How Sewage is Purified by Bacteria.

"One of the best examples of modern methods and equipment for sewage purification is the plant recently built for treating the sewage at Atlanta, Ga., where the first Imhoff septic tanks ever installed in this country are in service," says the August Popular Mechanics Magazine in an illustrated article. "Septic tanks of this type, though a comparatively recent invention, are already in common use in the Erie River valley, and other sections of Germany, and are said to have proved the best means yet discovered for the first stage in the bacterial treatment of sewage. The Imhoff tank is simply a modification of the ordinary septic tank, which is itself an enlarged and improved cesspool. As in the case of the cesspool the process of treating sewage by this method depends on the action of bacteria, but in the septic tank this action is carried out rapidly and on a large scale.

"The raw sewage enters the Imhoff tank through a series of floats spaced across the end. It then flows slowly through the tank, and the liquid is finally discharged through outlets at the opposite end, which lead to the filtering beds. The first bacterial action on the sewage takes place during its passage through this tank. There is nothing done to bring this about or to assist it, the action being a natural one exactly like the decomposition that takes place in a cesspool. Much of the solid matter contained in the sewage is decomposed before it sinks and is transformed into a liquid, but the heavier parts settle through a slot into a compartment below known as the sludge-digestion chamber. The process does not end with this. The deposit of sludge is being constantly decomposed and transformed into a liquid by the bacteria, so that the accumulation of sludge is so slow that the chamber can ordinarily go for months without being cleaned out."

Seeing Bullets Fly.

The most amazing sight in our experience was the United States service bullet with its speed of 2,700 ft. per second. Here we saw the bullet itself, not flying particles. The sun was low over the eastern hills. Its rays came through a break in the ridge bordering the range lighting up most of the course of the bullet up to the target 200 yd. away, but leaving the target and the firing point in deep shadow. The first bullet was seen by some one, and not a man present missed the strange sight later on. The appearance was a very brilliant silvery flash, as vivid and quick as a flash of lightning.

But two things are necessary to see bullets fly, a dark background, and the sun at right angles to its course. Big-gun projectiles are of course nearly always visible, and it is not hard to see a charge of shot in flight if one knows what to look for and where to stand.—Edward C. Crossman, in the August Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Fruit Gathering Device Resembles Umbrella.

To simplify the work of gathering fruit which does not necessarily require hand picking, a canvass-apron device has been invented which in appearance is similar to a large umbrella. The device is described in the August Popular Mechanics Magazine. It is so arranged that it may be placed about the trunk of a tree, forming a funnel into which apples or oranges are caught as a tree is shaken. In the center of the device is a cloth arranged in such a manner as to break the fall of the fruit as it rolls into the chutes and is discharged in baskets or boxes placed on the ground. The canvass is supported by radial arms which may be folded over on one side to permit the device, which is mounted on a cart, to be wheeled between the various rows of trees in an orchard.

Italian Cruiser Goes Down With 500 of Crew.

The Giuseppe Garibaldi, an Italian cruiser is the second warship to be lost in the Adriatic since Italy entered the war. The vessel was torpedoed by an Austrian submarine south of Ragusa. The Amalfi was sunk a few days before. All the crew of the Giuseppe Garibaldi, some 550 men, were said to have gone down with her.

The Giuseppe Garibaldi was an armored cruiser of 7,534 tons displacement. She was 344 feet long and was laid down in 1898. She was armed with one 10-inch, two 8-inch, fourteen 6-inch and ten 3-inch guns. Four ships of this class were built for Italy. One was subsequently sold to the Argentine Republic; a second was sold to Spain and renamed the Cristobal Colon, which was sunk during the Spanish-American war; a third was sold to Argentina, and a fourth retained by Italy.

Ragusa is a fortified Austrian seaport thirty-eight miles southwest of Cattaro.

Sage Tea Puts Life And Color in Hair

Don't Stay Gray! It Darkens So Naturally That Nobody Can Tell.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

And many a man who starts with cold feet makes a hot finish.

Brakeman Was Cured.

F. A. Woolsey, a railroad brakeman of Jacksonville, Texas, writes: "I was down with kidney trouble and rheumatism so bad I could hardly get up when I sat down. I had a back-ache all the time and was almost tired of living. I saw Foley Kidney Pills advertised. I took some and after a short time I was thoroughly cured and am having no more trouble." They act promptly and help kidneys throw poisonous waste products out of the blood. Thousands have written similar letters. Sold everywhere.

Easy to See Through Both.

Philo—Did you say window or window?
Sopher—I said widow; but they are both very much alike.

Philo—How so?
Sopher—When I get near either of them I always look out.—Judge.

Couldn't Keep Up
Old Gentleman (to passenger in box train)—Have you had a rough crossing, sir?

Passenger—Yes; pitch and toss the whole way—and I lost every time.—The Attaler.

Occasionally a fool and his money make a noise like a good thing.

ANOTHER ANDERSON CASE

It Proves That There's a Way Out for Many Suffering Anderson Folks.

Just another report of a case in Anderson. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Anderson with Dean's Kidney Pills.

W. B. Moore, prop. of confectionery, Earl St., Anderson, says: "I suffered intensely from backache and other kidney ailments. When I stooped, a sharp pain caught me in the small of my back and I could hardly straighten. The kidney secretions passed too often and the flow was scanty. I have had to get up six times in a single night to pass the secretions and they pained terribly. I often had dizzy spells so bad that I would have fallen if I hadn't put my hand on the wall for support. After suffering for about three months, I got some at Evans' Pharmacy. The first box relieved me and three boxes fixed me up in good shape."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Dean's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Moore had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
