SHE TALKS OF SEAL

Synopsis of Queen Victoria's Speech to Parliament.

HER VOICE ON THE FISHERIES

Points of Public Policy to Which Her Message Refers—What is Suggested With Reference to Irish Affairs.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Parliament reassembled at 2 p. m. The queen's speech opening the session was read by royal commission. After a reference to the death of Prince Albert and the friendly relations existing with other powers, the speech goes on to state that "an agreement has been concluded with the United States defining the mode in which the disputes as to the seal fisheries in Behring sea shall be referred to arbitration." The establishment of Zanzibar as a free port is regarded as a measure that will be conducive to the promotion of British commerce.

Irish Affairs.

Of the affairs in Ireland, it says:

"Proposals will be laid before you for applying to Ireland the general principles affecting local government, which have already been adopted in Great Britain. I trust it may be possible to consider provisions as to English local government, which, for want of time, it was necessary to omit from the bill.

"Measures for increasing the number of small holdings of land in agricultural districts in Great Britain will be submitted for approval. You will be asked to consider a bill for extending the advantages of assisted education to Ireland for other purposes connected with elementary education in that country.

"A scheme for modifying the existing system of procedure on private bills, so far as it affects Scotland and Ireland, will be brought before you."

Other matters that will be submitted relate to legislative councils in India, the elementary schools in England, improving the discipline of the established church.

WEEPING BEFORE THE BIER.

Thousands of People Viewed the Remains of Dr. Spurgeon.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—The mortal remains of Rev. Charles Spurgeon now lie within the tabernacle he created and among the thousands of his friends and congregation. The interior of the great building presents a solemn but simple sight. The coffin is placed on a platform in the open space in the center within view of every person on the floor and in the four converging galleries, which are packed. It is covered with wreaths and flowers and the platform upon which it rests is surrounded with palms.

Vast crowds had been waiting in front of the edifice for hours to see the remains. The doors were opened at 7 o'clock. A steady stream of people entered at the door on the right, passed the coffin and made their exit at the door on the left. It is estimated that 7,000 people passed hourly, under the direction of fifty policemen, who regulated and controlled their movements without interruption or confusion. Up to 4 p. m. it was estimated that 100,000 people had passed through the tabernacle before Spurgeon's coffin. The throng comprised people of every class in life. Many were workmen, carrying their tools, and evidently on their way to their places of employment. Others had driven up to the doors in private carriages and were evidently of the wealthy class. Many clergymen were also in line and numbers of well-known merchants. But the great mass of those who paid their respects to the great preacher's memory were of the middle class and working people. Most of them wore signs of mourning. Some threw flowers upon the casket and many wept as they passed before the bier.

TEN MEN WERE DROWNED.

The Mysterious Schooner Found Floating Bottom Upward Turns Out to Be "The Patriot."

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 9.—The mysterious schooner which was floating bottom upward last Saturday and followed to this city and righted Monday afternoon turned out to be "The Patriot," Capt. McDonald, of Parrsboro, N. S., which sailed a week ago with lumber for New York. She carried, all told, ten men. She presented a most wretched appearance. On deck the wheel, rail and davits were gone. The opinion is that the schooner was struck by a terrific squall while scudding before a gale, as the mast broke off close to the deck and fell forward, and that all hands went overboard while attempting to shorten sail.

Murderer Allee Again on Trial.

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 9.—The trial of A. Y. Allee for the murder of Editor W. C. Bowen, of Colullah, Tex., opened Monday. Bowen had carried on a war against the horsethieves and thugs of his section and named Allee as one. Allee and a pal boarded a train at Pearsal, Tex., knowing Bowen was aboard, and walking up to him in the presence of many passengers, insulting ladies and children, shot Bowen to death, though the latter made not a single effort to defend himself.

Death of a Noted Mathematician.

GREENWICH, Conn., Feb. 9.—William Guy Peck, professor of higher mathematics and astronomy at Columbia college, died at his home in this city, Sunday, aged 72 years. He was the author of twenty-three text books on mathematics and physics.

Kentucky and the World's Fair.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 9.—The legislative world's fair committee has decided that Kentucky's exhibit shall not be open on Sunday, and that no whisky, even in original packages, shall be sold.

Nominated by the President.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The president has sent to the senate the following nomination: William M. Grinnell, of New York, to be third assistant secretary of state.

Made Public After Many Years.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 9.—Henry J. Scanlter made a queer and sensational confession at the German court-martial Monday. He acknowledged that in 1883, while acting as auditor for the Chicago agency of the Remington Sewing Machine Company, he embezzled $37,000. The defalcation was "squared" and never gained publicity.

Will of Moses Hopkins to Effect.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—The will of the late Moses Hopkins was filed for probate Monday. He left an estate valued at $2,000,000, three-fourths of which goes to his widow and the rest is divided among relatives. He inherited his wealth from his brother, the late Mark Hopkins.

Fell Into a Vault.
