TO KEEP THE PEACE

Maggie Landis Asks the Court to Protect Her

FROM HER BROTHER-IN-LAW

Byron Again Furnishes a Lively Row That Came Very Near Being a Tragedy.

Byron township will furnish another case in the courts to add to its long list of achievements in the same direction. The Landis family will figure most conspicuously in the case, but if Dr. Strong don't work in as a witness somewhere it will be the first case from Byron he has not been in for many years. Maggie Landis, who has the proud distinction of having her name printed in the circuit court calendar oftener than any other woman in Byron, has a yellow cow. Eli Landis, her brother-in-law, has a musket that saw service in the rebellion. Between the cow and the musket the two got into lots of trouble.

Last Saturday Eli came into the prosecuting attorney's office and asked for a warrant for Maggie. He said she had pulled his whiskers and banged his eyes. He said Maggie's yellow cow got in his yard, and when Maggie came after it she took occasion to help herself to his luxurious but unkempt whiskers.

Mr. Wolcott told him that he did not think it worth while to issue a warrant on so slight a provocation. Mr. Wolcott never raised a cop of whiskers, so he is not able to judge how precious a crop that has not been pruned for a half a century, becomes to man.

Eli was wroth, and with a shake of his whiskers declared that he could plainly see that Mr. Wolcott was a "ladies man," and if he could not get justice in the courts he would go home and defend himself. He had a trusty musket that had made many a rebel bite the dust, and he would fill Maggie fuller of buckshot than a skimmer is full of holes.

Yesterday Maggie pranced into Mr. Wolcott's office and asked to have Eli placed under bonds to keep the peace. She said he took her yellow cow out of the street and when she went after the cow he charged her $1. She paid it, but he began to abuse her, and a young man named Heaton interfered, when Eli got there with his gun and chased Heaton out of the yard. Then he told Maggie to "git." Maggie stood her ground. Eli cocked the gun. Maggie advanced to the attack. Eli fingered the trigger. Maggie charged. She wrested the musket from his hand, twisted a handful of whiskers from his chin and banged him in the eye. Eli then borrowed a gun, and Maggie, who is more expert on a charge than she is on a year's campaign, decided to carry hostilities into the courts. A warrant was issued.

Van Seders Partly Examined.

A partial examination of Frand Van Seders, charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder, was held in justice court yesterday. Van Seders is the young man that shot Fred Allen in Walker township because Allen attempted to stop him from carrying away one of Mr. Allen's chickens, which Van Seders had shot and killed.

Boy Burglars Plead Guilty.

William Sliter, Fred Kuhn and George Aman, the three boys arrested for burglarizing Van Every's store on West Fulton street, were arraigned in police court and waived examination. As they desired to see Judge Burlingame they were at once taken and arraigned in the superior court. They all pleaded guilty and will be sentenced Wednesday morning.

Arrested for Contempt.

In the case of Mary Betzler vs. Joseph Betzler Judge Burlingame has issued an injunction restraining Mr. Betzler from interfering with Mrs. Betzler. He failed to obey the order of the court and yesterday a warrant was issued for his arrest for contempt of court. Mr. Betzler was orginally a resident of Caledonia.

Minor Court Notes.

Clark M. Kendig, as the beginning of suit in the circuit court against Irwin R. Brandenberry, has filed a bond indemnifying Brandenberry against loss in case the notes should turn up in the hands of a third person. The notes on which he sues are for $100 each, and were lost by Kendig.

Charles McConnell of Grattan, who was arrested recently on complaint of Phebe Covell for bastardy, settled up his troubles yesterday by paying Phebe $300. The father and an uncle of young McConnell raised the cash for him.

Christ Burgess, one of the boys in the crowd which stole Fred Allen's chickens last week in Walker and then shot Mr. Allen, was discharged in justice court yesterday on the charge of simple larceny.

Carrie Forbes, a wayward young miss who would not attend school and seemed bent on going to the bad, was sentenced to the reform school at Adrian by Judge Haggerty yesterday.

The inventory of the estate of Anna Miller was filed yesterday. It shows an estate appraised at $28,375.35, of which $28,000 is in real estate.

A Lady's Watch is About the Size of a bottle of Smith's Bile Beans. They are dainty in form, sugar-coated for the taste and their action makes them peerless as a means of moving the bowels. "There is not a gripe in a barrel of them." They regulate the flow of bile, hence are efficacious alike in constipation and diarrhœa—in fact, in all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. A 25 cent bottle will often save a $25 doctor bill if taken in time. Ask for the SMALL size. Take no substitute for SMITH'S Bile Beans!
