DR. HILLIS CONFESSES GREED FOR RICHES CAUSED DOWNFALL

New York, Sept. 21.—The Rev. Newell D. Hillis, noted Brooklyn preacher, successor to Henry Ward Beecher and Lyman Abbot, in Plymouth church, one of the most famous churches in America, an author whose books on religious subjects, have had extraordinary sales, and Chautauqua orator whose fame is second only to that of Wm. J. Bryan, Sunday in his pulpit told his congregation that his lifelong ambitions for wealth and power had utterly crushed his life, brought him to the brink of poverty and humbled him so that he said he was not worthy to unloose the shoe laces of a poor worker of the slums.

A solemn hush fell upon the old church. The soloist had just finished the song of "One Sweetly Solemn Thought." The audience for weeks had been reading in the paper of the financial troubles of their pastor. They knew that the day before he had been served with a summons in a suit for libel. Then their pastor for 16 years, his face white and drawn with the agony of an inner struggle, his deep, powerful voice shaken with emotions whose violence he could not conceal, humbled himself abjectly before them and threw himself upon their mercy.

Most striking of all were these curt words directed to the young man who has met disaster: "Young man," he said, "play your game. Ask no sympathy. Keep your face to the front; blame no one else; play the man's part. Keep your lips still and smile."

The depths of the preacher's spiritual feeling was shown by the words such as: "The day comes when we praise God for the thing which breaks our heart; we know that all is for the best. For the man who has stumbled, who has lived below his ideals, as I have lived and you have lived, there is always left the mercy of God."

"The wonderful thing about Christ was His revelation of the value of sorrow. The test of our faith in God is our realization of the meaning of sin. God has power to save and transform."

Only in the closing words of Dr. Hillis' sermon did he give any indication of the opinion of his enemies (and his closest friends admitted today that he has bitter ones) and his plans for the future. He said:

"Plato counseled ourselves to harden our hearts to sorrow. Seneca bade us make our souls like slate roofs against the attacks of evil speakers; But Jesus entered the scene with eyes, and through surrounded with adversity did good to men, though abused and hunted down, went willingly toward his cross. But they did not hunt Jesus down as wolves hunt sheep. The weapon of his enemies was foul aspersions and subtle innuendoes, while little by little, broke his heart."

His Honey.

A San Francisco man tells of a flower growing abundantly near Santa Barbara which is perfectly attractive to bees.

"Now," says he, "there was a young Californian, particularly fond of honey, who used to visit a Santa Barbara hostelry because such a superior sort of nectar was to be had there."

"This young man married in due course, and the wedding trip included Santa Barbara so that the bride might taste this superb honey. But to his dismay no honey appeared on the breakfast table the first morning of their stay. The bridegroom frowned. He called the old familiar waiter over to him.

"Where's my honey?" he demanded.

"The waiter hesitated, looked awkwardly at the bride, and then bent toward the young man's ear and in a hoarse whisper stammered, 'Why, Mario don't work here any more, sir.'—Harper's Magazine.

Half a lie is no better than a whole one.

Salts is Fine For Kidneys, Quit Meat

Flush the Kidneys at Once When Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders comes from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidney or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, regular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

IMPORTANT MEETING CHAMBER COMMERCE

WILL BE HELD THIS EVENING AT EIGHT O'CLOCK

VITAL SUBJECTS

Will Be Discussed That Will Interest All Progressive Business Men of City.

As announced early in the week, the executive committee has called a meeting of the chamber of commerce for this evening at 8 o'clock in the rooms on North Main street. Members of the committee stated last night that they hoped the members of the chamber of commerce and all interested business men of the city in general would be present. The session will not last very long and there will be matters discussed which will be of vital interest to all business men of the city.

A few months ago Anderson had as live chamber of commerce as could be found in any city in this section of the country. For some reason, probably because of depressed business conditions, the body became relaxed in their attitude toward the duties and purpose of the organization and for the past few months nothing practically has been done.

The meeting tonight will be in the shape of a chamber of commerce rally, and will be one that ought to be well attended. Business conditions are now a great deal better and a live commercial body is greatly needed in Anderson. The spirit of progressiveness that once spread over the city because of the work of the chamber of commerce is lacking and now seems to be the opportune time to start something if at any time in the near future.

BREWERIES MUST SELL ONLY TO DISPENSARIES

Gov. Manning Issues Orders to Charleston Board Effecting Sale of Beer.

Columbia, Sept. 22.—Letters announced today contain orders from Governor Manning to the Charleston dispensary board which will stop the sale of beer by the breweries except to the dispensaries. An amendment to the criminal statutes was also found which allows the breweries to sell any amount of beer.

A Merry Mermaid.

She's just four years old, but she loves the water like a fish, loves it so well that if she were on an excursion boat that was wrecked in a harbor she probably would not be drowned. For instance, had she been thrown into the Chicago river when the Eastland turned over she would have swam ashore.

"It's no use," pouted little Freddy, who had just completed his first week at school. "I shall never go to school again!" "But why?" asked his mother. "What's the use of going? I shall never learn to spell." "What do you mean?" "Well," how can I learn to spell when the teacher changes the words every day?"—Chicago Herald.

It's enough to make a wife frown if her husband "smiles" too often.

LINTERS BRINGING 4 CENTS PER POUND

ARE BEING USED IN MANUFACTURE OF WAR MUNITIONS

TAKEN FROM SEED

And is Very Short Fibred Cotton—Local Oil Mills Are Glad of Increase in Price.

It is interesting to note that the cotton seed oil companies of this section are this year getting four cents a pound for linters, the best price that has been paid since 1911 and one of the highest ever given. Ammunition manufacturing concerns are using these linters in the manufacture of war munitions and are glad to get them at the above stated price. "There linters," stated Mr. Fred Strickland of the Farmers Oil mill yesterday, "it is said, can be used for the manufacture of munitions just as well as good cotton and these concerns are glad to get them at four cents a pound. The stuff is treated with acid and serves their purpose all right."

Linters are the short fibres which comes off the cotton seed before they are ground up in the manufacture of cotton seed oil and hulls. This short lint cannot be cut off in the gin and put in the cotton since it will lower the grade and it will not sell for as much. Sometimes the prices paid for this product is very low but owing to the European war and the great demand for munitions the price has gone up.

Linters are used generally for the manufacture of cotton batting. It is said also that this short lint taken from the cotton seed is sometimes made into absorbent cotton. It is sent to Germany where it is treated with acids and comes back in the shape of absorbent cotton after it has gone through a regular cleansing and acid process.

"Dear Clara," wrote the young man "pardon me, but I'm getting so forgetful. I proposed to you last night, but really forget whether you said yes or no." "Dear Will, she replied by note; "so glad to hear from you. I know I said yes to some one last night, but I had forgotten just who it was."—Red Hen.

It sometimes happens that a man is married to his boss. But it doesn't take a blunt person long to come to the point.

SETTLEMENT OF OGDEN ESTATE IS POSTPONED

Trial Deferred Until September 29—Court to Pass on Wills Claimed to Be Genuine.

Houston, Texas, Sept. 2.—Further litigation over the estate of Francis A. Ogden, the Wisconsin and Texas millionaire, who died leaving property in nine states, valued at several millions is deferred until September 29, when the court will pass on the last of three purported wills presented by Mrs. M. L. Sellers, heir to Levi Harper, of Carlo, Ga.

Counsel for Mrs. Sellers today declared that after a visit to Georgia and Wisconsin he was convinced that identities had been mixed, and Ogden died interstate as claimed by his heirs. He said if the will presented by Mrs. Sellers were withdrawn, the estate would go to the heirs without controversy.
