sociological questions of the time.

ON THE OLD FRONTIER.

By WILLIAM O. STODDARD, author of "Crowded Out o' Crofield," "Little Smoke," "The Battle of New York," etc. Illustrated by H. D. MURPHY. (Good Books for Young Readers' Series.) 12mo. Cloth, $1.50.

In this thrilling story Mr. Stoddard is at his best. He describes the vicissitudes of the settlers in Western New York, which was the frontier of the last century, the homely yet adventurous existence at Plum Hollow Fort, the plottings of the Iroquois, their assemblage in the great Council House, and their final desperate raid. A boy is the hero of the book, and every American boy and girl should read it for its historical value as well as for its romantic interest.
