CASUALTIES AT SANTIAGO.

A COMPLETE LIST OF KILLED AND WOUNDED FURNISHED BY GENERAL SHAFTER.

Washington, July 26.—The first full and authentic list of the casualties in the battles before Santiago has reached the Department in an official communication from General Shafter to Adjutant-General Corbin, dated July 12. General Shafter says he reports the names of killed, wounded and missing in action at El Caney and San Juan on July 1, 2 and 3. The reports were submitted in such a way as to make their compilation difficult. In many cases they were mere memorandums in lead pencil and on irregular slips and sheets of paper, the best obtainable at the time. General Shafter says:

It is thought that this list is as near correct as it is possible to make it at this date. It may be subject to a few corrections, especially in regard to the missing of the 71st New-York Volunteer Infantry, many of whom have been accounted for before this, but no report received.

General Lawton, commanding the second division of the Fifth Army Corps, in his returns remarks:

The general commanding this division having received two urgent calls to move the division to the assistance of the troops fighting in front of Santiago, assembled the division immediately after the firing ceased, and marched it on the road toward Santiago without waiting to ascertain the loss of his own command or of the enemy, leaving a battalion of the 7th Infantry on the field to bury the dead and carry off the wounded on both sides. Therefore, the delay in making this report. . . . It may not be out of place to call attention to the peculiar character of this battle. It having been fought against an enemy fortified and intrenched within a compact town of stone and concrete houses, some with walls several feet thick and supported by a number of covered forts cut in solid stone, and the enemy continuing to resist until nearly every man was killed or wounded—a desperation apparently predetermined.

A recapitulation of casualties shows:
