TRIES TO LET LION LOOSE

Man Says He Planned to Give Animal Square Meal at Waldorf.

Because he thought Bismarck, one of the lions in the Central Park menagerie, was not getting enough to eat, a man who gave his name as Albert Bruno Max von Fulberg tried to open the door in the lion's cage yesterday afternoon. Fulberg had slipped the latch and partly opened the door, when the roaring of the lion and the clanging of the steel door attracted Patrolman Smith, who was stationed in the house, and one of the keepers. Fulberg was seized before he could climb over the three-foot railing which surrounds the cages, to keep visitors at a safe distance from the animals.

As it was a stormy day, there were only a few persons in the house when Fulberg tried to let the lion out. When arraigned in the Arsenal station he said that he was a baker, living at No. 334 East 84th street, but when the police inquired there later they could not find that such a person lived there. His one motive for releasing Bismarck, he said, was because he had been a visitor to the menagerie for seven years and decided at last to take the lion down to the Waldorf-Astoria for a square meal. "Bill" Snyder, head keeper of the menagerie, said he had noticed the man in the lion house every day for a week or more, but paid little attention to him.

Fulberg was taken to the psychopathic ward in Bellevue Hospital for observation. It was a wonder, Snyder said afterward, that Bismarck had not bolted out of the door and torn the man to pieces.

HOLDS MEN WYOMING WANTS

Court Sets Aside Writ Obtained for Prisoners Charged with Land Frauds.

The writ of habeas corpus obtained on behalf of T. Frank Wells, Wilberforce Sully, Rufus J. Ireland and George W. Dally, who were arrested here for removal to Wyoming in the Wyoming coal land frauds, was set aside yesterday by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, and the four men were again remanded into the custody of the marshal.

The indictment on which they were apprehended charged them with entering into a conspiracy on June 1, 1906, to defraud the United States by obtaining 1,760 acres of coal land in Wyoming belonging to the government. The land was acquired for a corporation to be formed later, and, the indictment charged, to obtain more land than the corporation could obtain by direct entry the defendants got fourteen entrymen, who made individual applications for coal lands.

Disposing of the contention of the accused men that there was nothing to prevent individuals from making entries for government lands with the intention of conveying the land to a corporation or any one else, Judge Ward said the whole act would be nullified if any one could acquire more land than he was entitled to through direct entry by employing dummies to make entries for his benefit.

Around the World on the Victoria Luise
Other Special Pleasure Cruises to the West Indies, South America, the Mediterranean, Egypt and the Holy Land

Our first cruise by the S. S. Cleveland, encircling the Globe, is nearing its successful completion. For the second World Cruise, leaving San Francisco February 6th, the S. S. Cleveland will again sail with a full passenger list. From the passengers now homeward bound come the most gratifying reports ever received by a transportation company.

We urge the traveling public to make their arrangements now for a third World Cruise. It will be made aboard the best appointed cruising ship ever sent around the world, the S. S. Victoria Luise of 16,500 tons; offering comforts and advantages hitherto unknown.

The S. S. Victoria Luise sails November 12, 1912, from New York and again on February 27, 1913, from San Francisco, on two World Cruises, each of 110 days duration. Will visit all places of interest in the Mediterranean, Egypt, China, Japan, the Sandwich Islands, etc., allowing ample time for sight-seeing at all ports of call. Several weeks are spent in Japan and India.

Immediate application should be made for reservation. Several hundred people have already booked for these unique cruises. Rates from $650 upward, including transportation, stateroom accommodations and meals, side trips, fees, etc. Unusual arrangements have been made for the passengers' welfare and entertainment aboard as well as ashore.

Your attention is invited to our special cruises throughout the coming winter and spring months to be made by superb cruising steamers to the West Indies, Venezuela and the Panama Canal. Another cruise carries the tourist along the east coast of South America, through the straits of Magellan, with its magnificent fjords and glaciers, and from Valparaiso across the Andes to Buenos Aires. Other cruises will be made to the Mediterranean, Italy, Egypt, the Holy Land, Turkey and Greece.

Our cruises will be made by such vessels as the "Victoria Luise," "Moltke," "Bluecher," "Cincinnati," and by the mammoth "Kaiserin Auguste Victoria." These ships are the largest and finest ever used for pleasure trips of this kind. You profit by our experience of 23 years in the pleasure cruising field.
