STEINWAY

GRAND, SQUARE, AND UPRIGHT PIANOS.

In order to protect the public against imposition, and as a rebuke to unscrupulous advertisers, the Judges on pianos at the Centennial Exhibition, Philadelphia, 1876, in addition to the two awards, one for the best pianos and the other for the best pianoforte material, decreed to Steinway & Sons by the United States Centennial Commission, have given the following

CERTIFICATE:

"This is to certify that the pianofortes of Messrs. Steinway & Sons, comprising Concert and Parlor Grand, Square, and Upright, exhibited by them at the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia in 1876, presented the greatest totality of excellent qualities and novelty of construction, and in all points of excellence they received our highest average of points, and accordingly our unanimous opinion concedes to Messrs. Steinway & Sons' 'Highest degree of excellence in all their styles.'"

Extracts made and copied from the note books of the examining Judges, duly certified by them, reveal the significant fact that their ratings on each and every style of pianofortes exhibited by Steinway & Sons were far above all other competing exhibitors, and reached a

95 1-2 OUT OF A POSSIBLE 96!!

☞ The next highest exhibitor's average only
90 3-4 OUT OF A POSSIBLE 96.

The above certificates can be seen at our warerooms.
