MONEY FOR THE NILE MARCH.

France and Russia Vainly Appeal to the Tribunal.

LONDON, April 4.—The appeal of France and Russia to the Egyptian Mixed Tribunal against the decision of a majority of the Egyptian Debt Commission to grant £500,000 for the expenses of the Soudan expedition has been summarily disposed of by a majority of the members of the Tribunal declining to admit that the Tribunal has any jurisdiction in the matter. The Egyptian Treasury has paid the whole of the first draft of £300,000, most of which has already been expended. Another £300,000 will soon be required.

M. Bourgeois, the French Prime Minister, is continuing his negotiations with Lord Salisbury, trying to get pledges limiting the demands that will be made on the Egyptian Treasury and is also trying to get information as to the plans of the campaign in the Soudan.

The Pall Mall Gazette to-day asserts that an agreement between France and Great Britain on this question has been already obtained. If so, M. Bourgeois was easily satisfied. Doubtless Lord Salisbury will readily give assurances of the intention of the British Government to limit the sphere of operations, as was announced in Parliament, that is to say, that the advance of the expedition would depend upon the resistance offered by the Dervishes. The reason for his not hesitating to give these assurances is that he foresees that the time will come when an; advance of the Mahdists will give an opportune excuse for the enlargement of the scope of the war.

Even now, according to the Spectator, the Government contemplates sending to Suakin, on the Red Sea, 10,000 troops from India to break up the forces of Osman Digna and to threaten the rear of the Dervishes who are fronting the expedition that will proceed up the Nile. That the design to advance from Suakin on Berber is entertained is obvious from the orders that have been issued for a resurvey to be made of that part of the Suakin-Berber Railway that was constructed during the last campaign and the despatch of plant to replace material in that line that is found to be useless.

The progress of the Nile expedition is not rapid. The main part of the expedition is still at Assouan, from which place the newspaper correspondents accompanying the advance started only on Thursday with the camelers on the long march along the east bank of the Nile. The Maxim batteries and the cavalry are being slowly transported by steamers to Wady Halfa, from which place it will be impossible to make a general advance before May.

The rumors that Dervishes are assembling before Suraida are unreliable. Col. Hunter, who is now in command of the forces at Akasheh, in telegraphing yesterday to Gen. Sir Herbert Kitchener, the Sirdar of the Egyptian army, regarding the scarcity of fodder and supplies at Akasheh, made no mention of the enemy.

DUELLING IN GERMANY.

Socialists Encourage Society Men to Go On Shooting One Another.

BERLIN, April 4.—Lieut. Von Kettelshodt, who killed Lawyer Zenker in a duel near Potsdam on March 26, and was thereafter arrested by order of the Emperor, has been released as the result of an official inquiry into the circumstances. The Lieutenant has not been permitted to return to his post as second officer of the imperial yacht Hohenzollern, but the Emperor will permit him to join the corps of marine inspectors. Public discussion of the death of Herr Zenker at the hands of Lieut. Von Kettelshodt has not yet abated.

At Bantzen a few days ago Col. Von Schwanewede challenged a doctor named Rohr for writing articles against the new Saxon Electoral law. Gen. Schulz and Col. Steindorff waited upon Dr. Rohr and presented the challenge, but Rohr declined to receive it, saying that he could not recognize Col. Von Schwanewede's right to shoot him because he (Rohr) happened to differ with him in opinion of a public measure.

In the same town this week Lieut. Lindemann had his leg amputated as the result of receiving a bullet from Dr. Schredel's pistol in a duel growing out of the Von Kotze court scandal. The affair is made the more notable by the fact that while Lieut. Lindemann was lying in the hospital with his leg cut off as the result of a duel fought in 1895, he wanted to fight Master of Ceremonies Von Schrader, but his friends prevailed upon him to postpone his shooting of Von Schrader until after Easter.

The Vorwarts, the Socialist organ, in commenting on the society duels, says: "These affairs are grist for our mill, and each one is a nail in the coffin of the existing social system. Let these gentlemen continue to shoot each other, although none of them is worth wasting powder."
