HEAT GOES DOWN

...ago, June 30.—Wheat closed ½@1¼c lower. The market was flooded with crop reports from the winter wheat belt, and where harvesting and threshing had taken place the yields are almost uniformly reported even better than last year. Less than a dozen from Missouri saying that wheat was yielding from 25 to 30 bushels per acre, none less than 20 bushels, and the average would be in excess of last year's crop yield. Letters and dispatches of the same tenor were also received from other localities. The Chicago crop correspondence summary which was regarded as bearish, as it indicated a steady improvement in conditions during the week, though it did bring the appearance of good and very generous.

...Cudahy reported that she was getting 35 cents per new wheat per day and the receipts were rapidly increasing. Cables were easier and weak, with Liverpool markets generally lower and business expensively dull. The certainly attending the final outcome of the corn bill also had a depressing effect. The best information was to the effect that the senate judiciary committee had further postponed the consideration of the bill for a week. The corn market opened weak and in sympathy with wheat during the greater part of the session, some of those who had talked on to the action to more active workers in the recent bull market had failed to "catch out" to the selling of the leaders and only appeared to be in a position to realize today that they had been left holding the bag. When they became aware of their position they found it impossible to extricate themselves without losing money, and this was attended with no little trouble and did not be done without waking up all the bear holders in the pit. Stop-loss orders in abundance were reached during the course of the decline, and these were instrumental in accelerating it. Closing prices were quite weak. Favorable weather settling for longer days in the northwest in corn were the principal factors in the cash market, and resulted in a decline of 3c. The market weakened from the same cause as helped the decline in wheat. Bulls were unloading and kept feeding out all day as much stuff as buyers could be found for without actually demoralizing the trade. Lard, however, was unaffected by the decline in corn and closed at a small advance. Pork declined 7½@10c and ribs 5@7½c. Closing prices:

Wheat—June, 78½c; July 78½c; Dec. 81c.

Corn—June 50½; July 49¾; Aug. 49¾; Sept.

...—June 32½; July 33¼; Aug. 32¾; Sept.

Pacific railroad bonds closed as follows: Union Pacific, 109½ bid; do sinking funds, 107¼ bid; Centrals, 108 bid.

Trading on the stock exchange still continues limited. During the morning hours today only 36,500 shares changed hands. Chicago gas was weak and fell 1¾ to 70¾. The national gelage lost 2 per cent, delining 1 1-8 and rallying toward 11 o'clock to 70¾. Jerseys were about the only speculatives that showed any life. The rest were almost stagnant and at noon were only a trifle changed from yesterdays prices. Values as a rule were fractionally lower, however, the stock market presented in the last half hour. Trading dragged along in a listless way, transactions being confined to 5 and 10 share lots, or the most part prices dropped slightly on sheer inactivity and closed as a rule fractionally lower. The total sales of stocks yesterday were 117,245 shares.
