OFFICE, No. 616 BROADWAY, NEW YORK, Dec. 15, 1866.

At the earnest solicitation of many prominent citizens, and to meet the generous demands made upon us, and to afford all an opportunity who desire to assist in furthering the benefit so object for which this enterprise is conducted, we have with the approbation of the officers and managers of the Home, concluded to continue the sale of tickets beyond the 2 h inst. The number and value of the presents will be increased in exact proportion to the whole number of tickets sold, thus guaranteeing to every ticket holder an equal chance, as in the original schedule.

THOMAS & CO., Managing Directors.

Dec. 15, 1866.

In order to promote public confidence in the highest degree, the officers and managers of the Home have consented to assume the responsibility of the custody of the funds received by us. All money as soon as received, is deposited in the Eighth National Bank, and all payments for articles purchased, or other expenses, are made out of the funds so deposited, by checks of N. H. Davis, one of the Institution indorsed by us. A committee, consisting of three gentlemen of the Ladies' Advisory Committee, purchase all articles to be presented, and a committee composed of Major Gen. Van Vliet, Quartermaster General of the Department of New York; Major Gen. Barlow, Secretary of State; Andrew Warner, Esq., Secretary of the Treasury of the Home; Charles Clerke; Wm. Orton, President of the American Telegraph Company, and John H. White, Esq., Comptroller of the Treasury, will have the direction of the manner of distribution.

THOMAS & CO., Managing Directors, No. 616 Broadway.

In view of presenting something worthy of the successful leader of our armies, I enclose the portrait of the same, of General Grant in his tent, for which the Gen. is indebted to Mr. Brady, and I will be one of the prizes. It is now on view in the office for the sale of tickets. No. 616 Broadway.

The above cards are published with our approval: Mrs. CHAS. F. DALY, Acting President. Mrs. DAVID HOYT, Secretary. Mrs. JOHN S. WOORHES, Treasurer.

OFFICE OF THE GRAND PRESENTATION FESTIVAL, 616 Broadway.

IMPORTANT CIRCULAR TO AGENTS.

The unparalleled success of this enterprise, renders it imperative that all tickets should be secured for at once. Unless you are positive that all tickets now in your hands will be sold, you will greatly oblige by immediately forwarding the surplus to this office.

In order to complete the sale of 200,000, many lower numbers being in Agents' hands, we have been compelled to base tickets bearing higher numbers. Should we sell more than the 200,000, we shall increase the value and number of the presents in exact proportion to the number of tickets sold.

You will please bear in mind the importance of a correct registration of the tickets, and the absolute necessity of a full return of sales, to be sent with your last remittance.

Very truly yours, THOMAS & CO., Managing Directors.
