BEFORE THE SUPREME TRIBUNAL.

A Catholic Bishop Sentenced to Four Years Imprisonment with Hard Labor.

From the Rio de Janeiro American Mail, Feb. 24.

At 10 o'clock on the morning of the 21st the trial of the Right Rev. Bishop of Pernambuco [charged with acting in antagonism with the laws of the civil government] was resumed by the Supreme Tribunal. His Grace was accompanied by the Right Rev. Bishop of this city and by his Lordship the Bishop of Kansas, United States, who came to Brazil to collect donations for the poor Catholic churches of that State. The court was densely crowded with people of all classes of society. The countenance of the accused, though dignified in the extreme, bore evident signs of deep sadness.

The report of the Judge Relator having been read, the President addressed to his Grace the question whether anything within the document just read was incorrect. But his Grace, faithful to his original answer—Jesus autem tacebat—did not reply to the question. A long debate then ensued about the right of the spontaneous defenders to address the court in behalf of the accused; the President, however, firmly declared that the tribunal having already granted this right, he would sustain it, requesting, however, the spontaneous orators to be brief, on account of the lateness of the hour.

Senators Zacarias and Candido Mendes, who were allowed to defend the Bishop in the quality of spontaneous advocates, then delivered successively their defence in two most eloquent and pathetic speeches. But the doom of the poor Bishop was sealed. After the defence the Court closed its doors for a secret session. At 5:40 P. M. the doors being again opened, the President proceeded to collect the votes of the Supreme Judges, which stood thus: Six condemned the Bishop to four years' imprisonment with hard labor; one to short imprisonment, for the simple crime of disobedience, and one for the nullity of the whole process, or for the acquittal of the Bishop.

The Bishop of Pernambuco, therefore, by a large majority vote of the Supreme Court of Brazil, has been decla ed guilty of a high crime against the laws of the Empire, and condemned to the Penitentiary with hard l.bor.
