THE HORSES DRAGGED HIM TO HIS DEATH.

The gates at the railroad crossing at One-hundred-and-thirty-eighth-st., south of the Mott Haven station, were being closed at the approach of a New-Haven train at 9 a. m. yesterday when a team of horses attached to one of Dunlap's express wagons took fright near the station and started to run across the tracks. James Hawthorn, the driver, vainly tugged at the reins. The horses dashed against the gates and broke them down. Hawthorn kept his seat on the wagon as the horses rushed across the tracks. The swiftly moving train struck and wrecked the wagon and killed Hawthorn instantly, but the horses escaped injury. Hawthorn lived in Marcy-ave., Brooklyn.

Dr. Rooker, while in the country, visited nearly all the Western States and the Chicago Fair. MARION DARCHE:
A Story without Comment.
By F. MARION CRAWFORD. In the uniform series of Mr. Crawford's novels. 12mo. Cloth. Price, $1.00.
Mr. Crawford's "new work 'Marion Darche' is destined to have a great popularity. It is in a new vein. In its scenes and incidents it is American through and through. The situations described are almost sensationally dramatic, and the plot . . . is skilfully developed. 'Marion Darche' is, like all of Mr. Crawford's women, a pure, exalted, noble character. Incidentally we have a discussion of the question of divorce which is suggestive. The average reader will find this a most readable novel."—Boston Daily Advertiser.

D. APPLETON & CO.'S NEW BOOKS.
POEMS OF NATURE.
By WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT. Profusely Illustrated by Paul de Longpre. 8vo. Cloth, gilt, $4.00.
These verses offer a full expression of the great poet's love of Nature. The volume contains over forty poems, the list beginning with the classic "To a Waterfowl," and closing with "Our Fellow-Worshippers." M. Longpre, an exact as well as a loving student of the fields and forests, has gathered a rich harvest of the American flora, and his thoroughly artistic and beautiful studies, comprising nearly one hundred subjects, have the value of truthful records as well as high aesthetic worth.
"The poetry of William Cullen Bryant is distinguished beyond that of any other American poet by the fidelity with which Nature is depicted therein. . . . No one has caught the picturesque spirit of his text so successfully as Paul de Longpre in these poems of Nature."—Richard Henry Stoddard, in the Book Buyer.
THE BRONTES IN IRELAND.
By Dr. WILLIAM WRIGHT. With Portraits and numerous Illustrations. 12mo. Cloth, $1.50.
This book presents a new and thrilling page in the family history of the Bronte sisters. It tells of a foundling and the evil which he wrought to his benefactors; of an innocent child taken from his family, whom he never saw again, to a life of slavery; of the Homeric battles of Irish peasantry; and it pictures Charlotte Bronte's uncle as he prepared a new blackthorn and crossed England to wreak Irish vengeance upon a malicious reviewer of "Jane Eyre." It is a book of absorbing interest.
GENERAL THOMAS.
By HENRY COPPEE, LL. D., Professor in Lehigh University; formerly an officer of artillery in the United States Army. A new volume in the Great Commanders Series, edited by Gen. James Grant Wilson. With Portrait and Maps. 12mo. Cloth, gilt top, $1.50.
The reputation of General Thomas has grown steadily since the war, and in late years especially the exact historical rank of the great soldier has become a matter of earnest discussion. Professor Henry Coppee's discriminating and admirable biography is judicial, not controversial, and it supplies a just and authoritative study of a most distinguished military career.

LETTERS OF TRAVEL,
BY
PHILLIPS BROOKS.
8vo, 392 pages, cloth, gilt top, $2.00.
These letters have been selected from his correspondence with members of his family, and are a record of his travel and experiences. A few of them were printed in the August and September numbers of "The Century," and were read with very general interest. One paper in noticing them, said: "Nothing reveals so impressively the 'great heart' of this unique man, as these letters, written of course with no thought of publication. In a single paragraph he tells us more of the people whom he visited and the practices and customs which he saw than others do in a volume."
Another says: "Mr. Brooks describes his experiences with that winning artlessness characteristic of his conversation, and many little expressive phrases will be found to delight the reader."
