STRAW WORKS BUILDING.

It Is Now Nearly Ready for Occupancy.

The straw goods factory in course of erection near the G. R. & I. railway junction is fast approaching completion. It is 300 feet in length by 100 feet in breadth, two stories in heighth, resting on a solid stone foundation, the walls being built of pressed cream colored brick. The roof is flat and covered with cement and gravel and is nearly finished. All the machinery has arrived and is being placed in position as fast as possible. It is not definitely known when the factory will be in running order, but the management say no time will be lost in pushing it to an early completion. It will employ about 300 hands, partly girls, many of whom have had experience in the business with the company prior to their removal here. The Indian Mill creek, a never-failing stream of pure water, flows within a few yards of the factory, which will prove of great value in the manufacture of fine goods. The company was greatly influenced in locating where it did from the outstanding fact of this stream. When in operation this factory will add one more industry to the world-wide reputation of Grand Rapids as the greatest city of manufactures on the continent.

BEWARE OF POOR MILK.

Analysis Made by Dr. Morse--Lactated Food Best Diet for Babies.

The result of the analysis of 100 specimens of milk sold in Baltimore, made by Dr. H. N. Morse, professor in John Hopkins University, has had the effect of arousing milk consumers in that city to a sense of their danger.

Probably every other city in the country is as badly off as Baltimore.

It is necessary, therefore, that mothers should not place too much reliance upon an exclusive milk diet for their children.

Early in the summer it is better, even if a baby has been doing well through the winter on cow's milk, to use lactated food in connection with it. Lactated food is much to be preferred to any other diet for infants. It is the best substitute for pure mother's milk that has ever been discovered.

Lactated food saves babies' lives.

It has freed many mothers from the continually haunting fear of cholera infantum, which is so much to be dreaded in June, July and August.

If cow's milk could be obtained, unwatered, absolutely free from contamination, there would be fewer deaths to record every year, fewer cases of infant fevers and diarrhoeal diseases.

But it is essential that lactated food be used in the summer months when the milk is most often lacking in proper nutrition.

Children fed on lactated food grow healthy and strong.
