KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and ends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50¢ and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Chicago Grain.

CHICAGO, April 13.—The wheat market today was something of a surprise to the general trade. It was generally thought that the bulls for Pardridge would be continued and that the big plunger would be forced to surrender, but there seemed to be no further effort to run down the great bear, who seemed to have plenty of money today to respond to the numerous calls for margins. The first sale of May wheat today was at 80c, but it was not long before it sold at 80c. There was a limited business done at a price midway between these two extremes, but the resting price was 80⅛c, 6c below the closing quotation of last night. In addition to the many rumors concerning Pardridge, which were similar to those current for several days, there was a fresh one in circulation to the effect that C. A. Pillsbury, the Minneapolis miller, had made a private settlement on a line of short May wheat. The story was that he had made several trips between the office of his brokers and John Cudahy's office today, and that he was settling up; that he had not brought enough money with him and that he had to make a big sterling draft on his English partners. July would have been strong but for the depressing influence of the manipulated option. The public cable early gave Liverpool futures ½d higher. The Price Current said that the damage claimed to the crop in Illinois, Kansas and other states had been confirmed. Kansas was without rain, while the entire northwest, including Iowa and Nebraska, had unseasonably cold weather. The signal service indicated freezing temperature over part of Indiana and elsewhere tonight. The large export sales reached at the seaboard yesterday were followed by exports of 293,000 bushels from New York this morning, and Atlantic ports put out 435,000 bushels in wheat and flour.

Under ordinary conditions these influences would have put the market higher, but they were all overcome by the single bear argument that the July would be the final dumping ground for the clique with the big May holdings. July closed ⅜c lower.

Corn was stronger for a time on covering of shorts, but toward the close it weakened on the weather, which was considered favorable for the preparations for planting. The market was also inclined to follow the down turn in wheat. Closing prices were ⅜c lower.

The oats market closed ⅝@⅞c lower.

The provision market opened fairly active and firm. It dropped back some after the opening, but there was an undertone of strength to the market, and it wound up with a fair advance on yesterday's closing prices.

Hog receipts were 19,000, and the prices for them the same as on the previous day.

Closing prices:

LOCAL MARKETS.

Market conditions in leather trades are still strained and unnatural. Influenced by sentiment regarding possible combinations among packers or tanners, a waiting policy obtains on all sides. The demand is not sufficiently pressing in any class of raw or manufactured stock to compel purchases to an extent that would influence prices. Sugar refiners report no change in the condition of the sugar market and prices have remained steady so far this week. Poultry is firm, with a scarcity of ducks and turkeys. The potato market is dull and offerings are taken with considerable hesitation on the part of commission houses. Cranberries are now out of the local market and have been dropped from the list of quotations.
