Opening Dance.
The opening dance of the fall season for the Elk Home will be given on Wednesday evening at the home on North McDuffie street. The music will be in charge of Mr. Sloan Driscoll and will be unusually fine. Every effort will be made by those in charge to make it one of the pleasantest and most delightful dances ever given here.

Several visiting girls will be in town for the occasion.

Miss Eunice Russell left yesterday for New York after a two weeks visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Russell. She was accompanied on her visit home by Master William Fassel, Jr., the bright young son of Mr. William Russell formerly of this city but now of New York.

Miss Sadie Sullivan of Laurens is the guest of Mrs. G. B. Greene.

Miss Mary Rowle of Anderson college has gone to her home at Starr for the week-end.

Mrs. Harry Harris of Elberton is visiting Mrs. Harleston Bartica on Rice street.

Palmetto Chapter.
The Palmetto chapter will meet on Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock, with Miss Annie Cooley, on West Whitner street.

Mrs. J. W. Morrall of Mt. Carmel, who has been in the hospital here for seven weeks is much better, and has been removed to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Calhoun Harris of Franklin street.

Mrs. Frank McGee of Iva is the guest of Mrs. J. E. Watson.

Miss Ruth Brownlee and Miss Alberta Farmer are at home from Converse college for the week-end.

Mrs. George F. Bell of Park Court, Elizabeth Heights, Charlotte, N. C., is visiting her friend, Mrs. Myrtle Skelton.

Messrs. T. C. Jackson, and Milton Sherard were visitors yesterday from Iva.

Mr. Robert McCully of the Citadel is spending a few days at home.

Mr. Orville Bissell of Charleston was here for the football game yesterday.

Mr. Leo Seligman of the Citadel is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Seligman.

Miss Vera Shirley of Honea Path came to Anderson Friday for the Clemson-Auburn game and was the guest of Mrs. D. C. Brown.

Miss Nelle Mattison of Honea Path was in Anderson yesterday the guest of Miss Alberta Brock.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Smith of Greenville spent yesterday with Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Cely.

Mr. W. L. Bentz of Greenville was a visitor yesterday.

Misses Hattie Miller Harrison and Kate Harrison of Wallhalla are the guests of Miss Vermelle Dargan.

Mr. Charles Daniel of the Citadel is spending a few days in the city.

Mrs. P. E. Spoon and daughters, Misses Ruby and Bettie Spoon of Iva were visitors in Anderson yesterday.

Messrs. Harry Seybt and Bob Watkins of Auburn are at home for a few days.

Mr. Harvey Jackson of Storeville spent a few hours in the city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Thomas left yesterday for Baltimore to take their baby to a specialist. The little fellow has been sick for several weeks and they decided to have him examined by a specialist.

Mr. Foster McKissick of Greenwood was here for the game yesterday.

Mr. Joe Sline of Greenville was in Anderson yesterday for the football game.

sent the different organizations of the State Baptist convention that are engaged in propagating the gospel in South Carolina. This was done well, and those who heard it feel that they understand in a clearer way the importance of each department of the state work.

The Sunbeams gave several bright songs, and Mary Paget recited, "Missions and Mending." They then represented the Sunbeams on a picnic, when the question arose, how could the Sunbeams make money and raise their apportionment? In the midst of their perplexity a fairy appeared and offered to show them how. At the wave of her wand, King Cotton, Tomatoes and Mrs. Settling Hen (came forth) and told the children how they were ready to help them make money for missions.

All were glad to have Mrs. John E. White on the program. She gave a splendid practical talk in which she urged the women to always be willing to do what they could, and above all, to be one who could be depended on. That is something we all can do if we will.

The offering for State Missions concluded the splendid program for the day.

The Christian Growth Club.
The Christian Growth club has had two very interesting meetings recently. At the first one, Dr. White was present and talked on "Christian Growth." The girls were greatly impressed by his message, and it will help them to grow in Christian character.

At the second meeting twenty-one were present. A splendid personal services report was given, and the treasurer announced that twenty dollars had been raised for state missions, which was eleven more than they were asked for. The scripture lesson for the afternoon was led by Missena Shearer.

Y. W. A.
On the fourth Sunday in September Mrs. Rufus Fant addressed the Y. W. A. "A Place in Service." It is always profitable and pleasant for the Y. W. A. to have those of other organizations to attend their meetings, and this talk of Mrs. Fant's was thoroughly enjoyed by those present.

OPEN NOSTRILS! END A COLD OR CATARRH

How To Get Relief When Head and Nose are Stuffed Up.

Count fifty! Your cold in head or catarrh disappears. Your clogged nostrils will open, the air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No sneezing, yawning, hacking, mucous discharges, dizziness or headache; no struggling for breath at night.

Get a small bottle of Eye Cream Balm from your druggist and apply a little of this fragrant antiseptic cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothing and healing the swollen or inflamed membrane, giving you instant relief. Head colds and catarrh yield like magic. Don't stay stuffed up and miserable. Relief is sure.

Sandwiches AND Hospitality

Many people have a very mistaken idea of hospitality. Unless they can invite you to an elaborate spread that they call supper, or to a dinner of course after course, they do not entertain at all. I heard a lady once say that she would so like to have certain friends to supper, but she could not possibly ask them as she lived so simply. I tried to explain that her friends would gladly come, and would much rather have a simple home supper and enjoy a quiet hour with her, than be invited to a more formal meal, knowing that this hostess had either been hanging over the stove for hours, or superintending an unskilled and stupid cook, until her nerves were on a wire edge.

True hospitality radiates with good cheer. What you have, you offer with a hearty welcome. Have your friends drop in for a cup of tea and a sandwich. What one needs is a feast of reason and a flow of soul, not to be endlessly studied.

Let it be known that you are always glad to see your friends on certain afternoons. Instead of hours of wearing work over dinner, or supper, you will find this a pleasant relief. The sandwiches can be made in the morning, wrapped in a damp cloth, and left aside until you want them. Prepare your tea, if summer, have your tea bag, pick, and hammer close at hand. If cool weather grind the coffee, put it in the pot, have water, kettle and matches ready. It will take but a few minutes to arrange your tea table. Don't overcrowd it, a beautiful centerpiece, with mats to match, flowers of course, the requisite silver and china is all that is needed. You will have time to thoroughly rest, and relax yourself before your guests arrive, then follows a delightful hour or two, over the tinkling glasses of iced tea, or cups of alert, strong, hot coffee, for coffee to be good, must have those qualities.

One gets decidedly tired of the ever-present pimento, and peanut butter sandwiches, they are so easy to make, that many housekeepers feed them to their unfortunate families at all times. Properly made, the sandwich is a dainty and appetizing morsel, and you can serve nothing better for Sunday night suppers, and small informal affairs.

I have selected some new and particularly delicious ones to offer on such occasions. They are more trouble to make than the ordinary kind, but they will be all the better for that trouble. Always use bread, never crackers unless very thin and delicate.

Bread and Butter Bites.
Put very thin slices of fresh white bread butter, and put two slices together, then cut into small disks, with a tiny cake cutter, no crust must be used. They are pretty and good.

Norwegian Sandwiches.
Cut rye bread in thin slices, shape in finger wide strips, with bias ends, spread oil slices with filets of anchovies putting between the fish a light sprinkle of hard boiled egg, with white and yolk chopped separately. Add fraprika and a squeeze of lemon juice and put on the tops.

Sardine Sandwich.
Remove skin and bones from a box of sardines, pound the fish to a paste, add salt cayenne and a dash of lemon juice. Work into a very smooth paste, and spread on thin slices of buttered bread, cut into bites.

Egg and Olive Sandwich.
Chop fine the whites of two hard boiled eggs, force the yolks through a strainer, or fine sieve, mix together and season with salt cayenne and moisten with a few drops of olive oil. Add six stuffed olives, finely chopped, spread the mixture on thin slices of bread, with a crisp lettuce leaf between each sandwich.

Chicken Sandwich.
Boil two chickens in just enough water to cover them, adding an onion, and a tablespoonful of Worcester-shire sauce for each one. Let them sizzle, or until very tender, then shred the meat and chop finely, add mayonnaise dressing, mix thoroughly and spread on thin slices of buttered bread. Ground nuts can be added if desired. These are delicious.
